

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. JAMES ABBOTT McNEILL WHISTLER

SALIENT POINTS IN HIS LIFE

Whistler was born, according to his own statement, in St Petersburg, Russia, of American parents; according to Champlin's Cyclopedia of painters and paintings, Lippincott's Biographical dictionary and Appleton's Cyclopedia of American biography in Lowell, Massachusetts, in 1834. Mr Theodore Child in his article in Harper's magazine of September, 1889, gives the artist's birth-place as Baltimore, and a personal friend declares that he was born in Stonington, Connecticut. It is said that Whistler delights in keeping up the mystery of his nativity. His father was Major George Washington Whistler, an engineer of wide reputation. His mother was Anna Matilda McNeill, a daughter of Dr C. D. McNeill, of Wilmington, N. C.

Several years of Whistler's early youth were spent in Russia; his father, in 1842, having accepted the invitation of Emperor Nicholas to superintend the construction of the St Petersburg and Moscow railroad. Young Whistler came to America shortly after his father's death in St Petersburg, in April, 1849.

In 1851, at the age of 16 years and 11 months, he entered the United States military academy, at West Point, receiving his appointment as a delegate at large from President Fillmore.

His career at the academy was unsuccessful. At the end of his first year his rank was 42 in a class of 60. In his second year he was absent on account of ill health, and was examined in only one subject, drawing, in which he obtained the highest possible mark. At the June examinations, 1854, his third year, he was found deficient, and recommended for discharge. Throughout the three years of his course Whistler's name appears in the West Point

Register very near the foot of the general demerit and conduct rolls of his class.

It is not without interest to note that Major Marcus A. Reno, who was dismissed from the United States army in 1880, owing to the official censure of his conduct during the Custer expedition of 1876 against the Sioux Indians, was one of Whistler's classmates.

In less than two years after leaving West Point, Whistler went to England, to remain, however, only for a short time.

In 1856, he was settled in Paris and hard at work in the studio of the famous genre painter, Charles Gabriel Gleyre, where he remained for two years and where he began in earnest his life's work. Among his fellow students were George Du Maurier, Mr Armstrong and Edward John Poynter, R. A., author of the much discussed painting, Diadumene.

In 1859 and 1860, Whistler's paintings were refused at the Paris salon.

Whistler settled in London in 1863, taking up his residence on the Embankment, and beginning at once to draw his subjects from scenes most nearly at hand, the life of the Thames.

It was in this same year, 1863, that he made a second attempt to have his pictures hung in the Paris salon. They were rejected, but the Salon des Refusés accepted them, thereby enabling him to appeal against the judgment of the critics who had refused him recognition. Among the accepted pictures was the White girl. It did more for Whistler than make a sensation. It caused Paris to speak of him as one of the "original" artists of the day.

In 1877, Whistler exhibited a collection of his works at the Grosvenor gallery, London, on invitation of its owner, Sir Coutts Lindsay.

In November, 1878, Whistler brought suit against Ruskin on the ground that Ruskin had libeled him in a criticism on one of his pictures exhibited at the Grosvenor gallery, called A nocturne in black and gold; a night view of Cremorne, with fireworks. The criticism complained of appeared in For's Clavigera, and is as follows:

"For Mr Whistler's own sake, no less than for the protection of the purchaser, Sir Coutts Lindsay ought not to have admitted works into the gallery in which the ill educated conceit of the artist so nearly approached the aspect of wilful imposture. I have seen and heard much of cockney impudence before now, but never expected to hear a coxcomb ask 200 guineas for flinging a pot of paint in the public's face."

Whistler claimed that this criticism had injured the sale of his paintings; Ruskin that it was simply a fair and bona fide criticism on a painting which the plaintiff had exposed for public view.

The jury rendered a verdict against Ruskin, and placed the damages at one farthing.

In 1886 Whistler was made president of the Society of British artists.

On January 30, 1892, he was created an officer of the Legion of Honor by the French government.

Whistler has now, 1892, deserted England as he did America, and spends most of his time in Paris, where he receives more attention and where his works are more favorably criticized than in any other of the great art centers.

PERSONALITY

Mr Whistler has always an electric manner, one feels it at once. It is specially notable when he is standing at his easel with brain, hand and eye all working in perfect sympathy, inspired by the joy and difficulty of his art.—Illustrated news, Apr. 9, 1892, p. 348

He is a harum scarum genius; keeps none of his work, makes no records, gives no help to any one who wants to help him; generally makes no answers to letters.

. . . for I had hoped . . . to have listened to his delightful talk, which, though gay, witty and alert, is always simple, serious and dignified when referring to the art he loves so well and practises with so sure a mastery.—Illustrated news, Apr. 9, 1892, p. 348

This list of etchings is taken from Mr Wedmore's catalog, which was kindly loaned for the purpose by Mr S. P. Avery, of New York city. The catalog supplies almost a complete list of Whistler's etchings from 1857, when, as a young man in Paris, he issued his first plate, to 1886, and is an invaluable aid to the collector or student of Whistler. It gives under each subject a full description of the etching, as far as possible the date of its execution, size, exact signature, and other means of identification, proofs and impressions, rarity, etc.

Mr Wedmore's catalog is also an excellent guide to Mr Avery's Whistler collection, which contains all the etchings mentioned in it, except nos. 56, 88, 93, 97, 99, 104-11, 113, 119, 127, 129, 133, 138, 139, 189, 191, 194, 198, 202, 204, 205, 207, 210-12, and 214.

Collections of Whistler's etchings hang in the Queen's library at Windsor and in the British museum.

Sets

Whistler is the author of four series of plates, known as the French set, Thames set, Venice set, first series and Venice set, second series. The works which make up these sets are as follows:

SCHOOL

It is almost impossible to class Mr Whistler with any particular school. "His work" . . . says Mr Brownell, "is . . . now accepted as typical, and made to stand for a class of art, or at least a manner of painting, of which the friends and foes are ardent and fluent." What this class is it is hard to say. He is most nearly associated, perhaps, with the impressionist school, yet he is not an impressionist in the strict sense of the word.

“The impressionists,” says Mr Hamerton, “are a new sect, composed, as all new sects in painting invariably are, of young men who have not yet definitely formed their styles. . . . They go to nature and receive an impression . . . and the purpose of their art is to render the impression as a whole, without either the painful study of parts or any scientific arrangement of material.” “In other words,” quoting Mr Brownell again, “impressionism implies, first of all, impatience of detail. And, so far, Mr Whistler may justly be called an impressionist. . . . But to associate him with a new sect, composed of young men who have not yet definitely formed their style, would be absurd ; and an intimation that his works are lacking in the study of parts or arrangement of material, would be false.”

CRITICISM

Perhaps the most typical painter and the most absolute artist of the time.—Scribner's monthly, 18 : 495

His etchings are universally praised ; but his paintings are both abused and admired.—International cyclopaedia

Nothing can be more foreign to his art than set purposes ; the song of a bird is not more absolutely unconscious.—Scribner's monthly, 18 : 488

It would be difficult to find a better example of a pure painter, a painter to whom art is so distinct a thing in itself, and so unrelated to anything else.—Scribner's monthly, 18 : 487

Mr Whistler's etchings attract a good deal of attention, and differ from his paintings in meriting it. They display a free hand and a keen eye for effect. Three of the oil pictures are blurred, foggy, and imperfect marine pieces. The fourth is called the “White girl,” and represents a powerful female with red hair, and a vacant stare in her soulless eyes. She is standing on a wolfskin hearthrug, for what reason is unrecorded. The picture evidently means vastly more than it expresses, albeit expressing too much. Notwithstanding an obvious want of purpose, there is some boldness in the handling and a singularity in the glare of the colors which can not fail to divert the eye, and to weary it.—H. T. TUCKERMAN, Book of the Artists, p. 485

The qualities of few painters are so distinct, and indeed one is tempted to say aggressive. Every one will perceive in his slightest etching an effectiveness, an impressiveness, a form which may or may not justly be called eccentric, but which it is impossible not to recognize as original.—Scribner's monthly, 18:486

One can scarcely be as admirable in all ways as Mr Whistler is, and still touch the highest point in any one way.—Scribner's monthly, 18:495

Mr Whistler, in prose, is always pungent. Mr Whistler, in art, is always suggestive in more ways than one.—New York tribune, Mar. 20, 1892, p. 14, col. 6

Mr Whistler's suggestiveness is felt in the moods which his etchings call up. It is this expressiveness, this going directly to the core of the subject, this giving its fullest meaning to every line laid on the copper, which discloses in Mr Whistler's best work his affinity with Rembrandt and shows him to be an artist quickly responsive to human feeling.—S. R. KOEHLER, Etching, p. 162

For with Mr Whistler's equipment, and energy and genius, the surprising thing about him is that there should be any discussion concerning his position as a painter, that he should not have vindicated his ability by something of unmistakably large importance.—Scribner's monthly, 18:495

And the nature of his ideal is singularly pure and high. It is this which, after all, finally measures an artist, the character of his ideal, his attitude toward absolute beauty, his conception of what is best in the visible world and the world that is to be divined.—Scribner's monthly, 18:488

Portrait of his mother. In the latter of the two portraits to which I have already referred (that of his mother), there is an expression of living character, an intensity of pathetic power, which gives to that noble work something of the impressiveness proper to a tragic or elegiac poem.—A. C. SWINBURNE, Fortnightly review, 49:745

White girl. The White girl is certainly a lovely picture, but its loveliness has a marked individuality. Nothing could be more delightful than the simplicity and delicacy of line and hue of this figure, nothing more graceful than her attitude, or more subtly charming than the broad harmonies worked out by the dark hair and the lily, the white drapery, and the soft fur upon which she stands. On the other hand, no one can fail to note the sense of character which pervades its loveliness, and to observe how its individuality is quite as strong as its beauty is charming.—W. C. BROWNELL, Scribner's monthly, 18:490

University of the State of New York

Object. The object of the University as defined by law is to encourage and promote education in advance of the common elementary branches. Its field includes not only the work of academies, colleges, universities, professional and technical schools but also educational work connected with libraries, museums, university extension courses and similar agencies.

The University is a supervisory and administrative, not a teaching institution. It is a state department and at the same time a federation of more than 500 institutions of higher and secondary education.

Government. The University is governed and all its corporate powers exercised by 16 elective regents and by the governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state and superintendent of public instruction who are ex officio regents. Regents are elected in the same manner as United States senators, they are unsalaried and are the only public officers in New York chosen for life.

The elective officers are a chancellor and a vice-chancellor who serve without salary, and a secretary.

The secretary, under official bonds for $10,000, is responsible for the safe keeping and proper use of the University seal and of the books, records and other property in charge of the regents, and for the proper administration and discipline of its various offices and departments.

Powers and duties. Beside many other important powers and duties, the regents have power to incorporate, and to alter or revoke the charters of universities, colleges, academies, libraries, museums, or other educational institutions, to distribute to them funds granted by the state for their use, to inspect their workings and require annual reports under oath of their presiding officers, to establish examinations as to attainments in learning and confer on successful candidates suitable certificates, diplomas and degrees, and to confer honorary degrees.

They apportion annually an academic fund of $106,000, part for buying books and apparatus for academies and high schools raising an equal amount for the same purpose, and the remainder on the basis of attendance and the results of instruction as shown by satisfactory completion of prescribed courses for which the regents' examinations afford the official test. They also expend annually $25,000 for the benefit of free public libraries.

Regents meetings. Regular quarterly meetings are held on the fourth Thursdays of November, February and May. Special meetings are held whenever business requires.

Convocation. The University convocation of the regents and the officers of institutions in the University, for consideration of subjects of mutual interest, has been held annually since 1863 in the senate chamber in Albany on the first Wednesday, Thursday and Friday after July 4.

Though primarily a New York meeting, nearly all questions discussed are of equal interest outside the state. Its reputation as the most important higher educational meeting of the country has in the past few years drawn to it many eminent educators not residents of New York who are most cordially welcomed and share fully in all discussions. It elects each year a council of five to represent it in intervals between meetings. Its proceedings issued annually are of great value in all educational libraries.

Departments

1 Administrative (Regents office) — including incorporation, supervision, inspection reports, legislation, finances and all other work not assigned to another department.

Duplicate division. This is a state clearing house, to which any institution in the University may send books or apparatus which it no longer requires, and select from it in return an equal value suited to its locality and needs.

2 Examination — including prescriptive, law student medical student, academic, higher law, medical library, extension and any other examinations conducted by the regents, and also credentials or degrees conferred on examination.

The examinations are conducted as the test lever for securing better work from teachers and more systematic and continuous study from students, and as the best means of detecting and eliminating inefficient teachers or methods. They cover 120 subjects and require nearly 1,000,000 question papers annually, and are held the week ending the last Friday in January and March and the third Friday in June in the 486 academies and high schools in the University and also at various central points where there are 10 or more candidates.

3 Extension — including summer vacation, evening and correspondence schools and other forms of extension teaching, lecture courses study clubs reading circles and other agencies for the promotion and wider extension of opportunities and facilities for education, especially for those unable to attend the usual teaching institutions.

Public libraries division. To promote the general library interests of the state, which through it expends $25,000 a year for the benefit of free public libraries. Under its charge are the traveling library — for lending to local libraries or to communities not yet having permanent libraries.

The most important factor of the extension movement is provision of the best reading for all citizens by means of traveling, home and capital libraries and annotated lists through the public libraries division.

4 State library — including state law medical, and education libraries, library school, bibliographic publications, lending books to students and similar library interests.

Library school. The law authorizes the state library to give to any librarian, assistant, or other person interested in any library in the state instruction and assistance in organizing and administering libraries. Students receive from the state library staff in return for services rendered to the library during their two years' course careful training in cataloging, classification and all other duties of professional librarianship.

5 State museum — including all scientific specimens and collections, works of art objects of historic interest and similar property appropriate to a general museum, if owned by the state and not placed in other custody by a specific law, also the research department carried on by the state geologist and paleontologist, botanist and entomologist, and all similar scientific interests of the University.

GENERAL HISTORY

Adams, Charles Francis. Massachusetts; its historians and its history. 110 p. O. Bost. 1893. Houghton $1. N. Y. e

Lectures . . . Mr Adams has elaborated views of the history of Massachusetts in regard to religious liberty and of the treatment of the theme by Massachusetts historians.—Nation, Jan. 1894, 58 : 33

——— Three episodes of Massachusetts history. 2v. maps, O. Bost. 1892. Houghton $4. N. Y. e

Contents : The settlement of Boston Bay; The antinomian controversy; A study of church and town government.

The first episode shows how Boston was settled; the second is a picture of one of the most exciting controversies in the early history of New England; the third is a masterly description of the growth and life of a New England town.—Dial, Jan. 1893, 14 : 17

Doyle, John Andrew. The English in America; the puritan colonies. 2 v. maps, O. Lond. 1887. Longmans 36s. N. Y. e

Admirably fair and impartial. Its judicial temper and philosophical spirit make it, in some respects, the best that has been written about New England.—Fiske. Beginnings of New England. 1889. p. 281

The thoroughness of Mr Doyle's researches is conspicuous in every chapter of this history.—Academy, Feb. 1887, 31 : 122

Fiske, John. Beginnings of New England; or, The puritan theocracy in its relations to civil and religious liberty. 296 p. map, O. Bost. 1889. Houghton $2. N. Y. e

The story of the colonization and formation of New England is here told with great breadth and fairness and with vigor and lucidity of style. The work stops with the agitations which preceded the revolution . . . Traces the underlying principles of New England commonwealth back to the 4th century.—Literary world, July 1889, 20 : 220

Includes a bibliography, pp. 279-87

Goodwin, John Abbot. Pilgrim republic; an historical review of the colony of New Plymouth, ed. by W. B. Goodwin. 662 p. il. map, O. Bost. 1888. Ticknor $4. N. Y. e

A local history, narrating the early republican régime at Plymouth with great fulness of detail, touching on many controverted points and handling them with coolness and justice, though without much imagination or humor.—Nation, July 1888, 47 : 36

Lodge, Henry Cabot. Short history of the English colonies in America. 560 p. map, O. N. Y. 1881. Harper $3. N. Y. e

The life, the thought, the manners and habits of the people were the subjects that the author investigated and has well described. The volumes may be commended as a scholarly production.—Adams. Manual of historical literature. 1889. p. 609

Interesting in connection with the history of the New England colonies, in order to note the difference in character, habits and manner of living between the northern and southern colonies. Each colony is treated separately. Written in a pleasing, narrative style.

Oliver, Peter. The puritan commonwealth, an historical review of the puritan government in Massachusetts in its civil and ecclesiastical relations. 502 p. O. Bost. 1856. Little o. p. N. Y. e

An exceedingly severe criticism of the puritan policy . . . written with rare grace and beauty of style.—Adams. Manual of historical literature. 1889. p. 582

Important, as the ablest presentation of what may be called 'the other side' of puritanism.

Palfrey, John Gorham. Compendious history of New England. 4v. O. Bost. 1891. Houghton $6. N. Y. e

— — — 5v. O. Bost. 1890. Little $18.

Not only the most satisfactory history of New England we have, but one of the most admirable historical works ever produced in America. It shows great learning, comprehensive views and sound judgment. Written in a graceful and agreeable style. The fourth volume brings the work to the year 1740.—Adams. Manual of historical literature. 1889. p. 583

Its only shortcoming is that it deals somewhat too leniently with the faults of the puritan theocracy and looks at things too exclusively from a Massachusetts point of view.—Fiske. Beginnings of New England. 1889. p. 280

Thornton, John Wingate. Peter Oliver's Puritan commonwealth reviewed. 79 p. O. Bost. 1857. Dutton o. p. N. Y. e

Shows great learning and ingenuity . . . and should be read in connection with the work it reviews. As a defense of the puritans . . . it is one of the most successful.—Adams. Manual of historical literature. 1889. p. 583

Thwaites, Reuben Gold. The colonies, 1492–1750. 301 p. maps, S. N. Y. 1891. Longmans $1.25 (Epochs of Amer. history) N. Y. e

Good for a very condensed outline; p. 112–94 deals with the New England colonies. Useful bibliographies at the beginning of each chapter.

Weeden, William Babcock. Economic and social history of New England, 1620–1789. 2 v. O. Bost. 1890. Houghton $4.50. N. Y. e

An important service to New England history in bringing together a vast amount of scattered material which has hitherto not been generally accessible.—Dial, Jan. 1891, 11:279

Describes growth of industries and government during colonial period and deals specially with the social life of the people.

REFERENCES

Bancroft, George. History of the United States. 1891. 1:177-322. e

These chapters take up the history of New England from the causes which led to its settlement to 1658.

Bancroft's history of the colonial period is among the most authoritative. The style is stately, and the author tends toward philosophical discussion of principles.

Eggleston, Edward. The aborigines and the colonists. (see Century magazine, May 1883, 4:96-114) e

Account of the relations between the indians and the colonies, and Eliot's work among them. Gives portrait of Eliot.

— Planting of New England. (see Century magazine, Jan. 1883, 3:350-66) e

An accurate and interesting article giving a clear and connected outline of the early days of the Plymouth colony. Portraits of Endicott, Winthrop and Winslow.

Ferguson, Henry. Sir Edmund Andros. (see his Essays in American history. 1894. p. 111-60) e

Fisher, George Park. New England to 1688. New England to 1756. (see his Colonial era. 1892. p. 81-176, 216-40) e

These chapters treat of the New England colonies, but the book might well be read as a whole, to gain an idea of the relations between New England and the other colonies. More readable than Thwaites.

Fiske, John. New England in the colonial period. (see Harper's magazine, Dec. 1882, 66:111-24) e

Brief outline of the political and religious history.

BELIGIOUS HISTORY AND OBSERVANCES

Allen, Rowland H. New England tragedies in prose. 156 p. D. Bost. 1868. Nichols $1.25. N. Y. e

Contents: The coming of the quakers; The witchcraft delusion.

Sketch of the historical events on which Longfellow has founded his New England tragedies, forming an appropriate explanatory accompaniment to the poems.

Adams, Brooks. Emancipation of Massachusetts. Ed. 2. 382 p. O. Bost. 1887. Houghton $1.50. N. Y. e

Begins with a brief summary of the religious persecutions in the old world which led to the colonization of Massachusetts; gives a detailed history of the puritan commonwealth and of the development of the different sects.—Amer. catalogue. 1887. p. 2

RELIGIOUS HISTORY

Adams, C: F. The antinomian controversy. (see his Three episodes of Massachusetts history. 1892. 1 : 263-532 ; 2 : 533-78)

Bacon, Leonard. Genesis of the New England churches. 485 p. il. O. N. Y. 1874. Harper $2.50. N. Y. e

The author's aim was first of all to search out the causes and courses of events in the old world by which these New England churches were brought into being. The present volume brings the pilgrims to Plymouth and follows them through 10 years of their settlement at that place.—New Englander, Jan. 1875, 34 : 133

Ellis, George Edward. Puritan age and rule in the colony of Massachusetts Bay, 1629-1685. 576 p. O. Bost. 1888. Houghton $3.50. N. Y. e

Not a detailed history . . . an essay on the religious aspects of the age.—Nation, July 1888, 47 : 35

Contains chapters on 'The puritans and the Bible,' 'The antinomian controversy,' 'The intrusion of the quakers,' etc. The literary style is pleasing and the volume is full of interest.

— Religious element in the settlement of New England. (see Winsor. Narrative and critical history of America. 1889. 3 : 219-56) e

Ferguson, Henry. The quakers in New England. (see his Essays in American history. 1885. p. 9-52) e

Hallowell, Richard P. Quaker invasion of Massachusetts. Ed. 4. 229 p. D. Bost. 1887. Houghton $1.25. N. Y. e

The aim . . . is to correct popular fallacies and to assign to the quakers their true place in the early history of Massachusetts.—Preface

Though a defense of the quakers, the book is in the main written in a fair and impartial spirit. The author writes from careful study and intimate knowledge of his subject.

McKenzie, Alexander. Religious history of the provincial period. (see Winsor. Memorial history of Boston. 1881. 2 : 187-248) e

RELIGIOUS OBSERVANCES

Bliss, William Root. Side glimpses from the colonial meeting house. 256 p. O. Bost. 1894. Houghton $1.50. N. Y. e Sketches of the meeting house, minister and people, delightfully told. Style bright and vivacious, with touches of quiet humor. A most entertaining book.

Brooks, Henry M. The New England Sunday. (see his Olden time series. 1886. v. 3) e

Shows how the spirit of the puritan sabbath lingered in New England into the last half of the 18th century.

Earle, Mrs Alice Morse. Sabbath in puritan New England. Ed 5. 335 p. D. N. Y. 1892. Scribner $1.25. N. Y. e

A bright and thoroughly readable book. Tells of meeting houses, church music, the Bay psalm book, and other things pertaining to the puritan Sabbath.

Higginson, Thomas Wentworth. The puritan minister. (see Atlantic monthly, Sep. 1863, p. 265-80. also published in his Atlantic essays. 1892. p. 191) e

Interesting sketch of the duties and life of the puritan minister.

Love, William De Loss, jr. Fast and Thanksgiving days of New England 607 p. fac-sim. O. Bost. 1895. Houghton $3. N. Y. e Takes up the history of fast and feast days in New England with minute detail. Contains calendar, and bibliography of sermons.

Singleton, Roy. Colonial meeting house, Thanksgiving days and Christmas festivals. (see Magazine of American history, Dec. 1891, 26: 434-38) e

Tarbox, Increase Niles. Our New England Thanksgiving historically considered. (see New Englander, Mar. 1879, 38: 240-52) e

Interesting account of the origin and observances of Thanksgiving.

WITCHCRAFT

Palfrey, John Gorham. The witchcraft tragedy. (see his History of New England. 1891. 3: 84-124)

Nevins, Winfield S. Stories of Salem witchcraft. (see New England magazine, Dec. 1891, Jan. 1892, 11: 516-33, 664-80) e

Graphic account of witchcraft in New England, profusely illustrated

Poole, William Frederick. Cotton Mather and the Salem witchcraft. (see North American review, Ap. 1869, 108: 337-97) e

A defense of Cotton Mather's part in the Salem witchcraft based on historical evidence.

— Witchcraft in Boston. (see Winsor. Memorial history of Boston. 1880. 2: 131-72) e

Upham, Charles W. Salem witchcraft. 2 v. pl. O. Bost. 1867.
Wiggins & Lunt o. p. N. Y. e

He has written not merely a history of the Salem witchcraft but has made it intelligible by a minute account of the place where the delusion took its rise, and the circumstances which led to it. He has recreated Salem village as it was 200 years ago.—Lowell. Among my books. 1891. 1: 142

D. Salem 1891. Salem press $1. A. L. A. N. Y. e

The work of Charles Upham is the recognized authority on Salem witchcraft, but it is out of print, and therefore inaccessible. Caroline Upham's little book is drawn almost entirely from the larger work; is concise, and historically correct.

BIOGRAPHY

Campbell, Mrs Helen. Anne Bradstreet and her time. 373 p. D.
Bost. 1891. Lothrop $1.25. N. Y. e

A most interesting biography, giving also many side lights on the history of the times. Ch. 6, 'A theological tragedy' gives a sketch of Anne Hutchinson. Notice also ch. 10, 'Village life in 1650' and ch. 8 'Some phases of early colonial life.'

Francis, Convers. Life of John Eliot. 357 p. S. Bost. 1836.
Hilliard. (see Sparks. Library of American biography. 1834. v.
5-48) Now published by Harper $1.25. N. Y. e

Higginson, Thomas Wentworth. Life of Francis Higginson.
158 p. D. N. Y. 1891. Dodd 75c. (Makers of America) N. Y. e

Out of meager materials the author has made a valuable and attractive little book.—Literary world, July 1891, 22: 239

Higginson was the first minister in the Massachusetts Bay colony.

Lodge, Henry Cabot. A puritan Pepys. (see his Studies in history.
1884. p. 21-84) e

Moore, Jacob Bailey. Memoirs of American governors. 439 p. por.
O. N. Y. 1846. Gates $2.50. e

pt 1: Governors of New Plymouth from the landing of the pilgrims in 1620 to the union with Massachusetts Bay colony in 1692.

pt 2: Governors of Massachusetts Bay from the first settlement of the colony in 1630 to the expulsion of Andros in 1689.

Sewall, Samuel. Diary. (see Massachusetts historical society. Collections. ser. 5, v. 5-7) N. Y. e

Sewall has been called 'the puritan Pepys.' His diary is a mine of information on the manners and customs of the times, and is the source from which writers on colonial life in New England have drawn most freely. Nowhere else can one obtain so vivid an idea of the social atmosphere of those days, as from the pages of this diary. Its quaintness and old time flavor are charming and much of it is most delightful reading.

Spofford, Mrs Harriet Prescott, Guiney, L. I. & Brown, Alice. Three heroines of New England romance. 175 p. il. D. Bost. 1894. Little $2. N. Y. e

The three heroines are Priscilla, Agnes Surriage and Martha Hilton. Their stories are told in prose almost as musical as verse. A profusion of drawings scattered through the text add rare charm to the volume.—Christmas book shelf, 1894, p. 42

Straus, Oscar S. Roger Williams; the pioneer of religious liberty. 257 p. D. N. Y. 1894. Century $1.25. N. Y. e

A careful study of the life and motives of Roger Williams, who, the author says, 'reclaimed liberty of conscience by separating the functions of church and state.'—Open shelf, Nov. 1894, v. 1, no. 2

Walker, George Leon. Thomas Hooker; preacher, founder, democrat. 203 p. 1 por. D. N. Y. 1891. Dodd 75c. (Makers of America) N. Y. e

The author has used well the facilities afforded him in presenting succinctly most of the important incidents in Hooker's life.—Dial, Mar. 1892, 12:393

Hooker was the first pastor of the Hartford church.

Wendell, Barrett. Cotton Mather, the puritan priest. 321 p. 1 por. D. N. Y. 1891. Dodd 75c. (Makers of America) N. Y. e

The author adopts a kindly tone towards Mather, and excuses his faults because of the influences of the time.—Literary world, Jan. 1892, 23:13

The volume abounds with copious extracts from Mather's journal and letters.

Winslow, Anna Green. Diary; ed. by Alice Morse Earle. 121 p. por. D. Bost. 1894. Houghton $1.25. N. Y. e

Sprightly record of the daily life of a school girl in provincial Boston. Filled with vivacious and witty description.

Winthrop, Robert C. Life and letters of John Winthrop, 1588-1649. Ed. 2. 2 v. il. por. O. Bost. 1869. Little $7. A. L. A. N. Y. e

The man of highest mark and service among the founders of Massachusetts was John Winthrop. His biographer has only to allow him to show himself for what he was.—Nation, 1867, 4:65

The letters and journal of Winthrop form a large part of the two volumes, which are well worth reading.

LITERATURE

Goddard, Delano A. Press and literature of the provincial period.
(see Winsor. Memorial history of Boston. 1880. 2: 387-436) e

Account of the first newspapers and books printed in New England. Illustrated with fac-similes and portraits of the early printers.

Stedman, Edmund Clarence & Hutchinson, E. M. Library of American literature, 1888-90. v. 1-2. N. Y. e

v. 1 comprises early colonial literature from 1607-75. v. 2 from 1676-1764.
Gives long and well-selected extracts. Contains many portraits.

Tarbox, Increase Niles. New England poetry of the 17th century.
(see New Englander, Mar. 1880, 39: 174-97) e

Interesting sketch of puritan poets and poetry.

Trumbull, James Hammond. The indian tongue and its literature as fashioned by Eliot and others. (see Winsor. Memorial history of Boston. 1880. 1: 465-80) e

Account of the translation and printing of the indian Bible.

Tyler, Moses Coit. History of American literature. 2 v. O. N. Y.
1878. Putnam $6. N. Y. e

v. 1 1607-76; v. 2 1677-1765.

It is a book truly admirable both in design and execution; the learning is great, the treatment wise, the style fresh and vigorous. The author has taken a whole department of human history, and rescued it from oblivion.—Nation, Jan. 1879, 28: 17

The two volumes are attractive and readable throughout.

Winsor, Justin. Literature of the colonial period. (see his Memorial history of Boston. 1880. 1: 453-64) e

ARCHITECTURE AND FURNITURE

Drake, Samuel Adams. Our colonial homes. 211 p. il. Q. Bost.
1894. Lee $2.50. N. Y. e

Includes a score of papers about old buildings in various parts of New England, set off with handsome letter press and half-tone prints. Presents many distinct types of colonial architecture.—Nation, Dec. 1893, 57: 448

Earle, Mrs Alice Morse. China collecting in America. 429 p. il. O.
N. Y. 1892. Scribner $3. N. Y. e

Traces out the history of English porcelain in America, and the early use and importation of china in this country. Gives abundant quotations and historical references.—Critic, Aug. 1892, 21: 90

An illustrated article on this subject by Mrs Earle may be found in Scribner's monthly, Sep. 1891, 10: 345 entitled 'A china hunter in New England'. This article is incorporated in her book China collecting in America.

— Home interiors. (see her Customs and fashions in old New England. 1893. p. 105-31) e

Jones, Alvin Lincoln. Under colonial roofs. 237 p. il. ob. O. Bost. 1894. Webster $10. N. Y. e

Contains 40 full page photogravure plates of historic colonial homes in New England, with brief history and description of each.

Little, Arthur. Early New England interiors; sketches in Salem, Marblehead, Portsmouth and Kittery. ob. F. Bost. 1877. Williams $6. B. P.

Lyon, Irving Whitall. Colonial furniture of New England; a study of the domestic furniture in use in the 17th and 18th centuries. 285 p. il. Q. Bost. 1892. Houghton $10. N. Y. e

A superb quarto; hundred or more full page illustrations giving examples of furniture gathered from old homesteads mainly in Massachusetts and Connecticut with description and history.—Dial, Mar. 1892, 12: 389

Wallis, F. E. Old colonial architecture and furniture. Q. Bost. 1891. Polley $25. B. P. Det.

60 plates, showing the best example of colonial architecture and furniture taken from New England, New York and the south.

Never before has there been anything published on this peculiar style, so elaborate as this beautiful work.—Haferkorn. Handy lists; architecture. 1893. p. 289

Whitefield, E. Homes of our forefathers; selections of the oldest and most interesting buildings, historic houses and noted places in Massachusetts. Ed. 3. 35 pl. Q. Bost. 1880. Williams $5.

— — in Rhode Island and Connecticut. 32 pl. Q. Bost. 1882. Williams $6.

— — in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont. 36 p. Q. Read- ing, Mass. 1896. B. P. Det. Mil.

DESCRIPTIONS

Warner, C : D. Baddeck and that sort of thing. 191 p. T. Bost. 1874. Houghton $1.

An excursion to Cape Breton.—Sargent

917. 2 Mexico

Bandelier, A. F. Mexico. il. Q. Bost. 1885. Cupples $5.
Archeological rather than popular.

Bishop, W : H : Mexico, California and Arizona. O. N. Y. 1889. Harper $2.

Published originally in 1883 as Old Mexico and her lost provinces. He draws well the features of the landscape, the physiognomy and attitude of the natives, the quaint, serious, comfortable architecture of the Spanish, the somber sphinx-like ruins of the Aztec times and has made a real picture of what he saw.—Atlantic monthly 52:834

Calderon de la Barca, Mme F. E. (Inglis), anon. Two years residence in Mexico. 2v. D. Bost. 1843. Little $2.50.

Still remains though written 50 years ago the best presentment of life in Mexico.—Spectator

Conkling, A. R. Appleton's guide to Mexico, including a chapter on Guatemala and an English-Spanish vocabulary. New ed. il. maps, D. N. Y. 1890. Appleton $2.

Information is wonderfully condensed in it, and I wonder at its completeness in so little space.—U. S. Grant

Gooch, Mrs F. C. Face to face with the Mexicans; seven years' familiar intercourse with them. il. O. N. Y. 1888. Fords $3.50.

A treasury of romance, legend, history, picturesque description and genial humor.—M. Romero, Mexican minister at Washington

Janvier, T : A. Mexican guide. New ed. maps, S. N. Y. 1890. Scribner $2.50.

Contains the information I felt the want of when I first went to Mexico. What can be easily found and plainly seen need not be laboriously described, a traveler of ordinary intelligence after being told what to look for and where to look for it in a strange country desires most to know the historic facts and associations connected with what he sees.—Preface

Le Plongeon, Mrs A. D. Here and there in Yucatan. S. N. Y. 1886. Bouton $1.25.

A thoroughly readable volume, with much in it of novel and instructive and with some stories of exploring trials and hardships stoutly borne.—Nation, 21 July 1887

Ober, F: A. Travels in Mexico and life among the Mexicans. O. Bost. 1887. Estes $2.50.

Mr Ober is an enthusiastic traveler who writes of what he has seen in more than one journey and with a hearty interest in everything he sees.—Atlantic monthly 53: 865

Smith, F. H. White umbrella in Mexico. il. S. Bost. 1889. Houghton $1.50.

Sketches of street scenes by an artist.—Sargent

Stephens, J: L. Incidents of travel in Yucatan, 1841-42. 2 v. il. O. N. Y. 1848. Harper $6.

Racy narrative, clear descriptions and striking representations of dilapidated architectural magnificence.—North Amer. rev. 57: 88

Wells, D: A. Study of Mexico. D. N. Y. 1890. Appleton $1.

Mr Wells is an economist, a student in sociology and a statistician. His visit to Mexico naturally led him to pursue inquiries in the field where he was most at home and the results he reaches are those of a trained mind, what he says is well worth reading.—Atlantic monthly 59: 715

917.28 Central America

Bates, H: W. ed. Central America, West Indies and South America. il. maps, O. N. Y. 1878. Scribner $10.50 (Stanford's compendium of geography and travel)

Mexico is included. Describes physical features, customs, population, government, etc. Based on Hellwald's Die erde und ihre völker.

Brigham, W: T. Guatemala; land of the Quetzal. il. O. N. Y. 1887. Scribner $5.

A better all round book about a country than this rarely has seen the light.—Critic 11: 310

Calvo, J. B. Republic of Costa Rica, from the Spanish. il. maps, D. N. Y. 1890. Rand, McNally $2.

Even in its faulty English dress, a welcome addition to the conveniently accessible sources of information about Central America.—Nation, 24 Ap. 1890

Charles, Cecil. Honduras; the land of great depths. map, D. N. Y. 1890. Rand, McNally $1.50.

Lifelike account of the author's experiences during a residence of several years, abounding in information regarding the soil, climate, people and institutions.

Morelet, Arthur. Travels in Central America, 1848 . . . tr. by Mrs M. F. Squier. il. map, O. N. Y. 1871. Holt $2.

Contains much valuable information as to the manners and customs of the inhabitants, the physical features and natural history of the country interspersed with personal incidents and tales of romantic adventure.—Nature

Squier, E. G. States of Central America, their geography, topography, etc. il. map, O. N. Y. 1858. Harper $4.

Mr Squier is a good observer of nature and an archeologist and has added much valuable matter to our previous knowledge of the country and people.—Fraser's magazine 45: 475

Stephens, J. L. Incidents of travel in Central America, 1839-40. 2v. il. maps, O. N. Y. 1852. Harper $6.

Not merely the record of an archeological tour . . . if all the portion . . . which bears this character were withdrawn, there would remain a work, than which none has lately fallen in our way more rich in entertainment and instruction.—North Amer. rev. 53: 505

Vincent, Frank. In and out of Central America. il. map, D. N. Y. 1890. Appleton $2.

Contains sketches of travel in little known regions on the western coast of Central America.

917.29 West Indies

Ballou, M. M. Due south; or, Cuba past and present. D. Bost. 1885. Houghton $1.50.

Though the author makes his bow specially to the 'Gem of the Antilles' he has much that is delightful to say about Nassau and New Providence and the Bahama archipelago.—Critic 7: 280

Brassey, Anne, lady. In the trades, the tropics and the roaring forties, 1883. New ed. il. maps, O. N. Y. 1887. Holt $3.50.

From Madeira to Trinidad, thence to La Guayra and Caracas, Jamaica, the Bahamas, Bermuda and home by way of the Azores.

Dana, R. H., jr. To Cuba and back, 1859. S. Bost. 1881. Houghton $1.25.

His descriptions are not elaborate or detailed; but by the sharp delineation of the salient features or strong characteristics of the object portrayed, he suggests the minor particulars which he makes it easy to imagine but which would be wearisome if written out in full.—North Amer. rev. 89: 271

Dorr, Mrs J. C. R. Bermuda; an idyl of the summer islands. maps, S. N. Y. 1884. Scribner $1.25.

Written with a pleasant enthusiasm and tells gracefully what every one would wish to know . . . the maps are good and convenient.—Atlantic monthly

Eves, C. W. West Indies. O. Lond. 1889. Low 7s. 6d.

May be read with profit by all who desire to inform their minds as to the history, conditions and prospects of our West Indian colonies.—Spectator

Froude, J. A. English in the West Indies ; or, The bow of Ulysses. O. N. Y. 1892. Scribner $1.75.

Its tone is wholesome and its main conclusion indisputable . . . that England should take over the government of the West Indies to administer it after the East Indian manner, doing away with the farce of local representative assemblies.—Saturday rev. 65:140

Hazard, Samuel. Santo Domingo, past and present ; with a glance at Hayti, 1871. il. maps, O. N. Y. 1873. Harper $3.50.

A condensed history of both parts of the island and it describes in a readable manner the author's experience of travel there.—Nation

Hearn, Lafcadio. Two years in the French West Indies. D. N. Y. 1890. Harper $2.

A study of life in Martinique. He has caught the brilliance of tropical coloring and has impressed its hues upon his own pages.—Nation, 3 July 1890

Heilprin, Angelo. Bermuda islands. O. Phil. 1889. Acad. of natural science $3.50.

He has written most delightfully as well as scientifically of the people, plants, animals and geology of this crescent of islands ; packed with interesting information as it is, we consider it on the whole the best volume on the subject.—Critic 15: 254

Kingsley, Charles. At last ; a Christmas in the West Indies, 1869. 2v. il. D. N. Y. 1871. Macmillan $1.25.

Pleasant pictures of the beauties of the islands and their surrounding waters.—Nation 13: 60

Ober, F: A. Camps in the Caribbees ; the adventures of a naturalist in the Lesser Antilles. il. O. Bost. 1880. Lee $2.50.

Conveys in a popular manner a good deal of information on various branches of natural history, an interesting though not at all exhaustive work.—Nation, 29 Jan. 1880

Paton, W: A. Down the islands ; a voyage to the Caribbees. il. O. N. Y. 1887. Scribner $4.

Breezy descriptions of the little paradise known to mortals as the Windward isles, which stretches in a chain of never ending delight from St Thomas to the Spanish main.—Nation, 29 Dec. 1887

St John, Sir Spenser. Hayti ; or, The black republic. New ed. map, O. N. Y. 1890. Scribner $2.50.

We must admire the richness and variety of his knowledge and his evident intention to get at the facts, in spite of his prejudices.—Critic 14: 207

Trollope, Anthony. West Indies and the Spanish main, 1859. D. N. Y. 1860. Harper $1.50.

About a third of the volume is devoted to Jamaica, there are chapters also on Cuba, British Guiana, Barbados, Trinidad, Central America and the Bermudas. His observations are always entertaining.—North Amer. rev. 90:289

917.3 United States

1607-1775

Wharton, Anne H. Colonial days and dames. il. D. Phil. 1895. Lippincott $1.25.

A chatty picture of colonial home and social life, liberally sprinkled with extracts from letters, journals, etc. of the period.—Dial 18:123

Dwight, Timothy. Travels in New England and New York, 1796-1810. 4 v. maps, O. New Haven 1821-22. o. p.

Though the humblest in its pretensions, the most important of Dr Dwight's writings and it will derive additional value from time, whatever may become of his poetry and his sermons.—Quarterly rev. 30:1

Twining, Thomas. Travels in America 100 years ago. T. N. Y. 1894. Harper 50c. (Harper's black and white ser.)

The impressions of a singularly liberal and unbiased observer.—Dial 16:88

Dickens, Charles. American notes, 1842. il. D. N. Y. 1893. Macmillan $1.

The tone of the book throughout is frank, honest and manly. He has steered clear of all personalities, though he has not lost any point of what he deems to be the truth.—North American rev. 56:230

Various other editions.

Hall, Basil. Travels in North America in the years 1827 and 1828. 2 v. D. Phil. 1829. Carey, Lea and Carey o. p.

This work will furnish food for the appetite for detraction which reigns in Great Britain toward this country.—North Amer. rev. 29:323

Lyell, Sir Charles. Travels in North America in 1841-42; with geological observations on the United States, Canada and Nova Scotia. 2v. il. maps, D. Lond. 1845. Murray o. p.

Interesting, valuable, scientific.—Sabin

Martineau, Harriet. Society in America. 2v. D. N. Y. 1837. Saunders and Otley o. p.

1865—

Appleton's general guide to the United States and Canada. il. maps,
S. N. Y. 1896. Appleton $2.50. Or in two parts
New England and middle states and Canada. $1.25.
Southern and western states. $1.25.

Arnold, Matthew. Civilization in the United States; first and last impressions of America. D. Bost. 1888. DeWolfe, Fiske & co. $1.25.

Characterized by learning, candor, originality and freshness as well as by a curious insularity of ignorance in some of the matter under treatment.—Critic 12: 282

Baedeker, Karl, ed. United States; with an excursion into Mexico; handbook for travellers. maps, S. N. Y. 1893. Imported by Scribner $3.60 net.

Maintains the high reputation which his European guidebooks have established . . . wonderfully accurate and detailed. Appleton's being more generalized, is better for continuous journeys; Baedeker's, having fuller information regarding localities, is preferable for use at stopping places.—Nation 56: 477

Bagg, L. H. anon. Ten thousand miles on a bicycle; by Karl Kron. il. D. N. Y. 1887. 'Karl Kron' $2.

Packed with information of interest to wheelmen, collected with great labor and so far as we can judge, accurate.—Nation

Bishop, N. H. Voyage of a paper canoe; a . . . journey of 2,500 miles from Quebec to the Gulf of Mexico during . . . 1874 and 1875. D. Bost. 1878. Lee $1.50.

Capital reading, the canoeist's energy and courage can not be concealed.—Atlantic monthly 42: 582

Bourget, Paul. Outre-mer; impressions of America. D. N. Y. 1895. Scribner $1.75.

A singularly interesting work, in that it comes from a trained and practised observer, who sees and notes things which most of us merely glance at.—Nation 60: 363

Bryce, James. American commonwealth. New ed. enl. 2v. D. N. Y. 1893-94. Macmillan $4.

Dixon, W: H. New America. il. O. Phil. 1867. Lippincott $2.
Contains accounts of many religious and socialistic communities.

Dixon, W. H. Greater America; hits and hints by a foreign resident. D. N. Y. 1887. A. Lovell & co. paper 50c.

Its steady note of praise, though there are hits and mild strictures, is delightful to listen to . . . A breezy discussion of live questions of land, labor, socialism tariffs and things which are uppermost in the public mind.—Critic 11:202

Freeman, E. A. Some impressions of the United States. D. N. Y. 1883. Holt $1.50.

He is more anxious to find points of resemblance between the United States and England than points of dissimilarity.—Nation 36:494

Jackson, Mrs H. M. (Fiske) Hunt. Bits of travel at home. S. Bost. n. d. Roberts $1.50.

California, New England, Colorado, their natural beauties enthusiastically described.

King, Moses. King's hand-book of the United States. il. map, O Buffalo 1891. Matthews-Northrop co. $2.50.

Gives in succinct form the history, physical and political geography, etc. of the several states, arranged alphabetically.

Shaler, N. S. ed. The United States of America; a study of the American commonwealth, its natural resources, people, industries, manufactures, commerce and its work in literature, science, education and self-government. 2 v. il. map, O. N. Y. 1894. Appleton $10.

It is a picture and not a discussion. As a picture it is greatly stimulating, even inspiring, and must be regarded as a remarkable success.—Nation

Warner, C. D. Studies in the South and West, with comments on Canada. D. N. Y. 1889. Harper $1.75.

A witty, instructive book, as brilliant in its pictures, as it is warm in its kindness.—N. Y. commercial advertiser — Their pilgrimage il. D. N. Y. 1887. Harper $2.

Gives a clear and truthful idea of the characteristics and peculiarities of the principal watering places and mountain resorts of the country.—Evening transcript (Boston)

917. 4 North Atlantic states

New England

Drake, S. A. Nooks and corners of the New England coast. il. maps, O. N. Y. 1875. Harper $3.50. v. p.

There is no book, we think, which gives so clear, agreeable and instructive views of the New England coast Lit. world 6:20

Earle, Mrs Alice Morse. Customs and fashions in old New England. D. N. Y. 1893. Scribner $1.25.

Social side of the puritan's life from the cradle to the grave.

Rollins, Mrs Ellen Hobbs). New England by-gones; by E. H. Arr. sq. O. Phil. 1883. Lippincott $2.25.

True pictures of New England life in the more rural districts, with its stern and unamiable features unsoftened and with its strong, hardy characteristics unlightened.—Nation, 8 July, 1880

Sweetser, M. F. ed. New England; a guide for the chief cities and popular resorts. Ed. 17. maps, S. Bost. 1896. Houghton $1.50.

Mr Sweetser is to New England what Baedeker is to Europe, and reading these volumes is almost as entertaining as going over the very ground they describe. No traveler can afford to be without them, while as books of reference for stay-at-homes they are invaluable.—Evening transcript (Boston)

917. 41 Maine

DeCosta, B : F. Rambles in Mt Desert; with sketches of travel on the New England coast from the Isle of Shoals to Grand Menan. il. S. N. Y. 1871. Randolph.

Written in a style as cool and quiet as the Echo notch landscape which is photographed as a frontpiece to the book . . . intended as a sort of compromise between a guidebook and a personal narration of travel.—Nation

Drake, S : A. Pine tree coast. il. O. Bost. 1891. Estes $3.

He passes through . . . from Kittery to Eastport and gathers about each spot a story . . . describes the landscape, sketches the inhabitants and occasionally introduces their conversation, with a realism the modern novelist must envy . . . Antiquarian notes are added at the end of the chapter.—Nation 27 Nov. 1890

Lowell, J. R. A Moosehead journal (see his Fireside travels p. 89-152) Bost. 1864. Houghton $1.50.

It shows tender feeling and delicate humor, a quiet perception and hearty enjoyment of out-of-the-way people to an extent which few books of travel can equal.—Christian examiner 77 : 376

Thoreau, H : D : Maine woods. D. Bost. 1892. Houghton $1.50.

The plain, unadorned narration of these excursions, with its simple and minute descriptions, and the quaint reflections which intersperse it, is strangely interesting.—Morning express (Buffalo)

Winthrop, Theodore. Life in the open air and other papers. D. N. Y. 1862. U. S. book co. $1.25.

Interesting and animated account of a trip to the lakes of Maine, the Penobscot river and Mt Katahdin.

Bates, Mrs Arlo. Old Salem; by Eleanor Putnam. S. Bost. 1886. Houghton $1.

With all its fragmentariness it is a distinct bit of literature . . . something to value, not merely because we can never have another from its creator, but because it is in itself a delight.—Atlantic monthly 58: 269

Bolles, Frank. Land of the lingering snow; chronicles of a stroller in New England from January to June. D. Bost. 1891. Houghton $1.25.

Walks in Arlington, Belmont, Waverly, Fitchburg, Milton, Chocoma and to Highland light.

Drake, S: A. Old landmarks and historic personages of Boston. il. D. Bost. 1873. Roberts $2.

A valuable book . . . Mr Drake has a pleasantly unpedantic way of imparting knowledge and has certainly spared neither time nor labor in accumulating his materials.—Nation —— Glimpses of pilgrim Plymouth. il. ob. D. Plymouth, Mass. 1891. A. S. Burbank $1.75.

Views in photogravure accompanied with extracts of descriptive history.

Howells, W: D. Three villages. T. Bost. 1884. Houghton $1.25.

In Mr Howells' most characteristic vein of photographic minuteness, touched up with his delicate humor.—Lit. world 15: 193

Kemble, Mrs F. A. Far away and long ago. S. N. Y. 1889. Holt $1.

A sketch of life 50 or 60 years ago in Berkshire county . . . very agreeably done.—Nation, 8 Aug. 1889

Lothrop, Mrs H: M. *anon. Old Concord, her highways and byways; by Margaret Sidney. New ed. enl. il. O. Bost. 1892. Lothrop $2.

Author is a resident of Concord and is thoroughly acquainted with every nook and corner of the town, as well as with every legend that belongs to them.

Thoreau, H: D: Week on Concord and Merrimac rivers. D. Bost. 1893. Houghton $1.50 (New Riverside ed.)

If any one would steal away from the region of winter skies into the regions of perpetual summer, let him take the proffered hand of Thoreau, and by the side of a slender New England river, walk with the sages and poets of all ages.—Independent

Thoreau, H: D: Cape Cod. D. Bost. 1892. Houghton $1.50 (New Riverside ed.)

A thoroughly fresh, original and interesting book — Boston advertiser

Underwood, F. H. Quabbin, the story of a small town, with outlooks upon puritan life. il. D. Bost. 1893. Lee $1.75.

Perhaps there is no other one book which gives such a comprehensive idea of a New England town.—Critic 22:30

Enfield, Hampshire county

Westcott, Thompson. Historic mansions and buildings of Philadelphia. il. O. Phil. 1877. Porter $5.

The writer's object is to gather in every fact of interest or person of note related however remotely to his theme . . . and his book should find a ready sale outside of Philadelphia, as well as at home.—Nation, 2 May 1878

Wharton, Anne H. Through colonial doorways. il. D. Phil. 1893. Lippincott $1.25.

Folk lore and quaint tales of old Philadelphia society. The receptions and assemblies, the minuets and card parties, the dallings in philosophy and science of the colonial and revolutionary period are faithfully described from original documents and shed agreeable light on higher and more complicated subjects.—Critic 23: 19

917.5 South Atlantic states

Evans, G. G. ed. Washington illustrated, a visitor's companion at our nation's capital; a guide to Washington and its environs il. map, D. Phil. 1892. Evans, cloth $1.50; $2; half mor $2.25; $2.50, mor. $3.

In all respects it will prove an excellent guidebook to Washington, while its more extended scope and completeness in detail make it well worthy of a place on the shelf devoted to reference works.—Christian union 45: 1261

Goodwin, Mrs Maude (Wilder). The colonial cavalier; or, Southern life before the revolution. D. N. Y. 1894. Lovell, Coryell & co. $1.

Nordhoff, Charles. Cotton states in the spring and summer of 1875. O. N. Y. 1876. Appleton, paper 50c.

Describes the political and industrial conditions of Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, North Carolina and Georgia, the result of an exploration made for the New York herald.

Olmsted, F: L. The cotton kingdom; a traveller's observations on cotton and slavery in the American slave states, 1856-60. 2v. map, D. N. Y. 1861. Mason bros. o. p.

Valuable because . . . not estimates or conjectures, but detailed facts . . . and because the author evidently undertook his journeys, not in order to verify previously formed opinions, but to collect materials for forming his opinions.—North. Amer. rev. 94: 272

Written charmingly and with knowledge of its colonial and ante-bellum aspects, claims, civilization and contributions to society.—Critic 21: 78

Ralph, Julian. Dixie; or, Southern scenes and sketches. il. O. N. Y. 1894. Harper $2.50.

One of the latest and best books describing the new south.

Strother, D: H: Virginia illustrated, by Porte Crayon; 185-. il. O. N. Y. 1871. Harper $3.50.

Amusing sketches both with pen and pencil of the Virginia of ante-bellum times.

Warner, C: D. On horseback; a tour in Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee, with notes of travel in Mexico and California. D. Boston 1889. Houghton $1.25.

Described with all of Mr Warner's well known quaint humor, full of observation of the people and the country and rich in valuable information.—Pub. weekly

Waterson, Henry, ed. Oddities in southern life and character. il. S. Bost. 1883. Houghton $1.50.

The most interesting chapters from the writings of southerners who have been most successful in depicting characteristics of southern life and habits.

917.59 Florida

Deland, Mrs Margaret. Florida days. il. O. Bost. 1889. Little $4.

Depicts the subject in a vein of bright sentiment and is full of poetic suggestiveness.—Critic

Holder, C: F: Along the Florida reef. il. O. N. Y. 1892. Appleton $1.50.

The author, an enthusiastic naturalist, spent four or five years as a boy, upon a Florida key collecting specimens . . . of all this he has written a perfectly fascinating account hard to lay down when once begun.—Critic 19: 3

Lanier, Sidney. Florida; its scenery, climate and history il. D. Phil. 1876. Lippincott $1.75.

He reports upon almost every point of interest in the state, working in a good deal of historical information . . . and gathers many facts as to the hygienic characteristics of the country.—Lit. world 6: 116

Bishop, N. H. City of Milwaukee; guide to the 'Cream city' for visitors and citizens. il. maps, O. Milwaukee 1886. Caspar & Zahn, paper 25c; cloth 50c.

Gives a history of the settlement, development and present importance of the city, a chronology of interesting events and descriptions of the noted summer resorts of Wisconsin.

Clemens, S. L. Life on the Mississippi, by Mark Twain. il. O. N. Y. 1896. Harper $1.75.

Only secondarily the work of a funny man, primarily it is a descriptive and historical work by an ex-pilot of the old Mississippi sort, intending to bring before the reader the contrast between the river as it is and as it was in the days before the war and before the steamboat trade had been interfered with by the building of rival railroads.—Nation 37: 192

Howells, W. C. Recollections of life in Ohio from 1813 to 1840. O. Cin. 1895. Clarke $2.

Very valuable because of the clear and simple accounts it gives of material, intellectual and religious conditions in central Ohio, for the period covered.—Review of reviews 12: 370

Hudson, H. B. Hudson's dictionary of Minneapolis and vicinity. il. maps, S. Minneapolis 1891. Raymer's Old book store, paper 25c.

Schick, L. Chicago and its environs; a hand-book for the traveller. il. maps, S. Chic. 1891. Schick 75c.

Shewey, A. C. Shewey's guide and directory to St Louis and hand-book of historical, statistical and chronological information. map, S. St L. n. d. Shewey, paper 45c.

Thwaites, R. G. Historic waterways: 600 miles of canoeing down the Rock, Fox and Wisconsin rivers. S. Chic. 1888. McClurg $1.25.

An agreeable narrative by a writer whose taste for history and knowledge of local events enables him to make of his book something more than a record of personal adventure.—Atlantic monthly 62: 286

917.8 Western or mountain states

Bishop, Mrs I. L. (Bird). A lady's life in the Rocky mountains. I. D. N. Y. 1890 Putnam $1.75.

Mrs Bird is an ideal writer . . . she has regard to the essentials of a scene or episode and describes these with a simplicity as effective as it is artless.—Spectator

Bowles, Samuel. Across the continent; a summer's journey to the Rocky mountains, the Mormons and the Pacific states . . . in 1865. il. O. N. Y. 1865. Hurd & Houghton $1.50.

Never dull, never commonplace, very often really eloquent. His observations on the moral and material condition of the communities through which he passes are always acute, in the majority of cases original and often profound.—Nation, 11 Jan. 1866

Chittenden, H. M. Yellowstone national park, historical and descriptive. D. Cin. 1895. Clarke $1.50.

The history of the upper Yellowstone from the days of Lewis Clark to the present time. . . The descriptive part contains a succinct though comprehensive treatment of the various scientific and popular features of the park.

Custer, Mrs E. . B. Boots and saddles; or, Life in Dakota with Gen. Custer. map, D. N. Y. 1885. Harper $1.50.

Incidents of march through the western country, life in barracks and camp.—Sargent

Davis, R: H. The West from a car-window. il. D. N. Y. 1892. Harper $1.25.

Not a dull line in the book; he gives a truer view of the United States soldier and the American indian than half a dozen military novels.—Nation 55:359

Dodge, R: I. Plains of the great West and their inhabitants. il. map, O. N. Y. 1877. Putnam $4.

A practical study of the life of the plains, by an army officer . . . an interesting book whose very simplicity attests its truth.—Nation

Irving, Washington. Astoria; or, Anecdotes of an enterprise beyond the Rocky mountains, 1810-14. Various editions.

Narrative of the efforts of John Jacob Astor to carry the fur trade across the Rocky mountains and to establish a trading post at the mouth of the Columbia.

— Adventures of Capt. Bonneville . . . 1832-35. Various editions.

Picturings of the Rocky mountains and their wild inhabitants and of the wild life that prevails there.

Lummis, C: F. Land of the poco tiempo. il. O. N. Y. 1893. Scribner $2.50

Decidedly interesting account of New Mexico, of its motley populace, its curious survival of pre-Columbian rites and customs, its ancient walled cities, etc.—Dial 16:56

— Tramp across the continent. il. D. N. Y. 1892. Scribner $1.25.

From Cincinnati to Los Angeles, Cal. in 1884. There is plenty of humor and on the whole we do not know of a better or more amusing book of its sort. Critic 21:56

Parkman, Francis. The Oregon trail, sketches of prairie and Rocky mountain life. D. Bost. 1891. Little $1.50

— New il. ed. O. Bost. 1892. Little $4

Ralph, Julian. Our great West. il. O. N. Y. 1893. Harper $2.50.

Presents many of the valuable features of the guidebook, together with an interesting picture of the people and their hopes and aspirations. — Critic 24: 126

Roosevelt, Theodore. Ranch life and the hunting trail. il. F. N. Y. 1888. Century $5.

He may be said to fairly lasso the reader's attention at the outset and to hold it to the last page. The cattle country of which he writes is the northern half of the great belt which extends from the Canadian border to Texas. — Critic 13: 229

Wallace, Susan E. Land of the Pueblos. New ed. D. N. Y. 1895. G: D. Hurst 75c.

She has an observant eye and picturesque pen and her descriptions of this land, [New Mexico] its people, its civilization and its religion are deeply interesting. — Western Christian advocate

• Wingate, G: W. Through the Yellowstone park on horse-back. il. map, D. N. Y. 1886. Judd $1 50.

Much the best practical guidebook we have yet had of that wonderful region; a plain, simple, just and accurate record of the average experiences of the tourist. — Critic 9: 65

917.9 Pacific states

Ballou M. M. The new Eldorado; a summer journey to Alaska; maps. S. Bost. 1891. Houghton $1. Tourists' ed.

Among the numerous tourist books to which the Alaska excursionists have given rise, decidedly the best we have examined. — Nation

Barendt, A. Doxey's guide to San Francisco and the pleasure and health resorts of California. il. map, D. San Fran. 1895. W: Doxey 75c.

Burton, R: F. City of the saints and across the Rocky mountains to California. il. maps, O. N. Y. 1862. Harper $3.50.

His descriptions are very stimulating to the imagination of an excitable reader. — North Amer. rev 95: 195

Dana, R: H:, jr. Two years before the mast. D. Bost. 1895. Houghton, paper 50c; cloth 60c. (Riverside lit. ser. no. 84)

An American classic; record of a voyage round Cape Horn to California and return in 1835-37; last chapter describes the wonderful changes in California between 1835 and 1859.

Finck, H: T. Pacific coast scenic tour from southern California to Alaska, the Canadian Pacific railway, Yellowstone park and the Grand cañon. il. map, O. N. Y. 1890. Scribner $2 50.

In point of readableness and interest, this narrative leaves nothing to be desired. — Nation, 6 Nov. 1890

Merriam, Florence A. My summer in a Mormon village. S. Bost. 1894. Houghton $1.

Brightly written, with plenty of local color and character sketching and with some discussion of the doctrine and present practice of the 'Saints.'—Dial 17: 95

Muir, John. The mountains of California. il. D. N. Y. 1894. Century $1.50.

Describes glaciers, forests, storms and fauna in a style of striking charm embodying scientific accuracy, poetic imagination and loving kinship with nature.—N. Y. state trav. lib. finding list 21

Robinson, Phil. Sinners and saints; a tour across the states and around them, with three months among the Mormons. D. Bost. 1883. Roberts $1.50.

A practised and agreeable traveler who extracts a great deal of sunshine from cucumbers and labors industriously at giving the Mormons a first class ticket to heaven.—Atlantic monthly 52: 287

Scidmore, E. R. Alaska; its southern coast and the Sitkan archipelago. il. maps, O. Bost. 1885. Lothrop, cloth $1.50; paper 50c.

A pleasant and readable narrative of her experience; a graphic account of the unparalleled scenery of the archipelago, together with interesting historical incidents.—Nation, 25 June 1885

Stevenson, R. L. Silverado squatters. S. Bost. 1883. Roberts, cloth $1; paper 50c.

Entertaining sketches of California scenery and life . . . showing the observing eye and graceful touch of an artist.—Nation, 14 Feb. 1884

Stoddard, C. A. Beyond the Rockies. D. N. Y. 1894. Scribner $1.50.

One of the best itineraries of the California tour . . . fresh, unprejudiced, reliable, and entertaining.—Critic 25: 350

Taylor, Bayard. Eldorado; or, Adventures in the path of empire. il. D. N. Y. 1850. Putnam $1.50.

A voyage to California via Panama in 1849 shortly after the discovery of gold and returning across Mexico from Mazatlan to Vera Cruz.

Taylor, B. F. Between the gates; or, Summer rambles in California. D. Ch. 1888. Gnggs $1.25.

Record of the only care-free, cloudless summer of my life since childhood. This gypsy of a book has few facts and not a word of fiction; not so much as a dry fagot of statistics or a wing feather of a fancy.—Preface

Van Dyke, T. S. Southern California; its valleys, hills and streams, its animals, birds and fishes, its gardens, farms and climate. D. N. Y. 1886. Fords $1.50.

Without question the best book which has been written on the southern counties of California.—San Francisco chronicle

Warner, C : D. Our Italy ; an exposition of the climate and resources of southern California. il. O. N. Y. 1891. Harper $2.50.

Entertaining and readable, which eastern readers will read not only with pleasure but with instruction.—Christian union 43:579

Winthrop, Theodore. The canoe and the saddle. S. N. Y. 1876. U. S. book co. 75c.

Record of the journey from Puget sound to the Dallas of the Columbia river made in 1853. His descriptions of scenery and out of door life have a freshness and an accuracy of detail which prove him to have been a genuine lover of nature.—North Amer. rev. 96:266

HISTORY OUTLINE OF THE 17th CENTURY

The 17th century is the period when Europe, shattered in its political and religious ideas by the reformation, reconstructed its political system upon the principle of territorialism under the rule of absolute monarchy. It opens with Henry 4, it closes with Peter the Great. It reaches its climax in Louis 14 and the Great Elector. It is therefore the century in which the principal European states took the form and acquired the position in Europe which they have held more or less to the present time — Wakeman p. 1

Four main centers of interest in this century :

- 1 Catholic reaction in Germany leading to the 30 years' war with the peace of Westphalia and its effect ;
- 2 Contest in England between the Stuart kings and parliament ;
- 3 Establishment of absolute monarchy in France and the struggle of the other powers against Louis 14 ;
- 4 American colonies.

OUTLINE OF THE POLITICAL HISTORY

Germany — War rages for 30 years 1618-48 and leaves the country in a helpless condition.

Prussia first rises into prominence under the Great Elector, Frederick William.

The United Provinces hold a high place at this period and are engaged in a long struggle with France.

Sweden is at the height of her power and possessions.

Russia is rapidly rising and Poland is declining.

Austria increases her power in Italy and Hungary.

Turks press forward into Austria, from which they are driven out, and make some important conquests in other parts, but their power is on the decline.

England becomes one of the important states of Europe and besides being engaged in civil and foreign wars, is planting colonies in America and India.

Union of the crowns of England and Scotland takes place in 1603.

France under Louis 14 now becomes the leading power in Europe and makes great accessions of territory.

Italy has fallen to a low condition. Savoy is slowly gaining in power, and Venice is engaged in wars with the Turks.

Spain sinks to an inferior position.

Portugal is freed from the Spanish yoke in 1640 but is of little account at this time.

America. Colonization is rapidly going on, the English and Dutch taking the lead in planting new settlements. The Spaniards hold their first conquests but with a rapid decline of power. The French lay claim to the great territory beyond the New England possessions and are engaged in frequent wars with the English in the new as in the old world.

POLITICAL HISTORIES

Dyer, Thomas Henry. Modern Europe. 5v. O. Lond. 1877.
Bell £2 12s. 6d. A. L. A. Bkl. Mil.

See v. 3. 1573-1721

Dry and unattractive but a useful book of reference.—Son. p. 400

The best we have on the subject.—Adams p. 233

Raumer, Friedrich Ludwig Georg von. History of the 16th and 17th centuries . . . tr. fr. the German 2v. D. Lond. 1835. Murray
21s. N. Y. c

See 1: 45-89, 216-38, 398-474; 2: 1-51, 190-442

To those already somewhat familiar with the centuries of which these volumes treat, the presentation of Von Raumer is of much interest and value . . . The papers examined are original documents . . . and they abound in curious comments on the events that happened under the writer's observation.—Adams p. 216

• Wakeman, Henry Offley. Europe 1598 1715. 392 p. maps, D.
N. Y. 1894. Macmillan $1.40 (Periods of European history) N. Y. c

Directs special attention to the growth of the monarchical power of France
. . . the effect of the whole is good and the workmanship scholarly.—Eng. Hist.
review, Jan. 1895, 10 188

More popular than the works of Dyer or Raumer.

Myers, Philip Van Ness. Outlines of mediæval and modern history, a text-book . . . 740 p. maps, D. Bost. 1886. Ginn $1.65.
N. Y. c

See p. 469-545

Concise, accurate and yet readable.

Hausser, Ludwig. Period of the reformation 1517 to 1648 ed. by Wilhelm Oncken, tr. by Mrs G. Sturge . . . New ed. 702p. O
N. Y. 1873. Amer. tract soc. N. Y. c

See p. 402-559

The most distinguishing merit . . . is the great skill with which it shows the intimate and often subtle relations of political and religious affairs . . . notably conspicuous in the treatment of the 30 years' war. Häusser was a conservative protestant.—Adams p. 213

Praet, Jules van. Essays on the political history of the 15th, 16th and 17th centuries, ed. by Sir Edmund Head. 464p. O. Lond.
1868. Bentley 16s. N. Y. c

See p. 286-464

It is in the work of critical historical portraiture that these essays excel.—
Adams p. 215

Histories of civilization

Guizot, Francois Pierre Guillaume. History of civilization. 3v.
D. Lond. 1889-90. Bell 3s. 6d. each (Bohn's lib.) A. L. A. N. Y. e
See 1 : 230-68

It gives us the broadest generalizations . . . but it will be found to embody many wise conclusions that rest on the solid basis of most thorough research. Perhaps no other historical book is capable of stirring more earnest and fruitful thought.—Adams p. 46

Ducoudray, Gustave. History of modern civilization; a handbook based upon . . . Ducoudray's Histoire sommaire . . . adapted by J. Verschoye. 587p. il. O. N. Y. 1891. Appleton $2.25. N. Y. e
See p. 247-301

An admirable and very compact summary, well edited.—Son. p. 386

SOCIAL LIFE

Lexington, Robert Sutton, 2d baron. (The) Lexington papers; or, Some account of the courts of London and Vienna at the conclusion of the 17th century . . . ed. with notes by the Hon. H. M. Sutton. 360 p. O. Lond. 1851. Murray 14s. N. Y. e Extracts from the Lexington correspondence.

Malcolm, James Peller. Miscellaneous anecdotes illustrative of the manners and history of Europe during the reigns of Charles II, James II, William III and Queen Anne. 434 p. pl. O. Lond. 1811. Longmans o. p. N. Y. e Short, gossip sketches.

Religious histories

Ranke, Leopold von. History of the Popes, their church and state and especially of their conflicts with protestantism in the 16th and 17th centuries, tr. by E. Foster. 3v. por. D. Lond. 1889-91. Bell 3s. 6d. each (Bohn's lib.) A. L. A. N. Y. e
See 2 : bk 7—3 : bk 8

Prof. Ranke is a protestant, but he carries forward all his work with such impartiality as to command the respect of his religious opponents. He penetrates to the very bottom of affairs and brings the causes and springs of action into the light.—Adams p. 215

General histories

*Gindely, Anton. History of the 30 years' war tr. by Andrew Teu
Brook. 2v. il. por. maps, O. N. Y. 1892 Putnam $3.50. N. Y. e
The best lengthy account of the war, based on original documents. Son. p. 443
The master spirits of the great contest have been vividly portrayed . . . his sympathies all through are with the German leaders.—Acad., Ap. 1885, 27: 251

Gardiner, Samuel Rawson. Thirty years' war 1618-48. 237p. 1
map, S. N. Y. 1894. Scribner $1 (Epochs of mod. hist.) N. Y. e
Best single volume on the subject.—Andrews p. 302
The chief merit of the book is in the prominence it gives to the great turning-points of the war. Specially noteworthy is the account of the effects and results of the war.—Adams p. 217

Ward, Adolphus William. (The) counter-reformation. 203 p. D.
Lond. 1889 Longmans 2s. 6d. (Epochs of church history) N. Y. e
See p. 152-96
Summary of the religious causes and events of the 30 years' war. — Eng. hist.
review, July 1889, 5: 600

Trench, Richard Chenevix, abp. Gustavus Adolphus: Social aspects of the 30 years' war; 2 lectures. 114 p. D. Lond. 1886. Paul 4s.
The literary presentation is of its rapid and limited kind almost perfect. The Gustavus Adolphus is a mere sketch, bold in outline, high in light and strong in shadow, but still without the advantage of a full background. Social aspect helps to supply the deficiencies of the first lecture — Ath., July 1885, p. 141

Schiller, Friedrich von. History of the 30 years' war, tr. by A. J. W.
Morrison. por D. Lond. 1889. Bell 3s. 6d. (Bohn's lib.)
A. L. A. Lemck. N. Y. e
Thoroughly readable but having been written at a time when government archives were not accessible, of no scientific value.—Son. p. 443

Motley, John Lothrop. Life and death of John of Barneveld with a view of the primary causes and movements of the 30 years' war. 2v.
por. pl. O. N. Y. 1874. Harper $4. N. Y. e
In the part of his work which relates to the religious struggle which ended with the execution of Barneveld, we have Mr Motley at his best. — Acad., S. R.
Gardiner. Feb. 1874, 5: 192

Gustavus Adolphus and Wallenstein

Stevens, John L. History of Gustavus Adolphus. 427 p. 1 por. O. Lond. 1885. Bentley 18s. N. Y. e

An attractive volume which will amply repay a careful perusal. Though he is not free from the biographer's fault of making too much of his chosen hero, he has thrown fresh light on Gustavus' exploits. — Acad., Ap. 1885, 27: 251

* Fletcher, Charles Robert Leslie. Gustavus Adolphus and the struggle of protestantism for existence. 316 p. il. por. pl. maps, D. N. Y. 1890. Putnam $1.50 (Heroes of the nations) N. Y. e

His narrative is generally clear and concise, always painstaking and perfectly accurate. Although his protestant sympathies are unmistakable he is never consciously unfair to the other side and does due justice to all of Gustavus' opponents, excepting perhaps the greatest of them, Wallenstein. — Ath., 24 Jan. 1891, p. 117

Mitchell, Gen. John. Life of Wallenstein. Ed. 2. 412p. 1 por. D. Lond. 1840. Fraser o. p. N. Y. e

The main object of Colonel Mitchell is to plead that Wallenstein was not only most treacherously murdered, for that is admitted, but that the treason of which he was accused had no existence. But the Wallenstein of German literature and of popular opinion must always be a mystic astrologer, ready to sell his army and his cause to the enemy. — Fraser's mag., Ap. 1838, 17: 484

Illustrative biography

Cust, Sir Edward. Lives of the warriors of the 30 years' war. 2v. D. Lond. 1865. Murray 16s. (Lives of the warriors of the 17th century) B. A. Hist. r. r.

Useful for the short sketches of Tilly, Pappenheim, Bernard of Weimar and the less prominent generals.

Markham, Clements Robert. (The) fighting Veres—lives of Sir Francis Vere and of Sir Horace Vere. 508 p. por. maps, O. Bost. 1888. Houghton $4. N. Y. e

See 'War in the Palatinate,' p. 394-420

It is a scholarly piece of work, embodying the result of much original research. . . Mr Markham's well-known predilections for geography are strongly marked throughout. — Ath., Ap. 1888, p. 464

Peace of Westphalia

* Bryce, James. Holy Roman empire. D. N. Y. 1892. Macmillan $1. A. L. A. N. Y. e

See ch. 19 which gives the religious and political outcomes of the peace.

See v. 3

Menzel is a protestant, a man of strong feelings, an earnest patriot and above all, a man of ideas . . . The author's style . . . is epigrammatic and eminently readable.—Adams p. 268

The best large work in English.—Allen p. 97

- Lewis, Charleton Thomas. History of Germany from the earliest times, founded on David Müller's History of the German people. 799 p. il. 1 por. maps, D. N. Y. 1891. Harper $1.50 (Student's ser.) N. Y. e

See p. 399-487

The best brief history of Germany . . . Each of the periods is subdivided in such a way as to unite happily a narration of events with an account of civilization and progress.—Adams p. 267

- Malleson, George Bruce. Battlefields of Germany from the outbreak of the 30 years' war to the battle of Blenheim (1618-1704). 360 p. pl. maps, O. Lond. 1884. Allen 16s. Cin. Det. Mil.

In his preface he says: 'To the political history of the 30 years' war I have referred as little as possible . . . My object has been rather to describe the battles and the events which led to those battles.' An instructive and readable history. Ath., Aug. 1884, p. 168

- Zimmern, Helen. Hansa towns. 389 p. il. pl. D. N. Y. 1891. Putnam $1.50 (Story of the nations) N. Y. e

See p. 354-75

The story of the rise, the splendor and the gradual decay of the famous league towns called Hansa is told with a charm which makes an attractive subject more attractive.—Critic, Nov. 1869, 15: 213

Social history

Life of Elizabeth, one of the many children of Frederic of Bohemia and Elizabeth, daughter of James I.

The writer over praises the princess in the early part of her life and treats her too sharply when in its decline, she came to favor Labadists and quakers. At 20 she listened with pleasure to the studied and extravagant flattery of the calm, courtly, intellectual Descartes; when between 50 and 60 she was excited to rapture by the hearty appeals of such men as Labadie and Penn.—Ath., 24 Dec. 1853, p. 1543

The Great Elector and the rise of Prussia

Ranke, Franz Leopold von. Memoirs of the House of Brandenburg and history of Prussia during the 17th and 18th centuries tr. fr. the German by Sir Alexander Gordon and Lady Duff Gordon. 3v. O. Lond. 1849. Murray o. p. N. Y. e

See 1: 1-140

The accounts of the Great Elector and of Frederic 1 are brief but of the highest value.—Adams p. 291

*Tuttle, Herbert. History of Prussia to the accession of Frederic the Great. 498 p. maps, D. Bost. 1892. Houghton $2.25. N. Y. e
See p. 110-302

It is the entire life of the state that is depicted. Diplomacy and war do not so fill the field of view as to obscure the methods of internal administration or the social and economic development of the people.—Nation, Jan. 1891, 52: 987

Carlyle, Thomas. History of Frederick the Great. 10 v. O. Lond. 1872. Chapman £4 10s. A. L. A. N. Y. e

Remarkably vigorous and spirited . . . The notices of Dutch commerce are of special value.—Acad., Feb. 1889, 35-129

Motley, John Lothrop. History of the United Netherlands from the death of William the Silent to the Twelve years' truce 1609. 4v. por. O. N. Y. 1867-88. Harper $8 N. Y. e
See 4: 1600-1609

His capital quality is the sustained interest he takes in the men and the deeds he describes.—Nation, Feb. 1868, 6: 170

With all the merits of the work . . . it must be conceded that it is too controversial in its character to be accepted as the final judgment of mankind . . . These faults will not diminish in the least the interest of the reader in its pages.
Adams p. 450

v. 1 1623-54

In the years from 1652-54 De Witt had begun to have important dealings with Cromwell, and the author throws new light upon the policy of England as well as that of Holland. His researches have been most thorough and the first vol. is written with considerable literary skill.—Adams p. 448

Markham, Clements Robert. The fighting Veres. 508 p. por. maps, O. Bost. 1888. Houghton $4. N. Y. e

Bain, Francis William. Christina, Queen of Sweden. (1626-89) por. O. Lond. 1890. Allen 7s. 6d. Det. Son.

He has ransacked all that is to be learnt on the subject and has produced a valuable and interesting historical study . . . Few more interesting women have ever occupied a European throne.—Acad., Feb. 1890, 37-94

Michell, Thomas. History of the Scottish expedition to Norway in 1612. 189 p. pl. maps, D. Lond. 1886. Nelson 3s. 6d.

Neat, well-illustrated little monograph on the most salient event in the 17th century history of Norway. The story is clearly told and its true proportions shown.—Eng. hist. review, June 1886, 1: 581

Austria

See 2: ch. 43 — 3: ch. 70

A work of real intrinsic merit . . . the author has dealt very fully with the military affairs and his accounts . . . are always clear and often graphic.—Adams p. 283

Specially valuable for the period subsequent to the peace of Westphalia (1648-1700).

* Malden, Henry Elliot. Vienna, 1682; the historical consequences of the defeat of the Turks before Vienna Sept. 12, 1683, by John Sobieski, king of Poland . . . 122 p. pl. maps, D. Lond. 1883. Paul 4s. 6d. Cin. Hist. r. r. Mil.

An animated account of the Turkish siege and the deliverance of Vienna by Sobieski.—Ath., 15 Sept. 1883, p. 336

Russia

See 1: 327-400, 2: 13-105

By far the best history of Russia accessible to the reader of English . . . has at once the merits of thoroughness and freshness, while at the same time, it is made up with so good judgment and so fine a sense of proportion that the perspective leaves nothing to be desired.—Adams p. 411

* Schuyler, Eugene. Peter the Great, emperor of Russia, a study of historical biography. 2 v. il. por. pl. maps, O. N. Y. 1884. Scribner $6. Also in Scribner's magazine, 1880-81; v. 19-22 N. Y. e
v. 1 deals with the 17th century.

It is a history of Peter, his reign, life, struggles, his reforms, wars and diplomacy.—Nation, May 1884, 38: 389

This impartial and carefully written book . . . will be found both instructive and amusing.—Acad., Feb. 1884, 25: 123

Special periods

James I and Charles I 1603-49

Gardiner, Samuel Rawson. History of England from the accession of James I to the outbreak of the civil war, 1603-1642. Ed. 3. 10 v. il. maps, D. Lond. 1894. Longmans 60s. N. Y. c ——— History of the great civil war, 1642-49. New ed. 4 v. il. maps, D. Lond. 1893. Longmans 24s. N. Y. c

For the general hist. of Eng. in the 17th century, there are two modern works which stand far above all others—Gardiner and Masson's Life of Milton, books of truly colossal erudition and written in a spirit of judicial fairness.—Fiske, Beginnings of New England p. 280

Gardiner, Samuel Rawson. First two Stuarts and the puritan revolution, 1603-1660. 222 p. maps, S. N. Y. 1893. Scribner $1 (Epochs of mod. hist.) N. Y. e

Good style, general accuracy and due proportion.—Ath., 3 June 1876, p. 757
Best brief history covering this period and also the commonwealth.

Biography

Eliot, Sir John. Forster, John. Sir John Eliot, a biography. 1590-1642. Ed. 2. 2 v. 2 por. O. Lond. 1871. Chapman 14s. N. Y. Son. e

Best book to study the beginning of the rising against the Stuarts.—Adams p. 483

Charles I. Adams, William Henry Davenport. (The) White king; or, Charles the first and the men and women, life and manners, literature and art of England in the first half of the 17th century. 2 v. O. Lond. 1889. Redway 21s. N. Y. e

It will be found by the general reader an amusing book, but it is not intended for the scholar.—Acad., Feb. 1889, 35: 129

— Disraeli, Isaac. Commentaries on the life and reign of Charles the first, new ed. revised . . . by Benjamin Disraeli. 2 v. O. Lond. 1851. Colburn 10s. o. p. N. Y. e

See 1: ch. 32; 2: ch. 9-10

High tory point of view and the most powerful plea there is on Charles' behalf.—Son. p. 416

v. 1 1649-51

Masson, David. Life of John Milton. New ed. 6 v. and index. por. fac-sim. O. Lond. 1881. Macmillan $28. N. Y. e

Narrated in connection with the political, ecclesiastical and literary history of his time.—Title

- Bayne, Peter. Chief actors in the puritan revolution. Ed. 2.
512 p. O. Lond. 1879. Clarke 12s. N. Y. c

The chapters are studies founded on the most recent researches and are admirable specimens of judicious, incisive and well-sustained criticism.—Adams p. 492.

Published originally in the Contemporary review.

- Forster, John. Statesmen of the commonwealth of England. O.
N. Y. n. d. Harper $2.25. o. p. A. L. A. N. Y. c

Constitutes a continuous narrative in the form of a biography . . . As Carlyle is Cromwell's most able defender, Forster is perhaps his most able prosecutor.—Adams p. 490

Incl. also lives of Wentworth, Pym, Hampden, Vane, Eliot and Martin. His sympathies in general are with the revolution.

- Froude, James Anthony. English in Ireland in the 18th century.
New ed. 3v. O. Lond. 1895. Longmans 10s. 6d. N. Y. c
See v 1, bk 1-bk 2-ch. 2

A vivid picture, written with great force, but 'holding a brief'.—Son. p. 435

- Milton, John. Prose works. por. D. Lond. 1895. Bell 3s. 6d.
each (Bohn's lib) N. Y. c

There is no more suggestive commentary on the spirit that generally prevailed than that afforded by the brutal ferocity of this great poet's political writings.—Adams p. 549

- Smith, Goldwin. Three English statesmen; a course of lectures on the political history of England. New ed. 271 p. D. N. Y. 1893.
Macmillan $1.50. N. Y. c
Pym, Cromwell, Pitt.

Individual biography

- Blake, Admiral. Hannay, David. Admiral Blake. 194 p. D. N. Y.
1886. Appleton 75c. (English worthies) N. Y. c

He does not unduly glorify his hero. The sea fights are made intelligible to the non-professional reader and there is also an interesting chapter on the navy of the commonwealth.—Eng hist review, Jan 1888, 3; 187

- Cromwell, Oliver. Carlyle, Thomas. Oliver Cromwell's letters and speeches. 2v. D. N. Y. n. d. Harper $2.50. A. L. A. N. Y. c
The most powerful argument in behalf of Cromwell.—Adams p. 489

See Lecture 6

- Harrison, Frederic. Oliver Cromwell. 228 p. D. Lond. 1890.
Macmillan 75c. (Twelve Eng. statesmen) A. L. A. N. Y. c

Brilliant passionate monograph on Cromwell.—Ath., 14 Dec. 1889, p. 814

Mr Harrison's little volume does not add any new facts . . . he has however arranged the old knowledge more deftly than it has ever been arranged before.—Ath., 21 June 1885, p. 89

*—Pictou, James Allanson. Oliver Cromwell, the man and his mission. 516 p. por. O. Lond. 1889. Cassell 5s. N. Y. Son. e

Mr Pictou has succeeded in drawing a life-like portrait of the liberal minded despot and has clearly brought out the ideas religious and political that influenced him.—Ath., 3 Feb. 1883, p. 147

The best biography of Cromwell.—Fiske. Beginnings of New England, p. 280

**Fox, George.* Bickley, Augustus Charles. George Fox and the early quakers. O. Lond. 1884. Hodder 7s. 6d. Son.

We think Mr Bickley's life of Fox the best biography in existence for popular reading.—Acad., May 1884, 25: 379

Osborne, Dorothy. Temple, Dorothy (Osborne). Letters from Dorothy Osborne to Sir William Temple 1652-54 ed. by E. A. Parry . . . Ed. 5. 316 p. por. D. N. Y. 1888. Dodd $1.75. N. Y. e

As a record of a few years of a young woman's life in England in the middle of the 17th century and of the contemporary social spirit, the collection has a high value and it is in itself an addition of mark to the list of English biography.—Nation, Sep. 1888, 47: 195

Vane, Sir Henry. Hosmer, James Kendall. Life of young Sir Henry Vane, governor of Mass. Bay and leader of the long parliament . . . 581 p. por. O. Bost. 1888. Houghton $4. N. Y. e

One of the most picturesque of Englishmen . . . Mr Hosmer has written an interesting book but it is not a good biography . . . about things in general with which Vane was in some way connected.—Ath., 5 Jan. 1889, p. 12

Verney. Verney, Frances Parthenope, ed. Memoirs of the Verney family during the civil war, comp. fr. the letters and il. by the por. at Claydon House . . . 2v. por. fac-sim. O. Lond. 1892. Longmans 42s. N. Y. e

For a history of social manners these volumes are simply invaluable. We gain from them clearer insight into the ways of our forefathers of the upper ranks of society than from all the histories of the past . . . The Verneys were protestants.—Ath., 11 June 1892, p. 751

Period of the restoration

Charles 2, 1660-85

* Airy, Osmund. English restoration and Louis XIV from the peace of Westphalia to the peace of Mimwegen. 292 p. 3 maps, S. N. Y. 1889. Scribner $1 (Epochs of modern hist.) N. Y. e

His descriptive powers are seldom allowed free play and yet his narrative is usually most clear and intelligible.—Ath., 5 Oct. 1889, p. 449

Social history

Adams, William Henry Davenport. (The) merry monarch; or, England under Charles II, its art, literature, and society. 2v. O. Lond. 1885. Remington 21s. N. Y. e

Popular account—taking up the musicians, dramatic authors, actors and actresses, writers, etc.

Mr Jusserand's pages form . . . a pleasant and essentially readable, if not complete or recondite essay.—Ath, 30 July, 1893, p. 140

*Sydney, William Connor. Social life in England from the restoration to the revolution 1660-90. 447 p. D. N. Y. 1892. Macmillan $2.50. N. Y. e

Graphic delineation of every day life.

A Scottish soldier and Jacobite leader, 1650-89.

Henrietta. Ady, Mrs Julia (Cartwright). Madame; a life of Henrietta, daughter of Charles I and duchess of Orleans. 406 p. por. O. Lond. 1894. Seeley 16s. N. Y. e

An interesting and well-written life of an attractive figure in the history of the 17th century.—Eng. hist. rev, Jan. 1895, 10: 173

Monk. Corbett, Julian. Monk. 221 p. por. D. N. Y. 1889. Macmillan 75c. (Eng. men of action) N. Y. e

The chief actor in the restoration of the Stuarts.

Sidney, Dorothy. Ady, Mrs Julia (Cartwright). Sacharissa; some account of Dorothy Sidney, Countess of Sunderland, her family and friends. (1617-84) O. Lond. 1892. Seeley 12s. 6d. Det.

A pure and gracious figure brought out in strong relief against the dark background with which we are familiar . . . There was scarcely a man or woman connected with her who was not distinguished. The portraits of all these . . . Mrs Ady has fairly and faithfully drawn.—Ath., 11 Mar. 1893, p. 304

Contemporary authorities

- *Pepys, Samuel. Diary; completely transcribed by the late Rev. Mynors Bright from the shorthand ms. in the Pepysian library with Lord Baybrooks' notes; ed. with additions by H. B. Wheatley. v. 1-5. por. fac-sim. pl. D. Lond. 1893-95. Bell 10s. 6d. each (Bohn's hist. lib.) N. Y. e

The diary covers the interesting period from 1659 to 1669 and throws a flood of light on the character of that singular decade. It deals with social far more than political affairs; but the student of politics will here find not only much that will entertain but also something that will instruct.—Adams p. 495

Covers the period 1659-69.

Covers the long period from 1641 to 1705. The author was a more important personage than his friend Pepys, yet his worth is of somewhat less interest. He traveled extensively in Europe . . . Those objects which interested Evelyn were the very objects Pepys cared least about. In this way the works supplement each other and give us the most perfect view we have of manners and customs in England during the latter part of the 17th century.—Adams p. 495

James 2. Revolution, 1688. William and Mary

The subject is full of interest, and the life of a great general by one who writes with authority on military affairs naturally commands attention. . . . The hist. of . . . campaigns is treated with great minuteness and care but at the same time with vigor and spirit. —Eng. hist. rev., Jan. 1895, 10, 174

• Mary, Queen of England. Doebner, Richard P., ed. Memoirs of Mary, Queen of England, 1689-93 with letters, etc. O. Lond. 1886. Nutt 3s. Clev.

Their importance consists . . . not in new historical information, but the contrasts which they draw between the pure dignity of Mary and the times of moral and political corruption in which she led a well-nigh blameless life.—Eng. hist. rev., Jan. 1887, 2, 178

• William 3. Traill, Henry Duff. William the third. 204 p. D. Lond. 1888. Macmillan 2s. 6d. (Twelve Eng. statesmen) N. Y. e

The pages of Mr Traill's work which are of the nature of generalization are the best.—Ath., 16 June 1888, p. 755

Best popular history of France.—Adams p. 326

Guizot's account of this reign (Louis 14) is a somewhat too favorable view though in the main it is an admirable picture of one side of the question.—Adams p. 398

*Duruy, Victor. History of France. 706 p. maps, D. N. Y. 1889. Crowell $2. N. Y. e

See p. 377-479

Readable, entertaining and instructive.—Adams p. 324

A good outline of history of this country.

Stephen, Sir James. Lectures on the history of France. 710 p. O. N. Y. 1875. Harper $3. N. Y. e

Chiefly on the institutions of France; forms an admirable commentary on French history.—Son. p. 438

University of the State of New York

Object. The object of the University as defined by law is to encourage and promote education in advance of the common elementary branches. Its field includes not only the work of academies, colleges, universities, professional and technical schools, but also educational work connected with libraries, museums, university extension courses and similar agencies.

The University is a supervisory and administrative, not a teaching institution. It is a state department and at the same time a federation of more than 800 institutions of higher and secondary education.

Government. The University is governed and all its corporate powers exercised by 19 elective regents and by the governor, lieutenant-governor, secretary of state and superintendent of public instruction who are ex officio regents. Regents are elected in the same manner as United States senators; they are unsalaried and are the only public officers in New York chosen for life.

The elective officers are a chancellor and a vice-chancellor, who serve without salary, and a secretary. The secretary is the executive and financial officer, is under official bonds for $10,000, is responsible for the safe keeping and proper use of the University seal and of the books, records and other property in charge of the regents, and for the proper administration and discipline of its various offices and departments.

Powers and duties. Besides many other important powers and duties, the regents have power to incorporate, and to alter or revoke the charters of universities, colleges, academies, libraries, museums, or other educational institutions; to distribute to them funds granted by the state for their use; to inspect their workings and require annual reports under oath of their presiding officers, to establish examinations as to attainments in learning and confer on successful candidates suitable certificates, diplomas and degrees, and to confer honorary degrees.

They apportion annually an academic fund of about $250,000, part for buying books and apparatus for academies and high schools raising an equal amount for the same purpose, $100 to each nonsectarian secondary school in good standing and the remainder on the basis of attendance and the results of instruction as shown by satisfactory completion of prescribed courses for which the regents examinations afford the official test. The regents also expend annually $25,000 for the benefit of free public libraries.

Regents meetings. The annual meeting is held the third Thursday in December, and other meetings are held as often as business requires. An executive committee of nine regents is elected at the annual meeting to act for the board in the intervals between its meetings, except that it can not grant, alter, suspend or revoke charters or grant honorary degrees.

Convocation. The University convocation of the regents and the officers of institutions in the University, for consideration of subjects of mutual interest, has been held annually since 1863 in the senate chamber in Albany. It meets Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday after the fourth Friday in June.

Though primarily a New York meeting, nearly all questions discussed are of equal interest outside the state. Its reputation as the most important higher educational meeting of the country has in the past few years drawn to it many eminent educators not residents of New York, who are most cordially welcomed and share fully in all discussions. It elects each year a council of five to represent it in intervals between meetings. Its proceedings, issued annually, are of great value in all educational libraries.

Departments

1 Administrative (Regents office) — including incorporation, supervision, inspection, reports, legislation, finances and all other work not assigned to another department.

Duplicate division. This is a state clearing house, to which any institution in the University may send books or apparatus which it no longer requires, and select from it in return an equal value suited to its locality and needs.

2 Examination—including preacademic, law, medical, dental and veterinary student, academic, higher, law, medical, dental, veterinary, library, extension and any other examinations conducted by the regents, and also credentials or degrees conferred on examination.

The examinations are conducted as the best lever for securing better work from teachers and more systematic and continuous study from students, and as the best means of detecting and eliminating inefficient teachers or methods. They cover 140 subjects and required last year 913,500 question papers (exclusive of bound volumes), and are held the week ending the last Friday in January and March and the third Friday in June, in the 586 academies and high schools in the University and also at various central points where there are 10 or more candidates.

3 Extension—including summer, vacation, evening and correspondence schools and other forms of extension teaching, lecture courses, study clubs, reading circles and other agencies for the promotion and wider extension of opportunities and facilities for education, specially for those unable to attend the usual teaching institutions.

Public libraries division. To promote the general library interests of the state, which through it appropriates and expends $25,000 a year for the benefit of free public libraries. Under its charge are the traveling libraries for lending to local libraries or to communities not yet having permanent libraries.

The most important factor of the extension movement is provision of the best reading for all citizens by means of traveling, home and capital libraries and annotated lists through the public library division.

4 State library—including general, law, medical, and education libraries, library school, bibliographic publications, lending books to students and similar library interests.

Library school. The law authorizes the state library to give instruction and assistance in organizing and administering libraries. Students receive from the state library staff, in return for services rendered to the library during their two years' course, careful training in library economy, bibliography, cataloguing, classification and other duties of professional librarianship.

5 State museum—including all scientific specimens and collections, works of art, objects of historic interest and similar property appropriate to a general museum, if owned by the state and not placed in other custody by a specific law, also the research department carried on by the state geologist and paleontologist, botanist and entomologist, and all similar scientific interests of the University.

SELECTION OF

REFERENCE BOOKS

FOR USE OF CATALOGUERS IN FINDING FULL NAMES.

Books marked with a * are used in the course in elementary cataloguing in the New York state library school; those not so starred are used in the course in advanced cataloguing. As the list is for the use of the Library school only books in the New York State Library are included.

A specially valuable article on Helps for cataloguers in finding full names, by C. H. Hull may be found in the Library journal for 1889, v. 14, p. 7-20.

After the list of most used general cyclopedias and dictionaries, bibliographies, biographies and other books have been grouped together for convenience under countries and special subjects. The class numbers in the margin show the proper classification of each.

Departments

1 Administrative (Regents office)—including incorporation, supervision, inspection, reports, legislation, finances and all other work not assigned to another department.

Duplicate division. This is a state clearing house, to which any institution in the University may send books or apparatus which it no longer requires, and select from it in return an equal value suited to its locality and needs.

2 Examination—including preacademic, law, medical, dental and veterinary student, academic, lawyer, law, medical, dental, veterinary, library, extension and any other examinations conducted by the regents, and also credentials or degrees conferred on examination.

The examinations are conducted as the best lever for securing better work from teachers and more systematic and continuous study from students, and as the best means of detecting and eliminating inefficient teachers or methods. They cover 140 subjects and required last year 1,044,950 question papers (exclusive of bound volumes), and are held the week ending the last Friday in January and March and the third Friday in June, in the 611 academies and high schools in the University and also at various central points where there are 10 or more candidates.

3 Extension—including summer, vacation, evening and correspondence schools and other forms of extension teaching, lecture courses, study clubs, reading circles and other agencies for the promotion and wider extension of opportunities and facilities for education, especially for those unable to attend the usual teaching institutions.

Public library administration. To promote the general library interests of the state, which through it appropriates and expends $25,000 a year for the benefit of free public libraries. Under its charge are the traveling libraries for lending to local libraries or to communities not yet having permanent libraries.

The most important factor of the extension movement is provision of the best reading for all citizens by means of traveling home and capitol libraries and annotated lists through the public libraries division.

4 State library—including general, law, medical, and education libraries, library school, bibliography, publications, lending stock to students and general library interests.

Library school. The law authorizes the state library to give instruction and assistance in organizing and administering libraries. Students receive 16 in the state library staff, in return for services rendered to the library during their two years' course, careful training in library economy, bibliography, cataloging, classification and other duties of professional librarianship.

5 State museum—including all scientific specimens and collections, works of art, objects of historic interest and similar property appropriate to a general museum, if owned by the state and not placed in other custody by a special law, and the research department carried on by the state geologist and paleontologist, botanist and entomologist, and all similar scientific interests of the University.

ABBREVIATIONS

Books marked e have been personally examined ; while e indicates that the edition examined is not the same as the one entered in the list.

References to works in more than one volume are made in the same form as in Poole's Index to periodical literature, volume and page numbers being separated by a colon ; e. g. 3:145 means vol. 3, page 145.

Initials following the main entry refer to the libraries in which the book was consulted. Authority is cited for quoted notes ; those unsigned are by the compiler. The list following contains the principal abbreviations used. Other abbreviations are self explanatory.

- A. L. A. U. S.— Education, Bureau of, Catalog of the A. L. A. library

GENERAL HISTORY

Adams, Francis Ottiwell. History of Japan. 2v. il. O. Lond.
1874. King 21s. each. B. P. e

Mr Adams has executed his task as far as it has gone with great care ; the only fear is, that to those not previously interested in Japan or the far east there may be too much of detail and too many extracts from blue books and dispatches which are not attractive to the general reader.—Academy, May 1874, 5:593

The information it contains on most points is full and accurate and is put together in a clear and interesting shape.—Athenaeum, May 1874, 63:623

Griffis, William Elliot. The Mikado's empire; history of Japan from 660 B. C. to 1872 A. D. and personal experiences, observations and studies in Japan, 1870-74; new ed. with supplementary chapters on Japan in 1883, 1886 and 1890. 662 p. il. O. N. Y. 1895. Harper $4. N. Y. c

This work brings the history of Japan down to more recent times than any other yet published.

A bird's eye view of the history of Japan . . . together with several chapters bearing on the outlying possessions of the empire or directly connected with its history.— Preface p. 4

Murray, David. Story of Japan. 431p. il. D. N. Y. 1894. Putnam $1.50 (Story of the nations) N. Y. c

It can not of course, take the place of larger and more detailed treatises, like those of Griffis, Adams, Rein and others; but it fills a long felt want of an interesting and accurate connected history of Japan, of moderate size and price... The object of the book is 'to trace the story of Japan from its beginnings to the establishment of constitutional government' and that story is well told.—Dial, Mar. 1894, 16: 181

GOVERNMENT AND CONSTITUTION

Dickson, Walter. Japan; a sketch of the history, government and officers of the empire. 489 p. il. O. Edin. 1869. Blackwood 15s.

He has supplied much that was wanting to our knowledge of Japan and has given us a mass of really trustworthy information which is to be found nowhere else.—Saturday review

Describes the character and workings of the government with an account of the imperial family and court.

Ito, Hirobumi. Commentaries on the constitution of the empire of Japan; tr. by Miyoji Ito. Tokio 1889. S.

Count Ito is one of the ablest living statesmen of Japan . . . he exhibits in his book the conservatism of the old statesman and the liberalism of the new.—Nation, Mar. 1890, 50:263

Japan, p. 15-80; Evolution of modern Japan, p. 15-59; Japan and the powers, p. 60-79.

Account of progress in Japan from 1887-94, political and commercial.

Griffis, William Elliot. Townsend Harris, first American envoy in Japan. 351p. por. O. Bost. 1895. Houghton $2. N. Y. e

In the making of that new kind of Asiatic state and man that have surprised Europe, Townsend Harris was a potency acknowledged by none more than the Japanese themselves.—Preface p. 6

His diary forms an interesting and valuable document, and the editor has put it in excellent shape for the use of general readers.—Dial, Nov. 1895, 19:256

Nitobe, Inazo. Intercourse between the United States and Japan. 198 p. O. Balt. 1891. Johns Hopkins $1.25 (Johns Hopkins university studies, extra v. 8) N. Y. e

It is certainly the best treatise on its special theme, and besides being a charming piece of literary art, conveys a large amount of information and critical judgment from the Japanese side for which Americans may be grateful. The statements are in general thoroughly accurate and the temper that of a judge.—Nation, Mar. 1891, 52:225

Norman, Henry. People and politics in the far East. 608 p. il. O. N. Y. 1895. Scribner $4. N. Y. e

Japan, p. 375-404.

His admiration for Japan borders almost on the sentimental . . . Mr Norman justifies Japan in her course in Corea, for he shows that Japan, besides bringing the peninsula state into the circle of civilized nations is the creator of her trade and incipient industries.—Nation, Ap. 1895, 60 : 308

RELIGION

Griffis, William Elliott. Religions of Japan; from the dawn of history to the era of Meiji. 457 p. D. N. Y. 1895. Scribner $2. N. Y. e

The Japanese looks to the Shinto for his theology (save the mark!), to Confucius for his moral instruction, and to Buddha for his salvation. In his introduction Dr Griffis makes clear the several functions fulfilled by these religions, and traces their historical development and modification. . . It may be safely said that it is the best general account of the religions of Japan that has appeared in the English language.—Critic, Mar. 1895, 23:236

Lowell, Percival. Occult Japan; or, The way of the gods, an esoteric study of Japanese personality and possession. 379 p. il. D. Bost. 1895. Houghton $1.75. N. Y. e

The idea enforced and illustrated, is that of the utter impersonality of the Japanese mind.—Critic, Mar. 1895, 23:216

This work describes a distinct find by its brilliant author during a recent sojourn in Japan, namely, of an elaborate system of possession trance practised by one of the sects of Shinto, the ethnic faith of Japan. . . The treatise stands a model of keen observation, deep insight, and scientific analysis, while over all this rigidly scientific material and method is thrown the charm of style that implies the blending of scientist and poet.—Nation, Jan. 1895, 60: 98

DESCRIPTION

Alcock, Sir Rutherford. Capital of the Tycoon. 2v. O. Lond. 1853. Longmans 42s. B. P. S.

Covering only the brief space of three years (1859-62), this book is still delightful and profitable reading . . . combines the light touch of the skilled diplomat and man of the world with the careful research of the genuine student.—Chamberlain, B. H. Things Japanese. 1890. p. 50

Arnold, Sir Edwin. Japonica. il. O. N. Y. 1891. Scribner $3. S. e

It is hard to decide between penman and draftsman in praising this dainty work of art. . . Of the author we know, and know favorably, as an interpreter of Japanese esthetics, but fascinating as are his word pictures, we must award equal praise to the artist who has brought Japan before our eyes, by his wonderfully accurate and deeply sympathetic drawings, with only ink and no colors, such as flush in the sky and ocean and all surfaces in Japan, or deepen in nook or shadow. Mr Robert Blum has achieved wonders.—Critic, Dec. 1891, 19:314

Arnold, Sir Edwin. Seas and lands. il. O. Lond. 1891. Longmans 21s. A. L. A. S.

Story of a year in Japan occupies from chapter 12 to the end of the book . . . Every page seems to sparkle with delight at the cheery, gay little people, at their dainty ways and picturesque home life.—Academy, Nov. 1891, 40:425

— Wandering words. 372 p. il. O. Lond. 1894. Longmans 18s. N. Y. e

Japan p. 121-58, 181-207.

Articles on love and marriage in Japan, Japanese wrestlers and some Japanese pictures; with picture by Ben Boothby.

Bacon, Alice Mabel. Japanese girls and women. Ed. 4. 333 p. D. Bost. 1892. Houghton $1.25. N. Y. e

New edition. Bost. 1897. Houghton 75c. (Riverside lib. for young people)

A more charming life-like picture of a hitherto undescribed portion of the world it would be difficult to find.—Nation, June 1891, 52:464

— Japanese interior. 267 p. D. Bost. 1893. Houghton $1.25. N. Y. e

She writes with a knowledge of the background of history and is delightfully accurate.—Critic, Dec. 1893, 23:406

The author taught English in a school for girls under the management of the imperial household and in this way had unusual opportunities for observing the manners and customs of the higher classes.

Bishop, Mrs Isabella L. (Bird). Unbeaten tracks in Japan. Ed. 3. 2 v. il. D. N. Y. 1881. Putnam $5. N. Y. S. e

This remains to our thinking the best English book of Japanese travel. The account of the Ainos in the second volume is specially interesting.—Chamberlain, B. H. Things Japanese. 1890. p. 51

Bramhall, Mae St John. The wee ones of Japan. 137 p. il. S. N. Y. 1894. Harper $1. N. Y. S. e

A coulour-de-rose description of the Japanese child from babyhood to its school days. Its quaint dress, its quaint ways, its play methods and study methods and the queer Japanese customs which surround it, are charmingly pictured by both pen and pencil.—Annual American catalogue. 1894. p. 24

A Japanese encyclopedia in one volume . . . the information authoritative . . . the most recent available and what makes it more valuable still is that most articles have an appendix containing a list of books to be consulted by those who wish to make special studies.—Nation, May 1893, 56:389

Curtis, William Eleroy. The Yankees of the East. 2 v. il. S. N. Y. 1896. Stone $4. N. Y. e

Contains much that is interesting about the commerce, trade, agriculture and general business conditions of Japan. It should not, however, be taken as final authority.

Finck, Henry T. Lotos-time in Japan. 337 p. il. O. N. Y. 1895. Scribner $1.75. N. Y. e

Describes a recent tour in Japan from southern Kito to the island of Yezo, the abode of the convicts and aboriginal Ainos. The daily life of the people is told in a bright, interesting way. The chapter on the charms of the women is specially fine. There are also interesting comparisons of Japanese and American civilization.

Griffis, William Elliot. Japan in history, folk-lore and art. 230 p. S. Bost. 1892. Houghton 75c. (Riverside lib. for young people) N. Y. S. e

A small volume treating of the stories and history of the myths and the delicate arts of Japan. Japan is more than chrysanthemum-land or the land of odd jars and fanciful pottery and strange perfumes; it is the land of a people acute, delicate-witted, delicate-mannered, intelligent, a people of artists and inventors, of poets and ladies . . . The fates and fortunes of Japan are traced by Dr Griffis . . . with graphic simplicity.—Critic, Dec. 1892, 21 : 312

Hearn, Lafcadio. Gleanings in Buddha-fields. 296 p. D. Bost. 1897. Houghton $1.25. e

What this most charming of writers on far eastern subjects has seen all may see, but only those can understand who are endowed with a like faculty of perception of unobtrusive beauty and a like power, it must be added, of patient prolonged study of common appearances and everyday events.—Athenum, Nov. 1894, 104:634

— Glimpses of unfamiliar Japan. 2 v. il. O. Bost. 1894. Houghton $4. N. Y. e

— Kokoro; hints and echoes of Japanese inner life. 388 p. D. Bost. 1896. Houghton $1.25. N. Y. e

Observations upon Japanese life . . . being genre sketches and folk-lore traditions retouched, and . . . comparative studies of various fundamental traits of Japanese and European philosophy.—Nation, July 1896, 63:35

— 'Out of the East'; reveries and studies in New Japan. 341 p. D. Bost. 1895. Houghton $1.25. N. Y. e

Largely devoted to philosophic comment on the civilization and social destiny of the island people who are now taking so prominent a place in the affairs of the orient.—Review of reviews, May 1895, 11:602

The chapter entitled 'Of the eternal feminine' gives a good idea of the wonderful nature of the Japanese.

House, Edward Howard. Japanese episodes. sq. O. Bost. 1881.
Osgood $1.

Even those who have been offended with his violence as a looker-on in trans-Pacific politics will be charmed with his lively fancy, playful humor and kaleidoscopic vocabulary.—Nation, Nov. 1891, 33:360

Knapp, Arthur May. Feudal and modern Japan. 2v. il. T.
Bost. 1897. Knight $3. N. Y. e

A careful study of the Japanese, with special regard to the forces which have influenced the national development. Contains a bibliography.

La Farge, John. An artist's letters from Japan. 293 p. il. O.
N. Y. 1897. Century $4. N. Y. e

Series of letters with the true artistic feeling, describing the manners and customs of the people, with illustrations by the writer. The greater part published at intervals in the Century magazine, 1890-91, 1893.

Lowell, Percival. Noto; an unexplored corner of Japan. 261 p. D.
Bost. 1891. Houghton $1.25. N. Y. e

The author describes a journey of a few days in one of the least interesting parts of that traveler's paradise, Japan, and contrives to make the most ordinary incidents delightful.—Athenaeum, July 1891, 98:37

— The soul of the far East. 226 p. D. Bost. 1890. Houghton
$1.25. N. Y. e

Brilliant array of metaphysical epigrams to prove that the Japanese have no soul or at least no individuality.—Chamberlain, B. H. Things Japanese. 1890. p. 51

Norman, Henry. Real Japan; studies of contemporary Japanese manners, morals, administration and politics. New ed. 364 p. O.
N. Y. 1893. Scribner $1.50.

First American edition N. Y. 1892, Scribner o. p.; 4th English edition Lond. 1894, Unwin 3s. 6d.

Mixing description with criticism, Mr Norman gives us studies of Japanese manners, morals and politics. . . He discusses Japanese politics vigorously and clearly, and closes with a most interesting chapter on the future of the little empire.—Critic, Mar. 1892, 20:139

Parsons, Alfred. Notes in Japan. 226 p. il. O. N. Y. 1896.
Harper $3. N. Y. e

Tamura, Naomi. A Japanese bride. 92 p. il. T. N. Y. 1893.
Harper 50c. (Harper's black and white series) S.

It is probably the first revelation of the social life of Japan made by a native, frankly and without hesitation or fear. . . He does not spare criticism of the government, which ordains and maintains the social laws . . . He is a genuine realist and gives the facts as they are without regard to mere sentiment . . . What Prof. Morse's book is for the outside, this monograph of Mr Tamura's is for the inside, of Japanese homes.—Nation, Ap. 1893, 56:299

STORIES ABOUT JAPAN

Arnold, Sir Edwin. Adzuma; or the Japanese wife; a play in 4 acts. 170 p. D. N. Y. 1893. Scribner $1.50.

Well worth reading as an interesting embodiment of one of those traditions of martyrdom of faithful love that appeals to all nations and times. — Literary world, Feb. 1893, 24:53

House, Edward Howard. Yone Santo; a child of Japan. 285 p.
D. N. Y. 1888. Belford $1 (Household library)

A really powerful novel of Japanese life. . . He has striven to depict, and nobly has he succeeded, a 'long-suffering, white-souled, little pagan saint' and his study of Japanese life from the inside point of view is the best yet made in fiction.— Critic, Feb. 1889, 14:50

Long, John Luther. Miss Cherry-Blossom of Tôkyô. 364 p. D.
Phil. 1895. Lippincott $1.25. e

Mr John Luther Long gives us a capital love-story, taking us into fresh fields and pastures new.— Literary world, Ap. 1895, 26:105

Maclay, Arthur C. Milto Yashiki; a tale of old Japan. 456 p. D.
N. Y. 1890. Putnam $1.50.

A strong story of the old feudal days of Japan.— Critic, Nov. 1889, 15:233

Wertheimer, Louis. Muramasa blade; a story of feudalism in old Japan. il. O. Bost. 1886. Ticknor $3.

He has endeavored to portray accurately life in Japan as it was before the establishment of the new régime. Muramasa was the Japanese sword maker of the 14th century.— Literary world, Oct. 1886, 17:376

LITERATURE

Bramhall, Mae St John. Japanese jingles. Ed. 2. 62 p. il. sq. S.
Tokyo 1893. Hosegawa. N. Y. e

Printed on crêpe paper with colored illustrations.

Chamberlain, Basil Hall. Classical poetry of the Japanese. O.
Lond. 1880. Trubner 7s. 6d. S. & W.

Griffis, William Elliot. Japanese fairy world; stories from the wonder-lore of Japan. 304 p. il. sq. S. Schenectady 1880.
Barhyte $1.50. N. Y. e

The stories are translations of originals well known in Japan. . . The little book will be in a measure an interpreter of the decorative and legendary art of the country.— Literary world, Sep. 1880, 11:330

McClatchie, T. R. H. Japanese plays. New ed. O. Lond. 1890.
Allen 5s. B. P.

Diversified with drawings and engravings by Japanese artists.

Mitford, Algernon B. Tales of old Japan. 2v. O. Lond. 1871.
Macmillan $2.50.

Macmillan issued an edition in 1890 at $1.25.

Love, revenge, 'the happy dispatch,' adventure by land and sea, quaint fairy tales, Buddhist sermons quaint still — in a word, the whole picturesque life of old Japan — these are the things Mr Mitford gives us, and he gives them in a style that renders them doubly attractive.—Chamberlain, B. H. Things Japanese. 1890. p. 51

Rinder, Frank. Old world Japan ; legends of the lands of the gods retold. 195 p. il. O. N. Y. 1896. Macmillan $2. N. Y. e Graceful stories founded on legends of early times.

Riordan, Roger, & Takayanagi, Tozo. Sunrise stories ; a glance at the literature of Japan. 281 p. il. D. N. Y. 1896. Scribner $1.50. N. Y. e

An attempt well carried out . . . to re-tell Japan's ancient and medieval myths, legends, poetry and novels . . . also to show their environment and the particular quality of soil at given times of fertilization and culture, whence they flowered.—Literary world, Ap. 1896, 27:115

Balzani, Ugo. Italy. 340 p. D. Lond. 1883. Soc. prom. Chr. knowledge 4s. (Early chroniclers of Europe) N. Y. e

See p. 144-45, 292-305.

He has a real and scholarly knowledge of Italian history.—Acad., June 1883, 23:278

Gives in interesting form, biographical sketches of the early chroniclers and an account of their principal works.

Brown, Horatio Forbes. Venice; an historical sketch of the republic. 434 p. maps, O. N. Y. 1893. Putnam $4.50. N. Y. e

Those who incline to tell the story again will need to possess not only immense industry, but very great judgment and literary skill, to make a volume which shall better meet the demands of intelligent readers than this.—Lit. world, Ap. 1893, 24:108

A readable and dignified narrative, covering a period of nearly 14 centuries. Contains a bibliography p. 19-23.

— Venetian studies. O. Lond. 1887. Kegan Paul 7s. 6d. Son.

Essays reprinted from the magazines. The best are those on Catherine Cornaro and on the Spanish conspiracy; the worst is that on Carmagnola whom Mr Brown altogether underrates.—Ath., Nov. 1887, 90:673

Daru, Pierre. Histoire de la republique de Venise. Ed. 4 enl. 9v. maps, O. Par. 1852. Didot 54 fr. N. Y. e

For any other purpose than that of entertainment, quite untrustworthy.—Adams p. 254

Written and published under the protection of Napoleon, but systematically written with a view to discredit the government of the republic. The source from which most school histories and guide books have been compiled.

Freeman, Edward Augustus. Sketches from the subject and neighbour-lands of Venice. 395 p. pl. D. N. Y. 1881. Macmillan $2.50. Clev. N. Y. P. e

Being series 2 of his historical and architectural sketches. A description of places associated with the history of Venice.

Hazlitt, William Carew. History of the Venetian republic; her rise, her greatness and her civilization. 4v. il. por. maps, O. Lond. 1860. Smith o. p. N. Y. e

A history of Venice from the origin of the city to the middle of the 15th century. Founded on a careful study of authorities, and shows that many of the popular notions concerning Venetian history are grossly erroneous. The third and fourth volumes, 1309-1457, will be found of special interest and value. The author's style is clear and often picturesque.—Adams p. 255

Larned, Josephus Nelson. Venice. (see his History for ready reference. 1894-95. 5:3602-15)

A sketch of Venice made up of extracts from standard histories. Exact reference is given for authorities quoted.

Extra illustrated ed. 411 p. O. N. Y. 1892. Macmillan $6.

The writer has selected some of the more dramatic and romantic incidents of Venetian history, and combined them in a narrative of unusual grace and charm. She has not attempted to solve historic problems, her characterizations are written from the novelist's point of view.

Saxon, Mrs E. Lydell, anon. City in the sea; stories of the deeds of the old Venetians, from the chronicles; by the author of Belt and spur. 330 p. il. D. N. Y. 1883. Scribner $2.

Bron. Clev. Mil. e

Simple but not juvenile in style. Covers the more interesting periods of Venetian history.

Smedley, Edward, anon. Sketches from Venetian history. 2v. il. pl. maps, S. N. Y. 1832. Harper 90c. (Harper's family lib.)

Bkl. Mil. N. Y. e

Written in picturesque narrative style. Copious use has been made of the works of Sismondi and Daru. Includes the historic episodes of interest in Venetian history.

Wiel, Alethea. Venice. 478 p. D. N. Y. 1894. Putnam $1.50
(Story of the nations) Car. e

The book is inevitably a mere sketch . . . but . . . written with so just a sense of proportion, so sure an eye for the picturesque and romantic, and with such liveliness of style, that it leaves a clearer impression than most ponderous histories.—Publisher's circular, Sep. 1894, 61:365

1878–88. 24:141–57) e

pt 1, history by Yriarte; pt 2, art by Middleton.

GOVERNMENT AND CONSTITUTION

From 5th to 7th century ruled by tribunes, 8th–18th by doges. By 1172, there were three councils. The great council, self-elective from the outset, was closed in 1297 to all but the nobility. In 1310 a council of 10 was associated with the doge and his six councilors for the punishment of crimes against the state. The inquisition of state ('the Three') was organized in 1454, two members from the council of 10 and one from the doges' council.

Brown, Horatio Forbes. Council of 10; Form for electing a doge.
(see his Venice. 1893. p. 151, 177–83, 398–416) e

Clement, Mrs Clara (Erskine). Council of 10. (see her Queen of the Adriatic. 1893. p. 114–20) e

Quotes from Hazlitt and Baschet. The best for a short article.

June 1827, 46:75–106) e

Summary of the work at Grallicoli, 1795–96.

Records of the Venetian inquisition. (see Cornhill mag., Jan. 1871, 23:41–54) e

Account of the methods of the inquisition of state.

Sismondi, Jean Charles Léonard Simonde de. The aristocracy of

Smedley, Edward, anon. The inquisition of state. (see his Sketches from Venetian history. 1832. 2:82–94) e

162: 365–83) e

Account of the political documents, preceded by a statement of the main features of the constitution of the republic.

Robertson, Alexander. Fra Paolo Sarpi, the greatest of the Venetians. 196 p. por. D. N. Y. 1894. Whittaker $1.50. N. Y. e

Fra Paolo was specially celebrated as the theological counselor of Venice in her famous contest with Pope Paul 5. The facts of his life are here set forth with enthusiasm and literary skill, and form a narrative of absorbing interest.

Spencer, O. M. Marco Polo and his book. (see Harper's mag., Dec. 1872, 46:1-19) 18 illustrations.

Trollope, Thomas Adolphus. Paul the pope and Paul the friar.
16°. Lond. 1870. Smith 2s. 6d. B. A. Clev.

For the most part, an abstract of the life of Fra Paolo by Bianchi-Giovini, but adds a spirited account of the conclave of Paul 5.—Encyc. Brit. 1878-88. 21:313

For lives of artists, see the section 'Arts and industries,' p. 34-43.

DESCRIPTIVE WORKS ON VENICE

Of the descriptions of Venice, those contained in passages of Ruskin's Stones, as for instance, the chapters entitled the 'Throne and torcello,' are the most brilliant, but Howells' Venetian life is probably the most graceful and satisfactory book on the subject.—Note fr. Thomas Crane public library catalogue. 1875. p. 21

Brown, Horatio Forbes. Life on the lagoons. Ed 2. 297 p. O.
N. Y. 1894. Macmillan $1.75.

He seeks to show Venice from the point of view of the boat. The chapters are each little essays on Venetian subjects, short, bright, picturesque and full of information.—Acad., June, 1884, 25: 416

Clement, Mrs Clara (Erskine). Queen of the Adriatic; or, Venice medieval and modern. 380 p. 20 pl. O. Bost. 1893. Estes $3.
N. Y. e

She has given sketches of the history of Venice . . . and its most celebrated localities and buildings . . . all with a lightness of touch and a sense of proportion often sadly missing from books made for a purpose.—Christmas bookshelf. 1893. p. 37

Coryate, Thomas. Coryat's crudities, reprinted from the edition of 1611 . . . added his letters from India, etc. 3 v. pl. O. Lond.
1776. W. Cater £2 2s. e

v. 1, p. 196-304 contains 'Observations on Venice,' being a quaint and lively description of Venice in the days of her magnificence.

Hare, Augustus John Cuthbert. Venice. 206 p. il. 1 map, D. N. Y.
1884. Routledge $1. Clev. N. Y. Son.

A guidebook idealized. Made up largely of extracts from the best literature. Selections from Ruskin, Rogers, Howells, Dickens, Hawthorne, George Sand, Mme de Stael, Taine, Swinburne and others.

Howells, William Dean. Venetian life. D. Bost. 1892. Houghton $1.50. A. L. A. N. Y.

Written some 20 years ago when Venice was under Austrian rule. Hence the social and political life differs somewhat from that of the present. The book is a delightful one.

Perl, Henry. Venezia; adapted from the German by Mrs Arthur Bell (N. D. Anvers), with an introd. by H. D. Traill, illustrated by Ettore Tito, and others. 248 p. il. sq. F. Lond. 1894. Low 28s. Scribner $12.50.

Piozzi, Mrs Hester Lynch (Salisbury) Thrale. Glimpses of Italian society in the 18th century. 327 p. pl. por. O. Lond. 1892. Seeley (Scribner) $2.

Description of Venice, p. 102-38, with 5 pl.

Mrs Piozzi looked about her shrewdly and put down in happy vein the striking things she saw. Illustrated with reproductions of pictures contemporary with the journey itself (1785). — Critic, Mar. 1892, 20:139

Rose, William Stewart. Letters from the north of Italy addressed to Henry Hallam. 2v. O. Lond. 1819. Murray 18s. N. Y. e

Consists chiefly of letters from Venice, descriptive of the language, literature, political and social institutions of the republic. Contains much curious information, and is written in a polished and agreeable style.

Taine, Hippolyte Adolphe. Italy: Florence and Venice; from the French by J. Durand. O. N. Y. 1889. Holt $2.50. Bkl. Mil. P.

Contents: Perugia and Assisi; Florence; Florentine school of art; From Florence to Venice; Venetian art; Lombardy.

Villari, Linda. On Tuscan hills and Venetian waters. il. O. N. Y. 1886. Armstrong $1.75.

Pleasant sketches of . . . Tuscany and of scenes in Venice which are easily overlooked in the mass of attractions in which that wonderful city abounds. Exceedingly well written and shows a thorough and practical knowledge of the subject treated.—Sat. rev., Dec. 1884, 58:826

Yriarte, Charles. La vie d'un patricien de Venise au 16<sup>e</sup> siècle: les doges, la charte ducale les femmes à Venise, l' Université de Padoue, les preliminaires de Lépante . . . Ed. 2. il. pl. Q. Par. 1885. Rothschild 30 fr.

M. Yriarte has devoted himself chiefly to the study of the Italian life and arts . . . one of the first who searched the archives of the Venetian republic. His Venetian patrician received a prize from the French academy. Just issued a second edition with fine illustrations . . . A mine of facts on the Venice of Veronese.—Nation, Feb. 1886, 42:124

POEMS. DRAMAS. NOVELS

Browning, Robert. In a gondola. (see his Poetic and dramatic works. 1892. 2:263-69) e

Byron, George Gordon Noel Byron, 6th baron. Beppo, a Venetian story; Marino Faliero; The two Foscari; Ode on Venice; Stanzas from Childe Harold. (see his Poems and dramas. 1884. p. 176-90, 323-25, 530-75, 622-52) e

Cooper, James Fenimore. The bravo, a novel. il. D. Bost. 1890. Houghton $1 (New household ed.) e

The author aims to give a picture of the social system of Venice, and the operations of Venetian policy. For the justification of his work, he refers to the well-known history of Daru.

Howells, William Dean. A foregone conclusion. D. Bost. 1893. Houghton $1.50. Bkl. Mil. e

The Venetian atmosphere lends additional charm to a story of unusual interest. The central character is a Venetian priest who falls in love with a beautiful American girl.

Rogers, Samuel. Venice, St Mark's place; Brides of Venice; The Foscari. (see his Complete poetical works. 1871. p. 293-98, 301-21) e

Mr Potter's new translation is a thoroughly successful rendering. — Lit. world, Dec. 1889, 20:458

It is only the opening chapters which are Venetian, but these describe, with wonderful charm, the free outdoor life of the children, Consuelo and Auzoleto, on the streets and canals of Venice. The character of Consuelo is associated with Venice, as that of Romola is with Florence.

Shakspeare, William. Comedy of the Merchant of Venice; ed. with notes, by W: J. Rolfe. 173 p. il. 1 por. sq. S. N. Y. 1894. Harper 56c. e — Tragedy of Othello, the Moor of Venice; ed. by W: J. Rolfe. 214 p. il. sq. S. N. Y. 1893. Harper 56c. e

Rolfe's editions are the best for school and home reading. Accurate and useful notes. Pleasing to the eye.

Shelley, Percy Bysshe. Julian and Maddalo, a conversation. (see his Complete poetical works. 1892. 2:47-72) e p. 1-46 Smith, F. H. Espero Gorgoni, gondolier.

— Lines written among Euganean hills. (see his Complete poetical works. 1892. 3:209-12) e

Stories of Italy. 208 p. il. T. N. Y. 1893. Scribner 75c. (Stories from Scribner) e

p. 47-119 Sullivan, T. R. Anatomist of the heart.

Of the two stories, that by F. H. Smith is the more picturesque and artistic, while at the same time it has less plot. Both are charming reading.

Wordsworth, William. On the extinction of the Venetian republic; Scene in Venice [Barbarossa and the pope]. (see his Complete poetical works. 1893. p. 179-80, 618) e

ARTS AND INDUSTRIES

Brown, Horatio Forbes. The Venetian printing press. 463 p. facsim. sq. Q. N. Y. 1891. Putnam $10. N. Y. e

An historic study of first-rate importance, based on original researches . . . Mr Brown devotes the greater part of his investigation to the subject of the regulation and censorship of the press. — Nation, Oct. 1890, 51:348

Clement, Mrs Clara (Erskine). Murano and the glass makers. (see her Queen of the Adriatic. 1893. p. 121-39) . e

Dunlop, Madeline Anne Wallace. Modern Venetian glass and its manufacture. (see Mag. of art., 1890, p. 206-11) e
Five illustrations.

With map showing trade-routes of Venice and Genoa.

37 illustrations of the collection in the Metropolitan museum.

Ongania, Ferdinando, ed. Early Venetian printing. 229 p. il. Q. N. Y. 1895. Scribner $7.50.

A scrap-book of specimens of early Italian printing . . . Contains also, chapters on 'The art of printing in Venice,' 'Printer's marks,' 'Water marks,' and 'The printing of music.'—Pub. weekly, May 1895, 47 : 707

Yriarte, Charles. Venice; its history, art and modern life; tr. by F. J. Sitwell. il. Q. N. Y. 1880. Scribner $18. Pratt inst. Son.

Contains an account of painting, architecture and sculpture and history of the glass industry, also an account of the lace, 'point de Venise,' of which fine specimens are given.—Summary of note on the French ed. in Spectator, Jan. 1878, 51:90

The illustrations alone, in this brilliantly compiled history would enable anyone to gain an excellent notion of the rich and varied material out of which Venice grew, bloomed and faded. The translation has been excellently done.—Acad., Dec. 1879, 16:450

ARCHITECTURE AND SCULPTURE

Canova, Antonio. Works engraved in outline by Henry Moses; with descriptions from the Italian of the Countess Albrizzi and biographical memoir by Count Cicognara. 2v. por. pl. Q. Lond. 1824. Septimus Prowett. B. A. N. Y. P. Son. e

Another ed. 150 pl. Q. N. Y. n. d. Scribner $12, see American catalogue 1876. Beautifully executed plates accompanied by full analysis and explanations. Interesting biographical memoir of 40 pages.

Ongania, Ferdinando. La basilica di San Marco in Venezia. 16v. il. Q. Ven. 1881-92. Ongania. $466.

One of the most magnificent and costly works ever published consisting of a large series of photographs and chromo-lithographs.—Encyc. Brit. 1878-88. 24:156

For full account see Nation, Mar. 1883, 36:216-17.

Norton, Charles Eliot. Venice and St Mark's. (see his Historical studies of church building in the middle ages. 1880. p. 39-83) e

Ongania, Ferdinando. Calli e canali in Venezia. 2 v. 200 pl. F°. Ven. 1891-95. Ongania $40. N. Y. e

Fine photogravure plates showing the streets and canals of Venice, and noted buildings; with details of the sculpture of palaces and churches.

Perkins, Charles Callahan. Historical handbook of Italian sculpture. 432 p. il. 1 pl. O. N. Y. 1883. Scribner $4. e

With the 53 plates and all the woodcuts and text as originally issued.—Maynard

The noblest monograph on any architectural subject that has ever been written.—Encyc. Brit. 1878-88. 24:151

Vasari, Giorgio. Jacopo Sansovino. (see his Lives of painters, sculptors and architects. 1852. 5:408-29) e

PAINTING

The best guide—the graphic and delightful Vasari, but alas, he was not a Venetian, and his histories of the painters of Venice are modified by the reflection that had they had the luck to be Florentines, they might have been great.—Oliphant. Makers of Venice. p. 338

One of the very first fruits in English of the new art criticism.—Dial, May 1894, 16: 268

Lists appended, of the works in and out of Italy, by the principal Venetian painters.

Crowe, Joseph Archer, & Cavalcaselle, G. E. Titian; his life and times. 2 v. il. por. O. Lond. 1881. Murray 21s.

For English readers, the Life by Crowe & Cavalcaselle has superseded all previous works, such as those of Sir Abraham Hume (1829) and Northcote (1880).—Encyc. Brit. 1878–88. 23:417

Gilbert, Josiah. Landscape of the Venetian school. (see his Landscape in art. 1885. p. 309–77)

Traces the influence of Flemish painters on the Venetian school. With illustrations.

Heath, Richard Ford. Titian. 102 p. il. por. pl. D. Lond. 1890. Low 3s. 6d. (Illus. biographies of great artists) N. Y. e

Oliphant, Mrs Margaret Oliphant (Wilson). The painters. (see her Makers of Venice. 1888. p. 262–341) e

Contains an account of the Bellini, Carpaccio, Giorgione, Titian, Tintoretto and Paul Veronese.

Osler, Willam Roscoe. Tintoretto. 102 p. por. pl. D. Lond. 1882. Low 3s. 6d. (Illus. biographies of great artists) N. Y. e

Mr Ruskin often compares Turner to Tintoretto, and Turner in speaking of Tintoretto's work makes use of the expression 'the stormy brush of Tintoretto' . . . The first and last chapters of this little book are full of suggestive writing and wide, true sympathy for all real art.—Spectator, Aug. 1879, 52:985–86

— Paul Veronese. (see Encyc. Brit. 1878–88. 24: 173–74)

Stearns, Frank Preston. Life and genius of Jacopo Robusti, called Tintoretto. 335 p. il. D. N. Y. 1895. Putnam $2.25. e

Mr Stearns has in attractive, popular style, blended a biography of the artist based upon examination of all French, German and Italian works worthy of consultation, with original criticism of his work and estimate of his true position.—Rev. of rev., Feb. 1895, 11:238

See Giovanni Bellini, p. 128–37; Carpaccio, p. 259–63; Giorgione, p. 246–51; Tintoretto, p. 269–76; Titian, p. 237–45; Paul Veronese, p. 264–68.

Of Mr Cole's talent or the merit of these copies, there can be no doubt. . . In delicacy, refinement, accuracy, subtlety of light and shade, beauty of tone, he has no equal. Never was an engraver so fitted by temperament and skill for the close and infinitely delicate copying of a work of art.— Nation, Nov. 1892, 55:379

Vasari, Giorgio. Jacopo Bellini and his sons; Giorgione; Titian. (see his Lives of painters, sculptors and architects. 1850-52. 2: 156-72, 394-402; 5: 382-408) e

Abbott, Charles Conrad. Birds about us. 288 p. il. O. Phil. 1895.
 Lippincott $2. e

Contents: Perching birds; goat-suckers; woodpecker; cuckoos, etc.; birds of prey; game birds and pigeons; shore-birds, herons, rails, etc.; ducks, geese and swans; pelicans, cormorants and petrels; gulls and terns; diving birds.

A thorough study of the birds of the lower Delaware river valley . . . including many interesting experiences and personal adventures. — Annual Amer. cat. 1894

— Days out of doors. 323 p. D. N. Y. 1889. Appleton $1.50. e

Describes New Jersey field and water life; arranged by months. — N. Y. state traveling lib. finding list 2

— Naturalist's rambles about home. 485 p. D. N. Y. 1887. Appleton $1.50. e

Country walks; studies of the dwellers in woods and fields. — N. Y. state traveling lib. finding list 9

Abbott, Charles Conrad. Outings at odd times. 282 p. S. N. Y. 1890. Appleton $1.50. e

Close and affectionate observation of all sorts of out-of-door things.—N. Y. state traveling lib. finding list 2

—— Recent rambles; or, In touch with nature. 330 p. il. D. Phil. 1892. Lippincott $2. B. P.

Pleasantly written.—Acad., Ap. 1893, 43:283

—— Travels in a tree-top. 215 p. D. Phil. 1894. Lippincott $1.25. e

The author's observation of nature, if not profound, is intelligent and, as a rule, sympathetic. Throughout the whole runs a strain of very mild philosophizing.—Acad., July 1894, 46:65

—— Upland and meadow: a Poaetquissings chronicle. 397 p. D. N. Y. 1886. Harper $1.50. e

New Jersey naturalist's out-door notes at all seasons; on birds, toads, squirrels, freshwater life, etc.—N. Y. state traveling lib. finding list 9

—— Waste-land wanderings. 312 p. D. N. Y. 1887. Harper $1.50. e

Pleasant studies of earth and sky and animal life in the region of the Delaware river.—N. Y. state traveling lib. finding list 8

Annals of a fishing village; from the notes of 'A son of the marshes,' ed. by J. A. Owen. O. Lond. 1892. Blackwood 5s. Wor:

The style of the book is poetic, with a melancholy refrain running through the chapters which admirably suits the bare flats, plunging seas, and misty horizons of the little village. The tender, sympathetic nature of the young naturalist emerges in every page, while his insight into nature is remarkable.—Ath., Aug. 1891, 98: 213

Austin, Alfred. Garden that I love. 168 p. il. O. N. Y. 1894 Macmillan $2.50. e

In spite of a good deal of annoying affectation, there is evidence of a love of simple country joys and of flowers that redeems the interest. The poet is transparently genuine in his enjoyment of his splendid old garden and to convey that impression atones for many faults.—Ath., July 1894, 104: 95

Battye, Aubyn Trevor. Pictures in prose, of nature, wild sport and humble life. 246 p. D. N. Y. 1894. Longmans $1.75. e

Pleasantly written essays by an experienced traveler and sportsman who has something to tell and knows how to tell it. His observations on natural history are correct.—Ath., Aug. 1894, 104:158

Bolles, Frank. At the north of Bearcamp water; chronicles of a stroller in New England from July to December. 297 p. D. Bost. 1893. Houghton $1.25. S. e

So far as it goes it is good and it is pleasant to read, but we are aware that it touches nothing but the surface of things and lacks the human associations which give interest to any study.—Acad., Ap. 1893, 43:347

Pleasant and easy reading. Chocorua, its lakes and meadows, its birds, fishes, and animals, its trees and flowers are noted with the keen eye of a healthy-minded observer.—Lit. world, Mar. 1893, 24:76

Bolles, Frank. From Blomidon to Smoky and other papers. 278 p.
D. Bost. 1894. Houghton $1.25. B. P. e

Contents: From Blomidon to Smoky; Ingouish, by land and sea; Home of Glooscap; August birds of Cape Breton; Barred owls in captivity; Yellow-bellied woodpeckers and their uninvited guests; Young sapsuckers in captivity; Ways of the owl; Bird traits; Individuality in birds; Birds at Yule-tide; Up the chimney; Humming birds of Chocorua.

— Land of the lingering snow; chronicles of a stroller in New England from January to June. 234 p. D. Bost. 1891. Houghton $1.25.

Though he has evidently studied and written 'for publication' he is at least a careful and conscientious writer, and he notes down his observations in such a pleasant, unobtrusive and often graceful manner that he is really good to read.—Acad., Jan. 1892, 41:12

Boyle, Mrs Eleanor Vere (Gordon). Days and hours in a garden, by E. V. B. O. Lond. 1890. Stock 5s. Wor.

Delightful little book.—Ath., May 1884, 83:596

Breed, George J. & Barton, W: G. Songs and saunterings by a poet and naturalist, with an introd. by W: P. Andrews. 270 p.
1 por. D. Salem, Mass. 1892. Salem press $1.50. e

As a poet Mr Breed never had an audience in mind nor the effect he was producing. . . The selections here included . . . were published by Mr Barton after Mr Breed's death. . . Mr Barton's work . . . betrays perhaps, more of literary intention . . . but it is the result of original and living acquaintance with nature, not of merely literary aspiration.—Introduction

Cobbett, William. Rural rides, 1821-32. 2 v. (C). Lond. 1894. Reeves 12s. 6d. Wor.

In spite of some absurdities, a book which will always be worth reading for the genuine love of nature and power of description it shows.—Ath., June 1885, 85:758

Cooper, Susan Fenimore. Rural hours. 334 p. S. Bost. 1887. Houghton $1.25. e

The observer has the best of qualities needful for her work in the strong and vital interest she takes in the animate life of nature and in her sensibility to the moods of sky and forest. In every way the tone of the volume is harmonized with the matter.—Nation, Oct. 1887, 45:300

Dana, Mrs Frances Theodora. According to season; talks about the flowers in the order of their appearance in the woods and fields. 159 p. T. N. Y. 1894. Scribner 75c. e

The aim of this little volume is the stimulation of an observant love of nature . . . by enabling the reader to start upon each tour of discovery with so clear a notion as to what he may expect to find and where he may expect to find it, as materially to increase the chances of a successful expedition.—Preface

land $1.50. e

Both delightful and disappointing . . . He describes London and its suburbs in their picturesque aspects, and the process of the seasons with sympathetic insight, rendering to our delight the secrets of birds and flowers and sky-life; but it is irritating to catch him with his eyes off the hedge-rows, engaged in polemic with an imaginary disputant.—Ath., Aug. 1894, 104:246

Dixon, Charles. Idle hours with nature. O. Lond. 1891.
Chapman 6s. Det.

Careful studies in bird life . . . Very different from the ordinary trite writing on British rural life.—Acad., Ap. 1891, 39:392

Emerson, P. H. On English lagoons. 295 p. il. O. Lond. 1893
Nutt 7s. 6d. Wor.

His minute observation extracts much that is worth recording of the ways of birds, beasts, and fishes, and he has the eye to see beauty in a landscape.—Ath., Aug. 1893, 102:226

Fish, Elbridge Eugene. Blessed birds; or, Highways and by-ways.
253 p. D. Buffalo 1890. Ulbrich $1.25. S. e

Contents: Spring arrival of the birds; Day's outing in search of the arbutus; Ventriloquial and imitative power of birds; Wrens; Trees and trees; Intelligence in birds; Days in an old orchard; Autumn visitors; Nesting habits of birds; Maple sugar making; Danger of an early extinction of song birds; Search for a whip-poor-will's nest; Summer drive in the lake country; Ornithological nomenclature.

Flagg, Wilson. Birds and seasons of New England. 458 p. il. O.
Bost. 1875. Osgood $4. e

Flagg was in some respects inferior to both Thoreau and Burroughs, but if I could own the books of only one of the three they should be Flagg's.—Barton, W: G. Songs and saunterings by a poet and naturalist. 1892. p. 3 — Woods and by-ways of New England. 442 p. pl. D. Bost. 1872.

Osgood $5. Wor.

Our very door-yards and gardens put into classic literary form — Beverly and Danvers embalmed in choicest English, forming literature serene and dignified, yet graphic, exact and entertaining.—Barton, W: G. Songs and saunterings by a poet and naturalist. 1892. p. 3

Fletcher, J. S. Wonderful Wapentake; by 'A son of the soil.' 250 p.
il. O. Chic. 1895. McClurg $2. e

Pleasant collection of short papers on pastoral life in Yorkshire. The sketches are slight enough, but the author has at times a sympathetic touch and is a close and loving student of nature. There are a few awkwardnesses of speech here and there, but taking the volume as a whole, there is much less to blame than to praise.—Ath., Jan. 1895, 105:48

Forest tithes and other studies from nature; by 'A son of the marshes,' ed. by J. A. Owen. O. Lond. 1893. Smith, Elder 5s.

Some of these studies are reprinted from Blackwood's, Cornhill, etc. Of all of them we can say that they are pleasantly written and generally accurate.—Ath., July 1893, 102:95

Fowler, William Warde. Summer studies of birds and books. 288 p. D. N. Y. 1895. Macmillan $1.75. e

Not one of the 11 chapters is disappointing. What he has to tell is told in a fresh, cheery way that attracts us at the very outset, and our interest does not flag.—Critic, Ap. 1895, 26:308 —— Year with the birds; by an Oxford tutor. 266 p. il. pl. O. N. Y. 1889. Macmillan $1.25.

Contents: Oxford, summer and winter; Oxford, spring and summer; Alps in June; Midland village; garden and meadow; Midland village; Railway and woodland; Alps in September; Birds in Virgil.

A reading of his book should be enough to make dear old over-praised Gilbert White turn in his grave for very ecstasy.—Acad., July 1886, 30:49

From spring to fall; by 'A son of the marshes,' ed. by J. A. Owen. O. Lond. 1894. Blackwood 3s. 6d.

The book paints the glory of the Surrey woodlands for nine months in the year and lets the reader into many secrets of their inhabitants known only to those who have carefully watched their habits at all hours. It would be difficult for the most watchful naturalist to add a touch to this picture.—Acad., Nov. 1894, 46:373

Gibson, William Hamilton. Happy hunting grounds; a tribute to the woods and fields. 202p. il. Q. N. Y. 1887. Harper $7.50. B. A.

His Procession of the flowers, 1896, contains all except 'Snow.'

Hudson, W. H. Birds in a village. O. Phil. 1893. Lippincott Det. $2.25.

Collection of agreeable essays by a naturalist trained in wider and wilder fields. Both the science and the literature of the subject are at his finger ends, and he has a plentiful store of facts of his own observation, and a bright and lively fancy.—Critic, Nov. 1893, 23:287

Japp, Alexander Hay. Hours in my garden and other nature sketches. 340 p. il. D. N. Y. 1893. Macmillan $1.75.

Gossipy, written without much method but with an abundance of matter. It is a book to be taken up at odd moments and which need never be finished.—Critic, Nov. 1893, 23:340

Jefferies, John Richard. Field and hedgerow; last essays. 331 p. O. N. Y. 1889. Longmans $1.25. e

In it are found minuteness of observation, the temper of contemplation, and the old pagan sense of the joyousness of living.—Acad., Mar. 1889, 35:143

— Life of the fields. O. Lond. 1893. Chatto (Scribner) $1.

Essays reprinted from the Times, Longman's magazine, Graphic, Standard, Magazine of art, Gentleman's magazine, St James gazette, National review, Manchester guardian and Pall Mall gazette.—Salt, H. S. Richard Jefferies. 1894. p. 123

The richest and most picturesque of these essays are 'Bits of oak bark' and 'The pageant of summer.'—Ath., Sep. 1884, 81:337

— Nature near London. O. Lond. 1893. Chatto (Scribner) $1. Y. W. C. A. e

Essays reprinted from the Standard.

His report reads like a romance, so full of strange matter is it and so curiously at variance with the witness of eyes that have not learned to see. Reading so pleasant and suggestive is nowadays not often to be found.—Ath., May 1883, 81:563

— Open air. O. Lond. 1893. Chatto (Scribner) $1. Y. W. C. A. e

Brimful of suggestion and observation and distinguished from beginning to end by the healthy tone and stimulus its title implies.—Sat. rev., Dec. 1885, 60:850

— Round about a great estate. O. Lond. 1880. Smith, Elder (Scribner) $2. Y. W. C. A. e

When we accompany him in his rounds, we feel that the lounging strolls become occasionally wearisome . . . yet when all has been said, we are happy to admit that we know no other writer on rural matters who could give us so small a volume with so many charms.—Sat. rev., Aug. 1880, 50:277

Jefferies, John Richard. Story of my heart; my autobiography.
1 por. O. N. Y. 1891. Longmans $1.25. Y. W. C. A. e

The leading thought is the intense and passionate yearning for what he calls 'soul-life.' The passages in which he strives to express in words ideas only to be apprehended by the emotions are among the most moving and impressive in recent literature.—Salt, H. S. Richard Jefferies. 1894. p. 61, 94

The book is a contribution to the ideal in life. His pages are full of beauty and alive with nature, the sea, the stars, and London. With him we feel the glow of the romance of the open air, the mystery of living things.—Acad., Nov. 1883, 24:294

—— Toilers of the field. 327 p. 1 por. O. N. Y. 1892. Longmans $2.

pt 1 consists of six early articles reprinted from Fraser's magazine and the Times, with a hitherto unprinted essay, 'A true tale of the Wiltshire labourer'; pt 2, of the five short papers that appeared in Longman's magazine, after Jefferies' death.—Salt, H. S. Richard Jefferies. 1894. p. 124

In the closeness of observation that is born of the loving eye, in the power of giving a picture far beyond the efforts of the mere word painter, he is the equal of the Selborne rector, perhaps his superior.—Ath., Mar. 1879, 73:277

—— Wood magic ; a fable. New ed. 379 p. pl. D. N. Y. 1893.
Longmans $1.25. e

Mr Jefferies has turned his knowledge of wild things and their ways to imaginative account and has made his animals actors in a drama which has the actual world of woods and meadows for its theater and the facts of brute life for its incidents, and which is as circumstantial in method and as naturalistic in effect as a chapter of Balzac.—Ath., June 1881, 77:745

Jennings, Louis John. Field paths and green lanes, being country walks chiefly in Sussex. 293 p. il. D. N. Y. 1878. Appleton
$1.50. e

He has walked about merely as a keen lover of nature with a passion for English scenery which he betrays in blithe appreciation of the simple and unobtrusive charms of wild flowers and singing birds.—Spec., Dec. 1877, v. 50, pt 2, p. 1583 —— Rambles among the hills in the Peak of Derbyshire and the South Downs. O. Lond. 1880. Murray 12s. Det.

He has the merit of not merely being able to use his eyes, but of telling what he sees in a readable and entertaining fashion.—Ath., Jan. 1881, 77:88

Karr, Jean Baptiste Alphonse. Tour round my garden; revised and ed. by J. G. Wood. O. Lond. 1891. Routledge 3s. 6d. Wor.

Delightful. . . The author was an ardent horticulturist and into his book he put his best.—Critic, Oct. 1890, 17:198

Knight, Francis Arnold. By leafy ways: brief studies from the book of nature. 197 p. il. D. Bost. 1890. Roberts $1.50. Wor.

In a volume of essays one would gladly find less erudition and fewer allusions, but it may be read with a good deal of pleasure.—Ath., June 1889, 93:695

He transmutates the spirit of the country into the language of the town in a way which appeals alike to the naturalist and to the man of letters.—Acad., May 1889, 36:298

— By moorland and sea. 215 p. D. Bost. 1894. Roberts $1.50. e

Delightful descriptions of the ways of birds and fishes, of squirrels and of beetles.—Ath., Feb. 1894, 93:177

We do not doubt his enthusiasm but we can only take it on faith; he gives out none of it. The faults of the book are too few to condemn it as a whole.—Critic, May 1894, 24:319

— Idylls of the field. 183 p. il. D. Bost. 1890. Roberts $1.50. Wor.

It does not please the fancy or touch the heart, but strikes one as mechanical.—Ath., Dec. 1889, 34:819

A graceful diction and a nice appreciation of the atmospheric tone which makes a new picture of a familiar landscape with each varying hour, give finish to these brief essays.—At. world, Nov. 1890, 21:395

There is no need to be a fisherman to enjoy this book. While the angler may note stores of piscatorial learning, the ordinary reader finds pleasant baunter and picturesque description.—Ath., Jan. 1892, 99:109

Leslie, George Dunlop. Letters to Marco. 260 p. il. D. N. Y. 1893. Macmillan $1.50. e

His enthusiasm for seeing beauty in everyday life, his careful eye, his bonhomie, render this a charming volume.—Acad., Jan. 1894, 45:10

Loomis, Eben J. Wayside sketches. 188 p. S. Bost. 1894. Roberts

D. N. Y. 1891. Dodd $1.25. e

Out-of-door diary of a city editor, who takes refuge in country lanes, along winding rivers, on hill-tops remote from men. His delightful sentences reflect all the benignities of green fields and reposeful nooks.—Critic, June 1891, 18:307

Marston, Edward. Amateur angler's days in Dove Dale. S. Lond. 1884. Low 1s. Clev.

Amusing little book written with much brightness and considerable literary skill. Displays a genuine love of nature and a commendable modesty.—Ath., Oct. 1884, 84:495

— Days in clover; by the Amateur angler. 120 p. il. O. Lond. 1892. Low 2s. 6d. J. City

His good humor, his genuine delight in nature, are infectious and make his essays much more inviting than those of many more pretentious authors.—Ath., Nov. 1892, 100:663

— Fresh woods and pastures new. 136 p. S. Lond. 1888. Low 1s.

Any one fond of country sights and sounds will find an hour pass most delightfully in turning over these pages, which show the author's bonhomie quite as much as his literary skill.—Ath., Oct. 1887, 90:436

Merriam, Florence A. Birds through an opera-glass. 223 p. il. S. Bost. 1889. Houghton 75c. e

These delightful details of the appearance and habits of over 70 American birds were gathered . . . in the woods and fields . . . either at Northampton, Mass. or at Locust Grove, N. Y. Many of the articles were published in the Audubon magazine in 1886.—Annual Amer. cat. 1889

Miller, Mrs Harriet (Mann). Bird lover in the West. 278 p. D. Bost. 1894. Houghton $1.25. e

The author is enthusiastic and knows well whereof she speaks. She tells us precisely what we wish to know and skilfully avoids minor details.—Critic, May 1894, 24:338

— Bird ways. 227 p. D. Bost. 1885. Houghton $1.25. e

Observations of the ways and habits of a dozen or so of our common birds.—Sargent, J: F. Reading for the young. 1890. p. 20

— In nesting time. 275 p. D. Bost. 1888. Houghton $1.25. e

Few, if any, of the observations are new, but they have that interest which attaches to all genuine studies from life. The personal peculiarities of the birds stand out in strong relief under the author's sympathetic pen.—Nation, June 1888, 46:516

— Little brothers of the air. 271 p. D. Bost. 1892. Houghton $1.25. e

The home life and family manners of birds of New England described in an entertaining way. The great charm of the book lies not in the facts observed, but in the interpretation put upon these facts.—Nation, May 1892, 54:403

A graceful purpose gracefully carried out. The author is eminently appreciative of every beauty on the hillside, the tangle of wild flowers, and the quaint Scotch characters.—Acad., Oct. 1894, 46:253

Muir, John. Mountains of California. 381 p. il. D. N. Y. 1894. Century $1.50. e

One of the best known of California naturalists . . . describes the wonders and beauties of the Sierra Nevada range with scientific accuracy and with warm appreciation of natural loveliness.—Annual Amer. cat. 1894

His own enthusiasm is contagious and electric. He seems to have become part of the landscape itself, while yet maintaining his unique personality. Emerson considered Muir 'more wonderful than Thoreau.'—Critic, Jan. 1895, 26:4

On Surrey hills; by 'A son of the marshes,' ed. by J. A. Owen. O. Lond. 1891. Blackwood 6s. B. A.

He is equally successful in observing and delineating nature; without any labored word-painting, a line or two of simple yet poetic description testify to his appreciation of rural beauty. There is throughout no striving after eloquence. Reprinted from Blackwood's magazine.—Ath., Nov. 1891, 98:620

Owen, J. A. Forest, field and fell. O. Lond. 1893. Lawrence 3s. 6d.

Graphic descriptions of people and scenery, and excellent sketches on animal life. Absolutely free from a single jarring note.—Ath., Jan. 1894, 103:111

Panton, Mrs Jane Ellen. Bypaths and crossroads. O. Lond. 1889. Ward 6s. Det.

These essays show a keen insight into nature, especially as seen in the suburbs of London. Here and there they are verbose, but the author's appreciation and her powerful description of English scenery redeem the book from the charge of prolixity.—Acad., June 1890, 37:424 — Country sketches in black and white. O. Lond. 1882. Boyne 6s.

Minute observation of nature, close knowledge of animal habits and command of picturesque and varied English.—Ath., Aug. 1882, 80:265

Parkhurst, H. E. Birds' calendar. 351 p. il. D. N. Y. 1894. Scribner $1.50. Cin.

Describes with sympathy and enthusiasm the birds observed throughout the year in Central Park . . . The number and variety is surprising, and with this guide every bird of importance may be identified.

Potts, William. From a New England hillside: notes from Underledge. 305 p. T. N. Y. 1895. Macmillan 75c. e

In a kind of running diary he gives accounts of his walks, of his meditations, of what he sees from his windows and out-of doors. The book is to be commended, among other things, because of its sanity and its quiet wholesome spirit. The style is direct, unpretentious and interesting — Outlook, Mar. 1895, 51.434

Prime, William C. Along New England roads. 200 p. D. N. Y. 1892. Harper $1.

Contents: Along New England roads; In southern Vermont; Village discussion: Uphill in fog; Sweet scented fern; Angler's August day; Views from a hill-top; Highlands of western New Hampshire; Triumphant chariot; Dead letter; Epitaphs and names; Finding new country; Boys with stand up collars; Pilgrimage end; Non-resistance; Songs of the ages; Ignotus; Seeking a better country; A winter night's errand; Hints for carriage travel.

— Primeval forest. Trout stream. (see his Among the northern hills. 1895. p. 1-23)

Robbins, Mrs Mary Caroline. Rescue of an old place. 289 p. D. Bost. 1892. Houghton $1.25. Wor.

Description of improvements made upon a neglected farm in Hingham, Mass. Chapters originally published in Garden and forest.—Annual Amer. cat. 1892

Stevenson, Robert Louis. Inland voyage. D. N. Y. 1896. Scribner $1. e

Canoe voyage through the canals of Belgium, on the Sambre and down the Oise. There is little of incident and no elaborate description, but a sense of leisure and quiet enjoyment such as Stevenson is inimitable in suggesting.

— Travels with a donkey in the Cevennes 209 p. pl. D. N. Y. 1895. Scribner $1. e

He has a pretty talent for catching the character of a scene and putting it into words, or for fixing the surroundings and sensations of a moment by a neat phrase and making them understood of others.—Atk, June 1879, 109-818

— Walking tours. (see his Virginibus puerisque. 1893. p. 195-208) e

Sylvester, Herbert Milton. Homestead highways. 302 p. D. Bost. 1888. Ticknor (now Houghton) $1.50. Wor.

Contents: Mute prophecy; Old-fashioned festival; Winter resort; Running water; Snug corner; Wayside watering-place; Drop of rain.

— Prose pastorals. 292 p. D. Bost. 1887. Ticknor (now Houghton) $1.50. Clev.

Contents: Outlooks; Old acquaintance; Birds of a feather; Plain fare; After the cows; Lotus eater; Homely sounds; In the woods; Scare crows; Rainy days; Among the hills; Mists; Blackberry vines.

Thaxter, Mrs Celia (Laighton.) Island garden ; with pictures and illuminations by Childe Hassam. 126 p. O. Bost. 1894. Houghton $4. e

Contains practical information as to how she made her marvelous garden in the Isles of Shoals, and yet is charmingly permeated by the poetry of the flowers, the islands and good literature.—Annual Amer. cat. 1894

Thomas, Edith Matilda. Round year. 296 p. D. Bost. 1886. Houghton $1.25. e

Though this is a poet's rather than a naturalist's book, fuller of deft fantasy than of ornithology, and dropping more easily into a moral homily or a rustic characterization than into forest lore, it is a studious and, in a literary way, a painstaking volume of observations of natural surroundings and is besides a near and neighborly view of a new region, the southern shore of Lake Erie.—Nation, Oct. 1886, 43:317

Thompson, Maurice. Byways and bird-notes. 179 p. D. N. Y. 1888. Alden 60c. Wor. e

Contents: In the haunts of the mocking bird; Red-headed family; Tangle-leaf papers; Threshold of the gods; Some minor song-birds; Browsing and nibbling; Out-door influence in literature; Fortnight in a palace of reeds; Cuckoo notes; Birds of the rocks.

— Cape Cod. D. Bost. 1891. Houghton $1.50. e

His mental processes impress one with a certain tenacity which extracts nutriment from the most barren soil, and though his books on softer aspects of nature may have a mellower charm, there is none in which the very absence of mellowness can so well pass for an added merit.—Atl., Mar. 1865, 15:381

— Early spring in Massachusetts ; from the journal of . . . Thoreau. 323 p. D. Bost. 1891. Houghton $1.50. e

Selections from notes made in February, March and April, 1838–61.

— Excursions in field and forest. 319 p. D. Bost. 1891. Houghton $1.50. e

Contents: Biographical sketch; Natural history of Massachusetts; Walk to Wachusett; The landlord; Winter walk; Succession of forest trees; Walking; Autumnal tints; Wild apples; Night and moonlight.

— Maine woods. 328 p. D. Bost. 1891. Houghton $1.50. e

Contains the fullest record of his studies of the American indian.—Sanborn

Thoreau, Henry David. Summer; from the journal of . . . Thoreau, ed. by H. G. O. Blake. 382 p. D. Bost. 1891. Houghton $1.50. e

He lies prone upon the earth, so to speak, to catch the faintest signs and motions of the life of nature. Nothing escapes his sense of sight, nothing eludes his sense of hearing.—Lit. world, July 1884, 15:223

— Walden; or, Life in the woods. 522 p. O. Bost. 1894. Houghton $1.50. e

Of his books, Walden will probably be permanently reckoned as the best, as being the most full and deliberate exhibition of the author's mind and as extracting the most from the least material.—Atl., Sep. 1864, 14:387

— Week on the Concord and Merrimac rivers. 531 p. O. Bost. 1894. Houghton $1.50. e

His noblest work.—R. W. Emerson

— Winter; from the journal of . . . Thoreau, ed. by H. G. O. Blake. 439 p. D. Bost. 1891. Houghton $1.50. e

Selections from notes made in December, January and February, 1851–60.

Torrey, Bradford. Birds in the bush. 300 p. Bost. 1891. Houghton $1.25. e

Studies of New England birds; literary and untechnical but not unscientific.—N. Y. state traveling lib. finding list 5

— Florida sketch book. 242 p. D. Bost. 1894. Houghton $1.25.

Contents: In the flat woods; Beside the marsh; On the beach of Daytona; Along the Hillsborough; Morning at the old sugar mill; On the upper St John's; On the St Augustine road; Ornithology on a cotton plantation; A Florida shrine; Walks about Tallahassee.

— Foot-path way. 245 p. D. Bost. 1892. Houghton $1.25. e

Contents: June in Franconia; December out-of-doors; Dyer's hollow; Robin roosts; Passing of the birds; Great blue heron; Five days on Mount Mansfield; Widow and twins; Male ruby throat; Flowers and folks; In praise of the Weymouth pine.

— Ramblers lease. 212 p. D. Bost. 1890. Houghton $1.25. e

Author shares with reader, generously and with charming grace, his possessions and friendships 'in other men's woods.'—N. Y. state traveling lib. finding list 8

Trevor-Battye, Arthur, see Battye, Arthur Trevor-.

Tuckwell, W. Tongues in trees and sermons in stones. il. sq. D. N. Y. 1891. Scribner $2.

There is nothing particularly new in the book but a good deal of interesting old material is pleasantly worked up, and it will be welcomed by all lovers of flowers.—Atl., Ap. 1891, 97:498

Tuckwell, W. My summer in a garden. 194 p. S. Bost. 1885.
Houghton $1. e

An attempt to tell the truth about one of the most fascinating occupations in the world.—C: D. Warner

Watkins, Morgan George. In the country, essays. 229 p. D.
Lond. 1883. Satchell 4s. 6d. e

Reprinted from Gentleman's, Cornhill and Fraser's magazines.

Contents: Devon lanes and their associations; At the seaside; Amongst the heather; Up Glen Roy; Sunshine at Land's end; Into ballad land; On Ottery East Hill; In Assynt; British birds and bird lovers; From the heart of the wolds; Amongst the sea-birds.

The writer possesses a keen love of country sights and sounds; he is an enthusiastic trout fisher; he has a considerable knowledge of birds and some botanical lore.—Ath., Sep. 1883, 82:303

Walton, Izaak, & Cotton, Charles. Complete angler; with an introduction by J. R. Lowell. 2v. D. Bost. 1892. Little $3. e

He leads us through English meadows, by the side of English streams, and is as artless, as charming, and as true to nature as are the simple pastoral scenes which he describes and from which he drew his inspirations . . . It would sweeten a man's temper at any time to read it.—Open shelf, 1:264-65

Warner, Charles Dudley. In the wilderness. 226 p. S. Bost. 1886.
Houghton $1. e

Contents: In the wilderness; Lost in the woods; Fight with a trout; A-hunting of the deer; How I killed a bear; A character study; Camping out; How spring came in New England.

Watson, John. Nature and woodcraft. il. O. Lond. 1890. W.
Smith 5s. Det.

Boundless enthusiasm for the lower animals, a happy knack of observing minor traits and literary skill in describing them. Contains much good work that will outweigh a few contested points.—Acad., June 1890, 37:423

White, Gilbert. Natural history and antiquities of Selborne. D.
N. Y. 1891. Macmillan $1.75.

The pastoral quiet and sweetness and harmony of the English landscape pervades the book with just that tinge of reminiscence, that flavor of human sympathy and human absorption that English fields suggest.—Burroughs, John. Indoor studies. 1889. p. 164

Whiting, Charles Goodrich. The saunterer. 302 p. il. S. Bost.
1886. Ticknor (now Houghton) $1.25.

Reprinted from the Sunday edition of the Springfield republican, 1878-81. Follows in desultory fashion the course of the New England year. Full of keen observation and an ardent love of nature.—Annual Amer. cat. 1886

Williams, Mrs Martha McCulloch. Field farings; a vagrant chronicle of earth and sky. 242 p. D. N. Y. 1892. Harper $1. e

Over 30 short essays discoursing in most attractive manner of the pleasant features of out door life during every day of the year.—Annual Amer. cat. 1893

Winthrop, Theodore. Life in the open air and other papers. 374 p. S. N. Y. 1871. Holt $1.25. Wor. e

Contents: Life in the open air; Katahdin and the Penobscot; Love and skates; New York 7th regiment; Our march to Washington; Washington as a camp; Fortress Monroe; Brighty's orphan; Heart of the Aules.

With the woodlanders and by the tide; by 'A son of the marshes,' ed. by J. A. Owen. O. Lond. 1894. Blackwood 3s. 6d.

This book is less striking than the former ones, less careful in form, and the repetitions are more numerous. . . We have nevertheless enjoyed every page, long-winded rustic anecdotes, anathemas against radical reformers, poaching adventures, bird and flower lore, and everything else.—Bookman (Eug.) Dec. 1893, 5:90

Within an hour of London town, among wild birds and their haunts; by 'A son of the marshes;' ed. by J. A. Owen. O. Lond. 1892. Blackwood 6s. B. P.

Vivid as well as accurate descriptions of scenery and animal life. . . There are signs that his original material is becoming exhausted.—Ath., Aug. 1892, 100:246

Wordsworth, Dorothy. Recollections of a tour made in Scotland in 1803, with William Wordsworth and Samuel T. Coleridge; ed. by J. C. Shairp. D. N. Y. 1874. Putnam $2.50. Wor.

Not intended for publication. Simple unadorned description of her adventures and observations during a six weeks ramble. The quiet grace, poetic eye, shrewd humor, and wonderful good sense take expression in the writer's unstudied jottings.—Ath., July 1874, 64:41

Wright, Mabel Osgood. Friendship of nature; a New England chronicle of birds and flowers. 238 p. 1 pl. T. N. Y. 1894. Macmillan 75c. e

It is a really delightful study of nature, literary rather than scientific, but still careful in matters of fact. The book throughout is free from sentimental affectation.—Acad., Sep. 1894, 46:210

Delightful comment on points of botany, natural history and folk-lore. The largest share of her attention has been directed to the plants both of field and garden; what she has to say about them is full of instruction and of charm.—Ath., Mar. 1893, 101:309

READING LIST ON THE NETHERLANDS

PREFACE

The list of books submitted aims to cover the most desirable modern works along the popular lines of history, description and art. The list is intended for the reader who wishes general information on Holland, rather than for the student who desires to specialize. The latter will study his history by period rather than by country and will therefore largely use parts of works, which, from a preponderance of other matter contained in them, have no place in such a list as this.

In the department of history much additional matter bearing on the subject may be found in the lives of military commanders, lives of sovereigns of Spain, France, Austria, of the dukes of Burgundy and in the history of those periods in which England either opposed or aided Holland. Symond's Sir Philip Sydney; Göthe's Egmont; Kirk's Charles the Bold and Stirling-Maxwell's Don John of Austria are types of these—a class which has been omitted as bearing only indirectly on the subject. The historical works of Juste, the great Belgian historian, are excellent, though they suffer from being a little out of date and some of the best of them have not been translated. They will be of more interest to the student than to the general reader. Schiller's Revolt of the Netherlands and his History of the 30 years' war have been omitted as being of literary rather than historical value.

Only enough has been included on the reformation to suggest that its history is closely interwoven with that of the land where it found such hospitable shelter and stimulus and the country which produced one of its greatest leaders, Erasmus. Bacon's Genesis of New England churches, Neale's History of the so called Jansenist church of Holland, D'Aubigné's History of the reformation and a host of others treat of the religious history of the country.

Holland in proportion to her size has contributed very many of the world's great lights in science and useful arts, as well as in the fine arts, for which she is so famous. Gutenberg, the father of printing, Linnaeus, the botanist, Spinoza, the philosopher, are names which testify to her diversified alertness and progress. Bibliographic notes at the end of cyclopedic articles will furnish the reader references to these men.

In the field of travel and description there are many works written at the beginning of this century or during the closing years of the 18th, which are in the form of journals or letters, stilted in style, and whose place has been superseded by later volumes more readable in text and supplied with interesting illustrations.

On the art side it has been found impossible to treat minor artists individually. After one passes the greatest three, Rembrandt, Rubens and van Dyck, it is useless to draw the line among the others except in a list devoted exclusively to art. Readers wishing material on any special artist should consult the general histories of art. Farrar's Art topics and Abbott's Outlines furnish exact page references to the most important artists. Valuable additional matter may be found in the files of the Portfolio, Magazine of art and other art periodicals.

Except in rare cases, juveniles will not be found in this list.

ABBREVIATIONS

Abbreviations following the main entry refer to the libraries in which the book was consulted or the sources from which the entry was taken. Call numbers are given for all books in the New York state library, even though the edition differs from that described in the list. Books in the public libraries division have no book number.

Books marked e have been personally examined; while e indicates that the edition examined is not the same as the one entered on the list.

Periodicals have not been indexed. Poole's Index to periodical literature and the Cumulative index will furnish references to such material as the magazines may contain.

The references following the note are intended as an index to more extended reviews and notices which do not necessarily agree with the compiler's estimates. Volume and page numbers are separated by a colon; e. g. 3:145 means vol. 3, p. 145. When page citations do not refer to the edition described, the edition to which they do refer is indicated in a note.

The list following contains the principal abbreviations used. Other abbreviations are self-explanatory.

GENERAL HISTORIES*Campbell, Douglas. The puritan in England, Holland and America. Ed. 4 enl. 2v. O. N. Y. 1893. Harper $5. 973.2 C15 e

Refutes the old theory that American institutions are chiefly traceable to English example. Written to prove that the political debt of America to the Netherlands is greater than to any other country. While this idea is by no means copyrighted, Mr Campbell has treated the subject in a diligent, scholarly and critical way, massing his facts and authorities with convincing force.

Reviewed in Critic, Sep. 1892, 21:146Davies, Charles Maurice. History of Holland from the beginning of the 10th century to the end of the 18th. New ed. 3v. O. Lond. 1851. Willis 18s. 949.2 D28 e

Treats quite fully political, social and religious affairs and as a continuous history has a certain value. It remains one of the standard histories of Holland though its use has been somewhat superseded by Motley. Footnotes give full references to authorities which the author has used.

Noticed in Adams p. 447Grattan, Thomas Colley. History of the Netherlands. New ed. 300 p. nar. D. N. Y. 1830. Harper $1. o. p. 949.2 G77 e

Valuable little book as a compendium of the history of the Netherlands from the time of Caesar, 50 B. C. down to the battle of Waterloo in 1815. As a bird's-eye view of the whole history of the country this is excellent and one of the best in English. Written in an attractive, spirited style it makes a very satisfactory brief history.

Griffis, William Elliot. Brave little Holland and what she taught us.
252 p. il. D. Bost. 1894. Houghton $1.25. Cap949.2 G87 e

Traces the development of the Netherlands and shows its influence on America. Mr Griffis takes the point of view of Mr Campbell and tells the story in an enthusiastic, simple, graphic manner for young people.

1892 Putnam $1.50 (Story of the nations) 949.2 e

Outlines history from the earliest time to 1813 when the country threw off French domination. Describes the struggle for civil and religious liberty, commercial enterprise and internal developments. Mr Rogers is an able scholar along economic lines but is somewhat prejudiced. A good popular history in a vigorous spirited style.

Young, Alexander. History of the Netherlands. 672 p. il. O. Bost.
1884. Estes $2.50. 949.2 Y8 e

Treats of the period covered by Mr Motley but in more compact form. The author has studied documentary sources and presents new and valuable information. He takes an independent view, in some cases disagreeing with Motley. Without elaborating on the inquisition and tyranny of the Spanish government he makes more evident than Mr Motley the faults and excesses of the insurgents, and thus clearer the partial failure of the revolution.

May, Sir Thomas Erskine. Democracy in Europe. 2v. O. N. Y.
1878. Armstrong $2.50. 342 M45 e

Judicious and valuable, but somewhat disappointing sketch of the progress of democratic ideas and methods.

Covers 1584-1609, the important period during which the Spanish project of conquering the Netherlands was matured. It has the same general characteristics as the Rise of the Dutch republic, but is more controversial and therefore less final.

Motley, John Lothrop. Rise of the Dutch Republic. 3v. il. O. N. Y. 1879. Harper $6. 949.203 M851 c

A vivid portrayal of one of the most dramatic periods of modern European history. Covers the unsettled and turbulent age from the abdication of Charles 5 in 1555 to the assassination of William of Orange in 1584. All Motley's work is the product of painstaking and profound research. His chief merit lies in sustained interest in the men and deeds he describes. Possessing an enthusiastic love of freedom and hatred of tyranny he has been criticized for partizanship and hero worship. But his prejudices are good honest prejudices and recent investigations are only enhancing the value of his work. Motley remains the great standard for the period he covers. In clearness of diction, strength of characterization and dramatic power he has few equals.

Noticed in Adams p. 449; Putnam, William the Silent, 1895, 1, pref. p. 6-8

——— The student's Motley. 943 p. il. O. N. Y. 1898. Harper $1.75. 949.2 M85

A condensation, preserving the original words, of the Rise of the Dutch republic, with introduction, notes and historical sketch covering 236 pages of the Dutch people from 1584 to 1897, by William Elliot Griffis.

Nutting, Mary Olivia. Days of Prince Maurice; the Netherland war from the death of William the Silent to its close. 370 p. il. D. Bost. 1894. Congregational S. S. and pub. soc. $1.25. Bost.

The story is concise, well written and illustrated. It portrays in an interesting and condensed manner the last years of the war, 1584-1648. Easy readable style for younger students, based on Motley, Davies, Grattan and Markham.

Covers much the same ground as Motley's Rise of the Dutch republic but with more dispassionate treatment. It is a monument of thorough study and of dispassionate judgment and a valuable supplement to Motley.

BIOGRAPHY

Liefde, Jacob de. Great Dutch admirals. Ed. 5. 352 p. O. Lond. 1884. Son. 3s. 6d. 923.5492 L62 c

Good brief biographies of the Heemskirk, Hein, Marten Tromp, de Witt, de Ruyter, Evertson and Cornelius Tromp. Written in simple, popular style.

Arteveld, James & Philip van. Ashley, William James. James and Philip van Artevelde; being the Lothian prize essay for 1892. 244 p. D. N.Y. 1883. Macmillan $2. S. & W. Mil. Ost. Son.

The object of this biography and the one following is to place in a true light the two Flemish heroes whom Froissart and the other early chroniclers had misrepresented, and to show the real political meaning of the democratic movement of which the van Artevelde were the leaders and victims. James and Philip van Artevelde, father and son, resisted the oppression of the rich burgher class and gained for the citizens of Flanders certain political freedom. Mr Ashley's work is closely limited to his subject and he does not at all attempt a history of Flanders. Within its limited scope, however, his book is more exhaustive than Mr Hutton's and examines tendencies and results in a different spirit. Mr Ashley is a more painstaking and scientific investigator and more cautious in his judgment. Of the two this work is the more academic in style.

Introduces considerable minute detail of the history of Flanders, somewhat detracting from the dramatic unity of the work. As the author sympathizes with aristocracy he is under a disadvantage in defending his subjects and there is lacking a hearty enthusiasm for the institutions for which the van Artevelde stood. In portions the author is lax in choice of material and in form of expression. Mr Ashley's is the more satisfactory biography but both should be read by anyone wishing to understand the movement thoroughly.

Barneveld, John of. Motley, John Lothrop. Life and death of John of Barneveld, with a view of the 30 years war. 2v. N. O. N. Y. 1874. Harper $4. 923.2492 H26 c

The author intended these volumes as a link between the histories he had already published and the even more important work he had in contemplation on the 30 years war. They are an account of the years 1609-23 a time known in the Netherlands as the 'Twelve years truce.' It was a period of intrigues, between the prolonged conflict through which Holland had just passed and the coming struggle which was to involve all Europe. It was not a period well adapted to Motley and this work will not rank with his others. Many of the descriptions are graphic but it is difficult for the reader to gain a clear conception of the course of the narrative, of the character and policy of the man with whom it deals or the real cause of his death. The volumes are somewhat drawn out and lack the finish of his earlier work.

Historical biography of two Englishmen who fought in the Netherlands. The Veres manfully helped the States general to maintain their independence, but Dutch historians have not done them justice. More or less history is woven into the work, and the topographical descriptions of some of the towns of the Low countries are valuable.

William 1, prince of Orange. Nutting, Mary Olivia. William the Silent. 480 p. il. D. Bost. 1884. Lothrop $1.50. Son. As. e

Covers 1555-84. Based on Motley and Prescott. Footnotes give references. A more concise work than Miss Putnam's but not so valuable or interesting.

— Putnam, Ruth. William the Silent, prince of Orange; the moderate man of the 16th century. 2v. il. O. N. Y. 1895. Putnam $3.75. 923.1492 W61 e

This work is the product of strictly original research and an attempt to stand on what is practically new ground. Her William of Orange is essentially identical with Motley's but there is less color, his shortcomings are more freely acknowledged, his growth and development are more distinctly emphasized. Portraits, facsimiles and a brief bibliography add to the value of the book.

Scholarly work based on thorough investigation and research at the Hague, with much new material. Traces the history of Holland from the death of Barneveld in 1623 to the second year of de Witt's administration, 1654. So far as it goes the work is valuable but it is incomplete. Limited in scope, its chief value is as an introduction to the work by Lefèvre-Pontalis.

The first two chapters deal with the antecedent conditions of the country and de Witt's early training. The rest of the book is a clear account of his 20 years administration. Both material and style are good and the work is well translated. Except the incomplete work of Geddes no adequate history of John de Witt existed in English before the present translation.

a The Illustrated text-books of art series and the Illustrated biographies of the great artists series referred to under names of individual artists in these lists, may be had through Scribner at $2 and $1.25 respectively. The English edition was cited as being cheaper to libraries buying in quantities and exempt from duty. Before procuring foreign art books it is advisable to consult Scribner's latest catalogue of publications and importations.

Authorities do not agree on artist's dates and these are therefore often approximate.

Jakob Jordaens, 1593-1678

At his best in mythological subjects.

David Teniers the younger, 1610-90

Low life in taverns. Good color and easy handling.

Pierre Joseph Verhagen, 1728-1811

Talented portrait painter.

General histories

Buxton, Harry J. Wilmot & Poynter, E. J. German, Flemish and Dutch painting. 244 p. il. D. Lond. 1890. Low 5s. (Illustrated text-books of art) 759.3 e

See p. 71-240.

A compilation rather than an original work. There is plain, careful statement, copious illustration and well considered arrangement of details, but as a work of criticism it fails.

Reviewed in Academy, July 1881, 20:77; Critica, July 1881, 1:195; Sturgis p. 31

Cole, Timothy & Van Dyke, J: C: Old Dutch and Flemish masters engraved by Timothy Cole, with critical notes by J: C: Van Dyke. 192 p. il. Q. N. Y. 1895. Century $7.50. 759.8 C67 e

Excellent engravings made from the originals. Mr Cole's reputation as standing at the head of American engravers gives the volume special interest. The short essays on each artist are serious critical studies providing an admirable account of painting in the Netherlands.

Reviewed in Critic, Nov. 1895, 27:340; Spectator, Aug. 1896, 77:186; Nation, Nov. 1895, 61:350; Sturgis p. 19

Conway, William Martin. Early Flemish artists and their predecessors on the lower Rhine. 328 p. il. D. Lond. 1887. Seeley 7s. 6d. 759.9 e

More than a series of descriptions of remaining monuments, it explains them by reconstructing the entire society to which they belonged. At the end of the book is a chapter on Flemish tapestry.

Havard, Henry. Dutch school of painting; tr. by G. Powell. 290 p. il. D. N. Y. 1885. Cassell $2. o. p. (Fine art lib.) 759.9 e

One of the best short histories of Dutch painting, being a popular account compressed with judgment and skill. The notes on the styles of the Dutch painters are always terse and suggestive. The translation does not wholly do justice to the original.

Reviewed in the Athenaeum, Mar. 1883, p. 285; Academy, July 1886, 30:32; Sturgis p. 25

Heaton, Mrs Mary Margaret (Keymer). Masterpieces of Flemish art. il. Q. Lond. 1868. Bell & Daldys 42s. Mil.

Includes examples of early Flemish and Dutch schools, with memoirs of the artists.

Kugler, Franz Theodor. Handbook of painting: new ed. revised and in part rewritten by J. A. Crowe. 2 v. il. O. Lond. 1889. Murray 24s. 759.5 K95 e

This is still known as Kugler's work though much of it is new. For the early paintings of the north of Europe there is no better work.

Noticed in Sturgis p. 25

Muther, Richard. History of modern painting. 3 v. il. Q. N. Y. 1896. Macmillan $20. Vassar e

See 3:201.65.

Reliable work of reference in which the history of painting is brought down to the present day.

Scott, William Bell. Gems of modern Belgium art. 81 p. il. Q. Lond. 1871. Routledge 2rs.

Photographs from the pictures of living artists with an essay on the schools of Belgium and Holland.

Reviewed in Athenaeum, Dec. 1871, p. 799

Stanley, George. Classified synopsis of the principal painters of the Dutch and Flemish schools. 416 p. D. Lond. 1855. Bohn 5s. 759.9 Stz e

Taine, Hippolyte Adolphe. Lectures on art; tr. by John Durand. New ed. 2v. O. N. Y. 1876. Holt $2.50. 701 T13 e

See p. 157-346.

Picturesque, condensed, valuable.

759.9 e

The author does not sufficiently emphasize the relationship of Dutch and Flemish art. Mr Wauters inclines to poetical eulogies rather than criticism.

Reviewed in Nation, Ap. 1885, 40:368; Sturgis p. 37; Critic, Ap. 1885, 6:185

Wedmore, Frederick. Masters of genre painting. 238 p. il. D Lond. 1880. Paul 7s. 6d. 927.5 W41 e

Written in a bright interesting style but not a work of any great intrinsic merit.

Reviewed in Athenaeum, Ap. 1880, p. 471

The three leading artists: van Dyck, Rembrandt, Rubens

Anton van Dyck, 1599-1641

Head, Percy Rendell. Van Dyck. 112 p. il. D. Lond. 1888. Low 3s. 6d. (Illustrated biographies of the great artists) 927.5 D99 e

See p. 1-85.

Short popular account. Latter part of the volume, p. 85-112, devoted to Hals.
Includes short list of work of both.

Sweetser, Moses Forster. Van Dyck. 157 p. il. D. (in v. 6 of his Artist biographies. 7v. Bost. 1896. Houghton $8.75) 927.5 e

Rather popular in treatment, but the author has used good material. This volume also contains biographies of Rembrandt and Dürer.

Noticed in Sturgis p. 36

Rembrandt van Ryn, 1607-69

Bolton, Charles Knowles. Saskia, the wife of Rembrandt. 133 p. il.
O. N. Y. 1893. Crowell $1.50. 927.5 R283 e

Books marked with a * at the left are best for popular reading.

Abbreviations following the main entry refer to the libraries in which the book was consulted or to the sources from which the entry was taken. Call numbers are given for all books in the New York State library even though the edition differs from that described in the list. Books in the public libraries division have no book number.

Books marked © have been personally examined, while < indicates that the edition examined is not the same as the one entered in the list.

The source of critical notes is given, whether quoted exactly or given in substance; unsigned notes are by the compilers. Volume and page numbers are separated by a colon; e. g. 3 145 means vol 3, p. 145. When page citations do not refer to the edition described, the edition to which they do refer is indicated in a note.

The list following contains the principal abbreviations used. Other abbreviations are self explanatory.

READING LIST ON RENAISSANCE ART

15TH AND 16TH CENTURIES

---

Books marked with a * at the left are best for popular reading.

Abbreviations following the main entry refer to the libraries in which the book was consulted or to the sources from which the entry was taken. Call numbers are given for all books in the New York State library even though the edition differs from that described in the list. Books in the public libraries division have no book number.

Books marked e have been personally examined, while c indicates that the edition examined is not the same as the one entered in the list.

The source of critical notes is given, whether quoted exactly or given in substance; unsigned notes are by the compilers. Volume and page numbers are separated by a colon; e. g. 3:145 means vol. 3, p. 145. When page citations do not refer to the edition described, the edition to which they do refer is indicated in a note.

The list following contains the principal abbreviations used. Other abbreviations are self explanatory.

GENERAL OUTLINE OF THE RENAISSANCE

By the term renaissance, is indicated a natural movement, not to be explained by this or that characteristic, but to be accepted as an effort of humanity for which at length the time had come, and in the onward progress of which we still participate. The history of the renaissance is not the history of arts, or of sciences, or of literature or even of nations. It is the history of the attainment of self-conscious freedom to the human spirit, manifested in the European races. It is no mere political mutation, no new fashion of art, no restoration of classical standards of taste. The arts and the inventions, the knowledge and the books, which suddenly became vital at the time of the renaissance, had long lain neglected on the shores of that Dead sea which we call the middle ages. It was not their discovery which caused the renaissance; but it was the intellectual energy, the spontaneous outburst of intelligence, which enabled mankind at that moment to make use of them. The force then generated still continues, vital and expansive, in the spirit of the modern world.—Symonds

INTRODUCTORY BOOKS

For résumé of period see :

Burckhardt, Jacob. Civilization of the renaissance in Italy; tr. by S. G. C. Middlemore. 559 p. O. Lond. 1892. Son. 10s. 6d. (Half guinea international lib.) 945.05 B89 e

The scope of the book is to discuss the renaissance in its various aspects, more specially literary, social, political and moral.—Athenaeum, Aug. 1878, p. 169

The best books on the renaissance are those of Symonds and Burckhardt.—Adams p. 233

Draper, John William. History of the intellectual development of Europe. New ed. 2 v. D. N. Y. 1876. Harper $3. 901 D79 e

A work written with unquestionable ability, but anti-Christian in its attitude. Though it presents only one side of a great question, that side is presented with unusual skill. The book will continue to be much admired and very severely criticized.—Adams p. 44

Ducoudray, Gustave. History of modern civilization. 587 p. O. N. Y. 1891. Appleton $2.25. 901 D65 e

See p. 194-246.

An admirable and very compact summary, well edited.—Son. p. 386

Guizot, François Pierre Guillaume. History of civilization; tr. by William Hazlitt. 3 v. D. N. Y. 1889-90. Macmillan $3. 940 G942 e

This is the most famous of Guizot's works. Perhaps no other historical book is capable of stirring more earnest and fruitful thought.—Adams p. 46

Schaff, Philip. The renaissance. 132 p. O. N. Y. 1891. Putnam $1 50. 850.9 e

The . . . brochure will serve as the best directory attainable in English for more comprehensive study of the remarkable movement which ushered in the modern age.—Critic, Nov. 1891, 19:262

Its value is almost entirely in its bibliography.—Literary world, Mar. 1892, 23:95

Symonds, John Addington. Short history of the renaissance in Italy; taken from the work of Symonds by Alfred Pearson. 354 p. O. N. Y. 1893. Scribner $3.75. 945.05 Sy6 e

The period of the Italian renaissance, its life, literature and art, received at Mr Symonds' hands a treatment that is distinctively the best and most attractive in English literature.—Dial, May 1893, 14:266

The short history presents in one volume the principal motifs of the series. Naturally the original picture suffers by condensation but we possess one more admirable if injured work by a master.—Critic, Jan. 1894, 24:55

For outline of subject see:

Abbott, Josephine L. Outlines for the study of art in its three main divisions, architecture, sculpture, painting. 269 p. il. O. Bost. 1891. Silver $1.50. 702 Ab2 e

Useful manual for classes. Has been carefully prepared, but can be used only in connection with larger histories.—Literary world, Oct. 1891, 22:382

Farrar, Charles S. Art topics in the history of sculpture, painting and architecture. Ed. 3. 196 p. O. Chic. 1890. Farrar $1.25. 016.7 F24 e

The selection and combination of subjects are often quite apt and the verbal expression is generally skilful and neat, but every reader will quarrel with the narrow range of authorities.—Nation, Dec. 1881, 33:479

Pres. Farrar directs his unfortunate pupils over and over again to the same learned books of art.—Critic, Nov. 1881, 1:325

Included because good for references to minute subjects.

GENERAL WORKS

From the first dawn of the renaissance to the death of Raphael, the sister arts ruled a common territory, though in the atmosphere of the new time, the intimate relations of painting and sculpture were dissolving; while their connection with architecture, which had likewise cast off some of its restraints, saved them from a one-sided pursuit of individual goals. Everything during that golden age seems held as by a fortunate balance in perfect harmony, nor does creative genius in any period of art, the most blooming period of Greece alone excepted, succeed in so glorifying the earthly in its inspired word. —Lübke

HISTORIES OF ART

- *Bell, Mrs Nancy, R. E. (Meugens). Elementary history of art; architecture, sculpture, painting, by N. D'Anvers. Ed. 4. 2 v. in 1, il. O. N. Y. 1895. Scribner $4. 709 B41 e

Architecture, 1: 112-59; Sculpture, 1: 252-76; Painting, 2: 55-162.

A useful compendium of information.—Critic, Aug. 1895, 27: 81

Of course one does not look to such a book for very critical appreciation of art.

- Lübke, Wilhelm. Outlines of the history of art; a new translation from the 7th German ed. by Clarence Cook. 2 v. il. O. N. Y. 1891. Dodd $7.50. 709 L96 e

Art of the 15th and 16th centuries, 2: 119-513

Lübke traces with clear insight the development of the art idea . . . from the earliest times to the present era. His work is almost a philosophy of history, but is better as a whole than in the separate parts.—F. P. Stearns

Criticism sounder for Florentine than for Venetian art.

- *Goodyear, William H. Renaissance and modern art. 310 p. il. D. Meadville, Pa. 1894. Flood $1. 709 e

Professor Goodyear is an archeologist of training and ability and his work is therefore to be read seriously. It is faulty in that the author confuses merely technical skill with artistic power.—Sturgis p. 6

- Müntz, Eugène. Histoire de l'art pendant la renaissance. v. 1-3, il. F. par. 1889-95. Hachette 35 fr. each. As. L. I. hist. e

To be complete in 5 v.

Every page gives evidence of the competency of the writer's knowledge and of the unflinching industry with which he has set himself to the task of compilation.—Athenaeum, Ap. 1889, p. 444

ESSAYS

Cheney, Mrs Ednah Dow (Littlehale). Gleanings in the fields of art. 345 p. D. Bost. 1881. Lee $2.50. 704 C42 c

Restoration of art in Italy; Michaelangelo; Spanish art; French art; Albert Dürer; Old German art. p. 89-268

Though an amateur's performance, this book well executes its purpose and applies to the question of art, sound philosophy and an uncommon common sense.—Literary world, May 1881, 12-183

Paget, Violet. Renaissance fancies and studies, by Vernon Lee. 260 p. D. N. Y. 1896. Putnam $1.25. 704 P14 c

The standpoint of Vernon Lee is that of the amiable dilettante, interested in art as a part of general culture. There is much charming writing in the volume and some keensighted analysis.—Nation, Mar. 1896, 62-239

Pater, Walter. Renaissance; studies in art and poetry. 252 p. O. N. Y. 1890. Macmillan $2. 824.89

Sandro Botticelli; Luca della Robbia; Poetry of Michelangelo; Leonardo da Vinci; Giorgione.

Full of delicate and poetical comprehension of the renaissance — Vasari 4:342 His power, individuality and charm of style are such as to make his book one of the best acquisitions of recent art literature — Nation, Oct. 1873, 17:243

Swinburne, Algernon Charles. Essays and studies. Ed. 3. 380 p. D. Lond. 1888. Chatto 12s. 820.4 c

See essay entitled 'Notes on designs of the old masters at Florence.'

Comments of subtle explanation and analysis. The style is such as few Englishmen have ever reached and the whole volume is a contribution to literature. — Athenaeum, May 1875, p. 681

Taine, Hippolyte Adolphe. Lectures on art. Ser. 2. O. N. Y. 1869. Holt $2.50 701 T13 c

Philosophy of art in Italy, the Netherlands and Greece.

These books have attracted much attention because of the literary reputation of their author, but if a reader is thoroughly familiar with any epoch or style of art, he will find Mr Taine's criticism of the epoch in question, very feeble indeed.—Stargis p. 13

SPECIAL COUNTRIES

Italy

* Baxter, Mrs Lucy E. (Barnes). Renaissance of art in Italy; an illustrated sketch by Leader Scott. New ed. 384 p. tl Q. Lond. 1887. Chapman 18s. 709.45 qB33 c

Even after Symonds and Perkins, the author's work, though not to be held up as an authority in critical matters is an acquisition for the general excellence of its illustrations and their range of matter.—Nation, Dec. 1883, 37 : 493

Oliphant, Mrs Margaret Oliphant (Wilson). Makers of Florence; Dante, Giotto, Savonarola and their city. 422 p. il. D. Lond. 1892. Macmillan $2.50. 920.0455 e

The book does not profess to be a history of Florence, but simply a collection of slight biographical sketches; the studies of character are lifelike and fair and the narrative portions are full of picturesque touches.—Athenaeum, Jan. 1877, p. 14
This is the best of Mrs Oliphant's more serious work.

*——Makers of Venice; doges, conquerors, painters and men of letters. 410 p. il. D. Lond. 1893. Macmillan $2.50. 945.3 e

Mrs Oliphant, as a practised writer with a strong appreciation of the romantic and an honest deference for the varieties of history, has summoned up without novelty and without profound research what the world of careless readers cares most to know about the city of the lagunes, and told it in a way which is never really fatiguing, but which never rises above the commonplace.—Nation, Aug. 1888, 47: 119

Scaife, Walter Bell. Florentine life during the renaissance. 248 p. O. Balt. 1893. Johns Hopkins press $1.50. 945.5 Sca3 e

In a brief and readable form the author gives a number of really valuable chapters on the political development and government of medieval Florence, on its commerce and industries, its arts, its religion, its brilliant intellectual life and its methods of finding amusement.—Saturday review, Jan. 1894, 77: 81

Symonds, John Addington. Renaissance in Italy; the fine arts. 534 p. O. N. Y. 1888. Holt $2. 709.45 Sy6 e

Without showing any profound sense of the inner spirit of fine art, this work is a valuable history of the renaissance, which showed itself in sculpture and painting. The treatment of architecture is brief and unsatisfactory. However inadequate, this remains the best history in English of the artistic renaissance in Italy.—Sturgis p. 13

Taine, Hippolyte Adolphe. Italy: Florence and Venice; tr. from the French by John Durand. Ed. 4. 385 p. O. N. Y. 1889. Holt $2.50. 914.5 T131 e

Travel in Italy; of more value from a literary standpoint than for its artistic criticism.

*Yriarte, Charles Émile. Florence, its history, the Medici, the humanists, letters and art; new ed. revised by M. H. Lansdale. 476 p. il. O. Phil. 1897. Coates $3. 914.55 fY8 e

Yriarte has not written a complete history, nor do exhaustive descriptions enrich its pages, but whoever cares to understand Florence, flourishing or fallen, faithful and false by turns, can not do better than read diligently these pages.—Athenaeum, Sep. 1881, p. 345

*—— Venice, its history, art, industries and modern life; tr. by F. J. Sitwell. 449 p. il. D. Phil. 1896. Coates $3. 914.53 e

At once one of the most delightful and instructive books of anything like its kind written on Venice.—Dial, Dec. 1896, 21: 387

France

Dilke, Emilia Frances (Strong) Pattison, lady. Renaissance of art in France. 2 v. il. O. N. Y. 1879. Dodd $7.50. N. Y. soc.

See v. 1.

Of the architecture and sculpture of the renaissance Mrs Pattison finds much to say and says it pleasantly and well. Her descriptions are vivid and intelligent without being either diffuse or constrained and critical without the pedantry of overmuch learning.—Art journal, May 1879, 41:99

Lübke, Wilhelm. History of the renaissance in France. il. Lond. 1869. Nutt.

The author endeavors to treat the French renaissance in a comprehensive and historical manner; he has made due researches and possesses commendable industry, and does not fail to point out the leading qualities of the examples which are here happily illustrated.—Athenaeum, Aug. 1869, p. 215

Farrar, Frederick William. Life of Christ as represented in art. 507 p. il. O. N. Y. 1894. Macmillan $6. 755 F24 e

See p. 115-507.

His writing is distinguished by catholicity of judgment as to painters, and is freer than we expected from his well known mannerisms, so that he has produced a really good—in a popular sense—and useful compendium of the subject.—Athenaeum, Dec. 1894, p. 795

These biographies of Vasari are the ground work of our knowledge of the great Italian artists of the 15th and 16th centuries. They are extremely interesting, full of anecdote and picturesque narrative and give brilliant pictures of life in Italy during the epoch. The author's statements of fact have often been found erroneous.—Sturgis p. 13

The edition before us has not been edited by specialists but by compilers. Let us say at once that they have acquitted themselves of their task as well as outsiders to the subject possibly could have done. They are well informed, unpartizan, fair; yet their commentary is a jumble of material, some valuable, other questionable, much worse than useless. Nevertheless this is the best edition in English in existence.—Nation, Mar. 1897, 64:227

ARCHITECTURE

In architecture alone, the mysticism of the middle ages, their vague but potent feelings of infinity, their yearning toward a deity invisible but localized in holy things and places found artistic outlet. Therefore architecture was essentially a medieval art.—Symonds

About 1500 began a second Periclean period, wherein architecture brought forth works of the utmost importance and beauty. Toward the year 1540 a cooler and more sober element began to prevail in architectural designs. This was the transition to the closing period of the renaissance.—Lübke

Almost every desirable quality is to be found in the translation of this well known handbook. It is at once concise and comprehensive and every style is described in a way that shows both intelligence and erudition. #### ARCHITECTURE IN ITALY

Three periods in the development of the renaissance work may be roughly marked. The first extending from 1420 to 1500 is the age of experiment and of luxuriant inventiveness. The second embraces the first 40 years of the 16th century. The most perfect buildings of the Italian renaissance were produced within this short space of time. The third, from 1540 to 1580, leads onward to the reign of mannerism and exaggeration called barocco. — Symonds

Architects

Filippo Brunelleschi, 1377?–1446

It requires a great personality like Brunelleschi, who, of the time and circumstances, yet rose superior to them, to lay the foundation of the revival of the arts. In the greater intensity of the individuality of the artist, lies one of the chief distinctions of renaissance architecture.—Anderson

Michelozzo Michelozzi, 1396?–1472

(Michelozzo di Bartolommeo di Gherado)

It was not long before there gathered round Brunelleschi, an able group of architects imbued with his spirit. Of this class must have been Michelozzi, the architect of the Medici palace.—Anderson

- Vasari, Giorgio. Lives. 1896. 2: 1–19. 927. qV44 e

Leon Battista Alberti, 1404–72

In connection with the resuscitation of classical architecture, no name is better known than that of Alberti. Of noble family, he was the first who devoted himself to the subject from the scholar's point of view, and the fact of a man of his attainments choosing an architectural career is an indication of the great popular importance of the art in those days.—Anderson

Bramante da Urbino, 1444-1514

To Bramante must be assigned a foremost place among the architects of the golden age. Though little of his work survives, it is clear that he exercised the profoundest influence on both successors and contemporaries.—Symonds

Vasari, Giorgio. Lives. 1896. 3:37-59. 927 qV44 e

Michelangelo, 1475-1564

(Michelangelo Buonarroti)

Michelangelo was not properly speaking an architect. He made architecture, which is quite a different thing, and most often it was the architecture of a painter and a sculptor, which points to color, breadth, imagination, but also to insufficient studies and incomplete education. The thought may be great and strong, but the execution of it is always weak and naïve.—Charles Garnier. L'oeuvre et la vie

Vasari, Giorgio. Lives. 1896. 4:150-202. 927 qV44 e

Baldassare Perruzzi, 1481-1536

Müntz calls Baldassare the most elegant, refined and original of all the architects, who during the first third of the 16th century, sought fortune in Rome, but concludes that Peruzzi's native modesty or timidity prevented his giving full scope to his talent.

Antonio da San Gallo, 1485-1546

Antonio da San Gallo, the younger, remains a true type of the architect of the renaissance, the very synonym for many-sided, tireless activity. — Vasari

Vasari, Giorgio. Lives. 1896. 4: 1-29. 927 qV44 e

Jacopo Sansovino, 1486-1570

(Jacopo d'Antonio di Jacopo Tatti, called Sansovino)

Invention rather than profound comprehension was what Sansovino brought to his sculpture. His best Venetian statues are picturesque and charming, his worst fall below mediocrity, but as architect he stamped his individuality upon the city [Venice] and the library of San Marco by its beauty proves its right to existence.—Vasari 4: 331 footnote

ARCHITECTURE IN FRANCE

After the beginning of the 15th century, a gorgeously rich aftergrowth of the Gothic began to unfold itself, designated by the French under the name of the flamboyant style. The tracery of the windows is particularly affected by this manner, being composed of flame-like curves. The closing epoch is marked by a richer decorative construction in secular buildings and private houses.—Lübke

Architects

Pierre Lescot, 1510-71

The work of Pierre Lescot is as rare as it is exquisite and noble; the perished rood-loft of St Germain l'Auxerrois and the south-west angle of the Louvre are the only buildings that we dare ascribe to him.

The Louvre still bears the trace of that gracious light-heartedness which distinguished the earlier renaissance in France, and which caused Du Cerceau to say that no palace in the world could second this palace of the Louvre.—A. M. F. Robinson

ARCHITECTURE IN ENGLAND

Toward the beginning of the 15th century architectural style passes completely into the perpendicular, adopting an element of fanciful geometric work. Somewhere about 1450 there came into use the Tudor arch, the arches of arcades and vaultings being covered with a profuse decoration of pointed and scalloped work. England was not won by the new style till very late, but the Gothic here experienced that exuberantly rich revival which produced its masterpiece in the chapel of Henry 7. In the latter half of the 16th century the clumsy but showy Elizabethan style developed.—Lübke

ARCHITECTURE IN SPAIN

In Spain the ornamentation brings the rich Gothic into combination with the luxuriant magnificence of Moorish work. From this combination, structures result which may be reckoned among the chief monuments of the whole medieval period for grandeur of plan and splendor of execution.—Lübke

A series of beautiful illustrations consisting mainly of architectural details from the purest works; more useful to the architect however, than the historical student. An architect's sketch book, mainly secular.

- Street, George Edmund. Some account of Gothic architecture in Spain. Ed. 2. 527 p. il. O. Lond. 1869. Murray 30s.

The arrangement is first by places and then chronologically, so that it is rather difficult to use it for any comprehensive view of a period of art. The appendix however gives dated examples of Spanish buildings from the 11th to the 16th century and also an alphabetical table of architects, sculptors and painters for the same period.

This book with much in it that will interest and instruct, is also signalized by many shortcomings. The subject of the renaissance has not had ample justice done it; modern Italian sculpture is represented chiefly by the works of Michelangelo and Canova.—Art journal, Mar 1872, 34: 96

SCULPTURE IN ITALY

Three distinct stages were traversed in the evolutions of Italian sculpture. The first architectural, the second pictorial, the third neo-pagan. As far as the renaissance is concerned all three are moments in its history, though it was only during the third, that the influences of the classical revival made themselves overwhelmingly felt.—Symonds

This book is a new version of the Tuscan sculptors and Italian sculptors, the larger part having been rewritten and the whole carefully revised; the volume has the advantage of new researches, the literary style is good and the arrangement clearer. The greatest fault of this valuable book is the badness of its illustrations.—Athenaeum, Sep. 1883, p. 310

Sculptors

Lorenzo Ghiberti, 1381-1455

(Lorenzo di Cione, called Ghiberti)

Ghiberti should be called a goldsmith and a painter as well as a sculptor. We must look upon his bas-reliefs as pictures if we would estimate them fairly; and although they are, from their very nature, incomplete, their beauty is such as to entitle him to be judged by an exceptional standard. He was a dangerous innovator, who opened the doors to license to be tolerated only in a man of such great genius.—

Luca della Robbia, 1400?-82

(Luca di Simone di Marco della Robbia)

The work of Luca della Robbia possessed in an extreme degree the impress of a personal quality, a profound impressiveness; it is what we call expression carried to its highest intensity of degree. Benvenuto Cellini was the first goldsmith of his time, an adequate sculptor, an indefatigable workman, a turbulent bravo. # PAINTING

Painting may be regarded as the supreme art of the renaissance world. The new attitude of man toward nature found its most visible outcome in the development of this art, which has for its function not merely the reproduction of individual objects, like the plastic arts, but the presentment of visible nature at large. For fulness of spiritual meaning, painting alone can adequately represent emotional life in its truest manifestations.—Woltmann & Wörmann

Mrs Bell has supplied a readable and instructive text to a large collection of half-tone plates. This comprehensive work, originally edited by Dr Dohme and carried out with the assistance of many of the most eminent German students of the history of art, consists of biographies of famous artists each written by some one specially fitted for the task. In spite of the variety of authors and the diversity of style, the work is uniformly good. Modern painters is that of Mr Ruskin's works which will, except perhaps the Stones of Venice, have the greatest value for the future. It certainly is that which deals with the gravest matters, and the fact that it greatly fails, will not make it of less value to that which will become a science by having numerous failures and partial successes pave the way to secure conclusion.—Nation, Oct. 1883, 37: 318

*Viardot, Louis and others. Illustrated history of painters of all schools. 467 p. il. Q. Lond. 1877. Low 31s. 6d. 927.5 e

The book, within its assigned limits, is good and is calculated to be of service as a work of reference where larger or more costly histories are not at hand; it contains all that everyone, beyond the comparatively few who make the subject a study, cares to know about the world's greatest painters.—Art journal, May 1877, 39: 152

Contents: v. 1 Ancient early and medieval painting; v. 2 Painting of the renaissance.

This history is learned, critical and popular, and yet it is neither dry nor frivolous. Each editor has worked independently yet in perfect harmony with the general object.

The second volume deals with the painting of the renaissance. This is not only—we may safely presume—the best treatise on the subject, but as a popular book the most attractive that has yet appeared.—Academy, Ap. 1887, 31:243

Wornum, Ralph Nicholson. Epochs of painting. 583 p. il. O. Lond. 1864. Chapman 20s. 750 W 89e

See p. 119–323.

To give a general view of the history of painting as concisely as possible is what Mr Wornum desires, referring those who would go deeper into the subject, to the sources of his own information, for details which his plan did not permit.—Athenaeum, Sep. 1847, p. 987

PAINTING IN ITALY

As in ancient Greece so also in renaissance Italy, the fine arts assumed the first place in the intellectual culture of the nation. But the thought and feeling of the modern world required an esthetic medium more capable of expressing emotion in its intensity, variety and subtlety, than sculpture. Therefore painting was the art par excellence of Italy.—Symonds

This new book completes what forms a remarkable trilogy of art criticism. For there are three ways in which you may study art: through the artist, through his work and through the environment which he expresses, or influences. In his monograph on Lorenzo Lotto, the author dissected the artist; in his Venetian painters, he dwelt mainly upon the relation of the great colorist to the pomp and pageantry of their environment, and now in his Florentine painters he for the first time concentrates his keenest analysis upon the paintings themselves.—Critic, May 1896, 28 : 345

The four works by these authors devoted to Italian art are books which it is impossible to dispense with. To compress so large a subject as that of Italian painting into two octavo volumes is no easy task and one can not but admire the skill with which the most essential points have been selected, so that this last edition has now become the best English work, which includes the whole of this wide and supremely interesting subject.—Saturday review, June 1887, 63:812

A book that made an epoch in art criticism, as it controverted in many instances the received opinions regarding the authorship of the pictures of the old Italian masters. Its author has been severely criticized, and there is still difference of opinion as to the value of his methods of criticism, but the verdict in his favor is becoming more general. The Nation speaks of his work as a 'model of art criticism' and Walter Armstrong characterized him as follows — 'Morelli's real strength lay in the independence of his judgment. He says plenty of things which show his claims to infallibility to be no better than those of many whom he criticized. It is when he is confronted with time-honored descriptions that his strength comes out. He grasps the sense of the picture and perhaps gives a name to it, which as soon as pronounced is seen to be right.'

Good general view of the art and spirit of the renaissance; the estimates of the artist's character are hardly to be relied on.—Spectator, June 1896, 76:814

Stillman, William James. Old Italian masters, engraved by Timothy Cole; with historical notes by W. J. Stillman. 282 p. il. Q. N. Y. 1892. Century $10. 927.5 qSt5 e

This reprint in book form of Mr Cole's wonderful engravings, makes a most interesting volume. Of Mr Cole's talent or of the merit of these copies there can be no doubt; there have been engravers of more vigor, but never an engraver so fitted for the close and infinitely delicate copying of a work of art. Mr Stillman's notes are able and careful from the point of view of a historian; as a critic his views are colored by his extreme idealistic theories.—Nation, Nov. 1892, 55:379

Florentine school

Fra Angelico, 1387-1455

(Guido di Pietro, called also Fra Giovanni da Fiesole and il Beato)

Fra Angelico belonged to an earlier age, a simpler and more believing, if a less progressive one; the technical improvement and anti-Christian tendency of art during his latter years in no wise affected his essential, imaginative spirituality; it remained precisely what it was and even anticipated the result of the struggle by drawing additional vigor from the contact. This constitutes the essential difference between Fra Angelico and his contemporaries.—Lord Lindsay

In Angelico you have the entirely spiritual mind, incapable of conceiving any wickedness whatever. He was enabled to express the sacred affections upon the human countenance as no one ever did before or since.—Ruskin

Masaccio, 1401-28

(Tommaso di Gioranni di Simone Guidi, called Masaccio)

Of the many illustrious painters who flourished in the 15th century, Masaccio was undoubtedly the one whose genius has had the greatest influence on the progress of painting and who approaches the nearest to that high standard of perfection, which was achieved by the great masters of the 16th century. This is the more extraordinary when we consider the early age at which he died and the small number of works which he appears to have left behind him.—Sir A. H. Layard

Foremost among the pioneers of renaissance painting, towering above them all, by head and shoulders, like Saul among the tribes of Israel, stands Masaccio. Between his style in the Brancacci chapel and that of Raphael in the Vatican, there seems to be but a narrow gap, which might perchance have been passed over by this man if death had spared him.—Symonds

Fra Filippo Lippi, 1406?-69

Fra Filippo Lippi's chief excellence was that which distinguished him as the greatest colorist and the most complete master of the technical difficulties in art of his time. He may not have stoically held to the severely great maxims which signalized the genius of Masaccio, his teacher, but he gave luxurious attraction to his works by a charm of color in which he may claim to have been unique. In his effort to reproduce the reality, however, he did not aim at the rotundity of nature but preferred the characteristic flatness usual in bas-relief.—Crowe & Cavalcaselle

The lovely Lucrezia Buti enters the life of the Fra and their loves and lives fill this glowing romance into which Miss Farrington has thrown much sweetness and refinement.—Critic, Jan. 1891, 18 : 13

Benozzo Gozzoli, 1420-98

We know little of the life of Benozzo Gozzoli, but that little shows him to have been worthy of the particular love of his master Fra Angelico, whose favorite pupil, companion and assistant he was. He did not design the figure more correctly than Angelico, nor equal him in the profound feeling and air of his heads, but he has shown more invention and variety in his composition and mingled with his grace, a certain gayety of conception, a degree of movement and dramatic feeling not found in the works of Angelico.—Jameson

Luca Signorelli, 1441-1523

(Luca d' Egidio di Ventura de' Signorelli)

Signorelli was one of the first Tuscan artists who designed figures with a true knowledge of anatomy, though somewhat dryly. The cathedral of Orvieto evinces this, and those naked figures which even Michelangelo has not disdained to imitate. Although in most of his works, we do not discover a proper choice, nor a sufficient harmony of coloring, there are beauty, grace and tints approaching to modern excellence.—Lanzi

'Mariotto Albertinelli is the type of what we like to imagine as the painter apprentice of the renaissance, mischievous, swaggering and purveyor of witty speeches and practical jokes. He was admirably serious when once he began to paint, and his pictures sometimes attain a high point of excellence; his "Visitation" would in itself suffice for his reputation as a master.'

Fra Bartolommeo, 1475-1517

(Fra Bartolommeo di Paolodi Jacopo del Fattorini, called Bartolommeo della porta)

Fra Bartolommeo was strikingly representative of the Christian thought of his age; he was the connecting link between the early and the high renaissance, showing alike the religious feeling of the Umbrians and the splendid technic of the Florentines. Sympathetic rather than great, and lofty in feeling rather than in imagination, he charmed more by his beauty and purity, than by force or dramatic power. — J. C. Van Dyke

Raphael, 1483-1520

In his life and in his work, in his ardor for knowledge, in his instinctive love for beauty and in the large serenity of his art, Raphael represents the best and highest aims of the renaissance. In him the world saw an artist whose own beautiful and gracious nature was in perfect harmony with his dreams, whose creations draw the soul insensibly into likeness and sympathy with the beauty of reason.—Julia Cartwright

Andrea del Sarto, 1458-1530

The chief excellence of Andrea del Sarto is his incomparable blending of colors, his delicate flesh-tints and his golden chiaroscuro, the transparent clearness even of his deepest shadows and his perfect style of modeling. Giorgione is the Theocritus of Italian painting and his idyls have the largeness and simplicity of classic conception. Titian aimed neither at strictness of expression nor at forcible development of form, nor even at ideal beauty, though all these qualities were within his grasp. Lorenzo Lotto was the first Italian painter who was sensitive to the varying states of the human soul; this makes him preeminently a psychologist and distinguishes him from such even of his contemporaries as are most like him. ## Milanese school

Leonardo da Vinci, 1452-1519

Leonardo da Vinci stands alone in the history of art, as one who both conceived and realized ideals which were wholly independent from the antique. Leonardo was the first who ventured to base all art instruction exclusively and entirely upon the study of nature, and it is not too much to say that in his genius the aims of his numerous predecessors culminate, making art no longer dependent on tradition, but more on the immediate study of nature herself.—*J. In spite of faults of composition, and a conspicuous lack of dramatic individualization and concentration, there is so genuine a feeling for beauty, particularly in the youthful figures, so much that is charming in

In his figures particularly of women il Sodoma resembles Leonardo; they unite grace, tenderness and sweetness with an earnestness and fervor not to be found perhaps in another artist. Andrea Mantegna, 1431-1506

Mantegna belongs to the foremost rank. There is such a depth of sentiment in his pictures, such a nobility in his features that we feel at once, he was not a man to be surpassed or imitated, but a nature whose animating influence must have been felt by all. Mantegna is the victim of a certain formality, which was only overcome by Leonardo and Michelangelo, through whose two-fold influence, Raphael afterwards obtained his happy freedom; but this does not prevent us from ranking Mantegna with these three. This was the opinion in Italy also from the first.—Hermann Grimm

In his best work the renaissance set the seal upon pietistic art.—Symonds

Correggio was a colorist and chiaroscurist of the highest order; as a colorist he was unequaled in Italy outside of Venice; as a chiaroscurist he was an Italian Rembrandt. PAINTING IN GERMANY

In comparing the 15th century with the 16th, we perceive that where the painters of the earlier period strove in vain to translate their knowledge into practice — where they frittered away their power in laborious details, and in spite of their finished realism and deep spiritual feeling, remained angular, fettered and hard — their successors found freedom and glow and rose to the conception of typical beauty without being false to nature. The realism of the 15th century was objective; it dwelt on the individualization of the persons represented. That of the 16th was subjective; it aimed at revealing the mind of the painter.— Woltmann & Wörmann

Painters

Martin Schongauer, 1440-88

Martin Schongauer stood at the dividing line between medieval art and the fulness of the renaissance. He foreshadowed the grotesqueness and mysticism of a later time, he also foreshadowed the devotion to detail that was at last to merge into the modern passion for genre painting.—Conway Macmillan

This master is the greatest artistic genius that appeared in Germany during the 15th century. At one time fantastic, severe and harsh, at another soft and delicate; now flying in the face of all feeling for the beautiful and again characterized by the most unconscious fidelity to nature, he exercised an extraordinary influence on early German art and stands before us a genuine precursor of Dürer.—W. Schmidt

Lucas Cranach, the elder, 1472-1553

It is very difficult to estimate Lucas Cranach justly. To class him with Dürer or Holbein is to rank him too highly and yet when we survey the sum total of his work, we are forced to regard him as little short of a master of the first eminence in his way—a way that was thoroughly original, thoroughly German and thoroughly popular.—Holtmann & Wörmann

PAINTING IN THE NETHERLANDS

The distinguishing trait which decides the position of painting in the Low countries, is its realism both of form and color. While the Italian school slowly evolved from the Byzantine, based on the antique tradition of the ideal, the Dutch, alien in history as in temperament to this poetic descent, took root and grew rapidly and vigorously from the beginning, in direct inspiration of nature.—Nation

The new impulse that was given to art in the Netherlands at the beginning of the 15th century was given by the two Flemish brothers Hubert and Jan van Eyck. The great success of these masters, it has been asserted, was wholly owing to their invention of a better medium for painting—to their discovery, as it has been called, of the secret of oil painting; but no one who has studied the work of Jan van Eyck, can doubt that the real secret of his admirable painting, lay not in the mechanical medium he used but in the genius of the man who used it.—

Roger van der Weyden is a central figure among the 15th century artists of the Low countries. Jan van Eyck was both a greater man and a greater artist than Roger, but Roger was the greater master. The leading painters of the second half of the century were either directly or indirectly pupils of his. He was the agent who took the new principles of Jan van Eyck and gave them currency not in the Netherlands alone, but throughout Germany and even Italy.—Conway

Memling was more ideal than the van Eycks and more skilful in contrasting expression than his contemporaries. The method of color employed by Memling appears to have been peculiar to himself. As a painter Matsys is the first and most important representative of the new era in the north. While his predecessors had employed the human figure as only of equal importance with landscape or architecture, he boldly made it prominent, and gave his actors, often of the size of life, emotional individuality and dramatic conception.—Woltmann & Wörmann

PAINTING IN FRANCE

In all the early French art is apparent a marked personality of motive. French art of the 15th century was so overborne by here Italian and there Flemish influence, however, as to be well-nigh stupid. Of the 16th century the prominent characteristic was the assertion of the individual. This was the first real revelation to France of the art of Italy.—Mrs Stranahan

PAINTING IN SPAIN

The latter half of the 15th century was the period when Spanish art began to assert itself in a more or less tentative way. Painting in Spain after Gothic conventionalities were dropped, resolves itself into three schools. There was the school of Castile originating at Toledo at some imperfectly ascertained date in the 15th century. Then the school of Andalusia with its center at Seville. Valencia gives its name to the third principal school of Spain which took its rise near the close of the 15th century.—Stothert

The résumé of the chronicle of the arts in Spain in this book under notice is a compact well arranged history. The volume is not to be compared with the authoritative work of Morelli, but takes its place as a handbook of unquestionable value.—Nation, May 1884, 38: 391

ABBREVIATIONS

Abbreviations following the main entry refer to the libraries in which the book was consulted. Call numbers are given for all books in the New York state library even though the edition differs from that described in the list.

Books marked e have been personally examined; while e indicates that the edition examined is not the same as the one entered in the list.

Under each subject, titles are arranged in the order in which they may be read to the best advantage. References to shorter articles are placed first, followed by longer works. The source of a critical note is given whether quoted exactly or given in substance; unsigned notes are by the compiler. Volume and page numbers are separated by a colon; e. g. 3: 145 means vol. 3, p. 145. Page references have sometimes been impossible and are often only approximate.

The list following contains the principal abbreviations used. Other abbreviations are self explanatory.

CHARACTER OF THE PERIOD

During the 15th century a change as subtle and indefinable as it was significant came over the spirit of European society. Without sharp break with the past, involving no strictly new creation, no sudden or unheralded revolution of ideas, gradually rose an altered mode of viewing man, the world, life, far less theological than the old, less respectful to tradition, more confident in man's powers and future, in fine — human.—E. B. Andrews

In this period monarchy, especially in France, England and Spain, acquires new strength and extension. The period includes the reigns of three kings who did much to help forward this change, Louis 11 of France, Henry 7 of England, and Ferdinand, the Catholic, of Spain. The Italian wars begin with the French invasion of Italy; the rivalry of the kingdoms and the struggles pertaining to the balance of power are thus initiated. In this period fall new inventions which have altered the character of civilization, and great geographical discoveries, of which the discovery of the New world is the chief. It is the epoch, moreover, of the renaissance, or the reawakening of learning and art. There is a new era in culture. All these movements and changes foretold greater revolutions in the age that was to follow.—G. P. Fisher

OUTLINE OF POLITICAL HISTORY

England. The 100 years war is just ended. The country is distracted by the wars of the roses, which end in the accession of Henry 7 and the Tudor dynasty.

France. The war with England ends. Louis 11 and the nobles carry on a struggle which lays the foundation for absolute monarchy. Charles 8 and Louis 12 begin the invasion of Italy.

Italy. The independent republics are now ruled by despots. Venice begins to lose her commerce and decline in importance. The quarrels of the states with each other lead to the long period of struggle and foreign interference. The decay of the papacy brings about the reformation.

Spain. The Moors are conquered in Granada, the two kingdoms of Aragon and Castile are united under Ferdinand and Isabella. The importance of Spain in Europe begins.

Portugal. The period of discovery under Prince Henry the Navigator is at its close, resulting in the new era of commerce which gives a fatal blow to the commercial supremacy of Italy.

German empire. The emperor Frederick 3 exercises no real power. The rule of Maximilian 1 begins.

Russia. The Mongol supremacy is overthrown after a long contest, by Ivan 3 the Great, the founder of the united monarchy. The republic of Novgorod is subjugated.

Sweden, Norway and Denmark are united. Unsuccessful attempts for freedom on the part of Norway and Sweden.

Netherlands under the dukes of Burgundy. Through Mary's marriage the provinces pass to Maximilian of Austria.

Poland and Lithuania, united, are growing in importance. Western Prussia is annexed to Poland, and Eastern Prussia is made a dependency.

Bohemia is in the power of the Utraquists which results in a period of religious struggle with Rome and Hungary.

Hungary. The defeat of the Turks prevents their advance into Europe. After 1490 Hungary is united to Bohemia and the succession secured to Maximilian.

Byzantine empire. Constantinople is conquered by the Turks, and Moslem power in Europe is established.

America. The period of discovery ; Columbus, Cabot and Vespucci.

Switzerland has just gained her independence and formed a powerful confederacy. Alliances with many European states are formed, and the fierce struggle with Burgundy ends at Nancy.

EUROPE

General histories

Duruy, Victor. History of modern times; tr . . . by E. A. Grosvenor.
540 p. maps, O. N. Y. 1894. Holt $1.60. 940.5 D93 e

See p. 1-81.

This book is by one of the most eminent and skilful of modern French historical writers . . . It is compact, accurate, and interesting . . . and it is doubtful whether any other single volume on the period of which it treats can be of so much value.—Adams p. 204

Draper, John William. History of the intellectual development of Europe. New ed. 2 v. D. N. Y. 1876. Harper $3. 901 D79 e

See p. 105-205.

Written with unquestionable ability, but anti-Christian in attitude. Though it presents but one side of the question, that side is presented with unusual skill. The book has been, and will continue to be, much admired and very severely criticized.—Adams p. 44

Dyer, Thomas Henry. Modern Europe from the fall of Constantinople to the establishment of the German empire, 1453-1871. New ed. 5 v. O. Lond. 1877. Bell £2 12s. 6d. 940.5 e

See 1: 79-278, 312-31.

The value of this work is in the fact that it is compactly written and is . . . easy of consultation . . . generally accurate, but its style is heavy. Of great value as a work of reference.—Adams p. 204

Bryce, James. Holy Roman empire. Ed. 8. 465 p. D. Lond. 1892. Macmillan $1. 940 B84 e

See p. 333-53.

A book that has steadily grown into the highest favor with scholars. It is a portrayal of the mutual relations of Rome and Germany during the middle ages.—Adams p. 266

Praet, Jules von. Essays on the political history of the 15th, 16th and 17th centuries; ed. by Sir E. Head. 464 p. O. Lond. 1868. Bentley 16s. 940.5 P88 e

See p. 60-97.

His essays . . . aim to present . . . an interior view of the men and the periods of which they treat . . . It is in the work of critical historical portraiture that these essays excel.—Adams p. 214

Freeman, Edward Augustus. Historical geography of Europe. 2 v. O. Lond. 1882. Longmans $10.50. 911.4 F87 e

v. 1, text; v. 2, maps.

Maps 34-35, 55 show Europe in 1444 and 1464; Baltic lands in 1478.

The series of maps is . . . a treasure to anyone who wishes to understand the histories which he reads.—Nation, Feb. 1881, 58:91

Histories of civilization

- Guizot, François P. G. History of civilization from the fall of the Roman empire to the French revolution. 3 v. D. N. Y. 1889-90. Macmillan $3. 940 G942 e

See 1: 195-213.

The most famous of Guizot's works . . . It gives us the broadest generalizations . . . but embodies many wise conclusions that rest on the solid basis of most thorough research.—Adams p. 46

- Ducoudray, Gustav. History of modern civilization; tr. and ed. by Rev. J. Verschoyle. 587 p. il. O. N. Y. 1891. Appleton $2.25. 901 D85 e

See p. 181-237.

An admirable and very compact summary, well edited.—Son. p. 386

- Adams, George Burton. Civilization during the middle ages. 463 p. O. N. Y. 1894. Scribner $2.50. 901 Ad1 e

See 'Growth of commerce,' p. 279-310.

Only wide learning and considerable thought could have made this book possible; a fairly accurate though uneven account of the institutions of medieval Europe.—Nation, Feb. 1894, 58: 91

Church histories

- French, Richard Chenevix. Lectures on mediaeval church history. 439 p. O. N. Y. 1878. Scribner $3. 270 T72 e

See p. 382-439.

A book for those who desire to know something of the history of the church in order better to understand the contemporary events of secular history . . . Accurate, compendious and interesting.—Nation, Nov. 1878, 27: 323

- Möller, Wilhelm. History of the Christian church, tr. by Andrew Rutherford. 2 v. O. Lond. 1892-93. Sonnenschein 30s. 270 M73 e

See 2: 523-50.

There is no other book equally useful to students in giving a view of the development of church history as a part of the general course of human knowledge.—Nation, Oct. 1892, 55: 283

- Sheldon, Henry Clay. History of the Christian church. 5 v. O. N. Y. 1894. Crowell $10. 270 Sh4 e

See 2: 319-79, 473-80.

The tone and spirit of this work are admirable; it seems eminently judicial, giving both sides of the question. The author's position is that of a believer in evangelical and reformed Christianity. He shows clear evidence of acquaintance with original resources.—Critic, Oct. 1894, 25: 268

A work of industrious scholarship but somewhat narrow in its views; also superficial and hasty.—Literary world, Dec. 1894, 25: 471

Alzog, John. Manual of universal church history; tr. from the 9th German ed. by F. J. Pabisch and T. S. Byrne. 3 v. O. Cin. 1874-78. Clarke $10.50. 270 Alg e

See 2: 897-946.

The most important of Roman catholic authorities on the general history of the church, and put forth with official imprimature. Dr Alzog made use of protestant and infidel, as well as Roman catholic authorities, but he is not entirely free from dogmatism. In point of literary workmanship the volumes leave little to be desired.—Adams p. 169

Creighton, Mandell. History of the papacy during the period of the reformation. v. 1-6, O. N. Y. 1897. Longmans $12. 282 C86 e

Not yet complete.

See 2: 289-4: 115

A book of great learning, sobriety and good judgment.—Adams p. 563

Milman, Henry Hart. History of Latin Christianity. 8 v. in 4, D. N. Y. 1889-92. Armstrong $6. 282 M631 e

See Murray ed. 1867, 9: 449-79.

Milman was a distinguished divine of the Church of England, yet his treatment of the popes and of their policy is so liberal that his work received the heartiest commendation of so prominent a catholic as Cardinal Newman . . . Of the numerous works on the history of the church in the middle ages this will generally be found . . . the most readable, the most impartial and the most satisfactory.—Adams p. 183

Thompson, R. W. The papacy and the civil power. 750 p. O. N. Y. 1876. Harper $3. 282 T37 e

Not an ultimate authority, but the best easily accessible sketch of the subject of which it treats. It is hardly judicial in character, but is rather a powerful indictment of the temporal policy of the catholic church.—Adams p. 191

Printing

DeVinne, Theodore Low. Invention of printing. Ed. 2. 557 p. il. O. N. Y. 1878. Hart $8. 655.1 N6 e

In the main a candid compilation from the best authorities, but his conclusions are determined by his practical knowledge of the art. The work is thoroughly popular in conception and literary execution.—Nation, June 1878, 26: 408

Humphreys, Henry Noel. History of the art of printing. 212 p. il. F<sup>4</sup>. Lond. 1868. Quaritch 313s. 655.1 fM7 e

See p. 68-208.

Manners and customs

- Cutts, Edward Lewes. Scenes and characters of the middle ages.
546 p. il. O. Lond. 1872. Virtue 15s. 940.1 e
- Lacroix, Paul. Manners, customs and dress in the middle ages. O.
N. Y. 1876? Appleton $12. o. p.

The importance of the material brought together, the skill of the description, and the artistic execution of the illustrations have given this book a recognized and permanent value.—Adams p. 181

- Shaw, Henry. Dresses and decorations of the middle ages. 2 v.
pl. Q. Lond. 1858. Bell £5. 15s. 6d. 391 qSh2 e
- See preface and v. 2, pl. 39-71.

- Litchfield, Frederick. Illustrated history of furniture. Ed. 3. il.
pl. Q. Lond. 1893. Truslove 25s. 749 qL67 e
- See ed. 2, p. 41-54.

ENGLAND

General histories

- Bright, James Franck. History of England. 4 v. maps, D. Lond.
1887-94. Longmans $6.75. 942 B76 e

See 1: 319-54; 2: 355-65.

Clear, careful and accurate, with excellent tables and maps; a magazine of information and in matters of opinion is fully abreast of the latest conclusions and criticisms.—Adams p. 465

- Green, John Richard. Short history of the English people. 4 v.
il. Q. N. Y. 1893-95. Harper $20. 942 qG82: e

Also published in 1v. O, N. Y. 1893, Harper $1.20.

See 2: 546-93.

Rather a commentary on the history of England than history itself. The qualities which have given to the work its great popularity are the brilliancy of its style, the breadth of its generalizations, the vividness with which it portrays the general drift of events, the clearness with which it shows the relation of cause and effect, the prominence which it gives to the literary and social progress of the people.—Adams p. 467

- Knight, Charles. Popular history of England with continuation to 1887 by P. Smith. 3 v. il. O. N. Y. 1893. Warne $20. 942 K74 e

See 2: 64-244.

This history aims to be light and readable without being superficial . . . It is not profound, but with the exception of Green, for the general reader, it is probably the best history of England.—Adams p. 470

Lingard, John. History of England. 10 v. O. Lond. 1883.
Nimmo £5 5s. 942 L643 e

See 5: 150-382.

The great Roman catholic authority on the history of England. No history was ever more violently assailed, and yet the author succeeded in vindicating himself from the most serious charges brought against him. The work is pervaded by a strong bias, but aside from this drawback it is the best general history before 1688.—Adams p. 471

Special histories

Foster, John. Historical and biographical sketches. 3 v. O.
Lond. 1860. Murray 12s. 942 F77 e

See 'Plantagenets and the Tudors,' 1: 209-20.

Gairdner, James. The houses of Lancaster and York. 261p. maps, D.
N. Y. 1891. Scribner $1 (Epochs of modern history)
942.04 G12 e

See p. 155-253.

The defect of Mr Gairdner's succinct and clear narrative is that it does not bring into sufficient relief the points which make the wars of the roses noteworthy.—Nation, Ap. 1875, 20: 226

Ramsay, Sir James H. Lancaster and York. 2 v. por. maps, O.
Oxford 1892. Clarendon press 36s. 942.04 R14 e

See 2: 125-558.

The work is well done, sober and conscientious. The materials are not copious nor of the best kind, but the author has not tried to get out of them more than was really there.—Nation, July 1892, 55: 71

Moberly, Charles Edward. The early Tudors. 249 p. il. map, S.
N. Y. 1892. Scribner $1 (Epochs of modern history)

See p. 1-78.

A work which by its thoroughness of preparation, soberness of judgment, and interesting style is well worthy of a place in its series.—Nation, Aug. 1887, 45: 141

Busch, Wilhelm. England under the Tudors; tr. by A. M. Todd.
v. 1, O. Lond. 1895. Innes 16s. net.

By an eminent German authority. The period of Henry 7 is one which now almost for the first time has received the detailed treatment which its importance merits.—Academy, Aug. 1895, 48: 156

Constitutional histories

- Langmead, Thomas Pitts Taswell. English constitutional history ;
4th ed. revised . . . with notes . . . by C. H. E. Carmichael.
883 p. O. Lond. 1890. Stevens 21s. 342.429 L26 c

See p. 336-91.

Brief and complete, covering the entire ground and containing the results of the latest scholarship. The arrangement is original and very excellent.—Nation, Ap. 1876, 22 : 284

- Gneist, Rudolf. Student's history of the English parliament. 462 p. O.
N. Y. 1887. Putnam $3. 328.429 G53 c

See p. 196-211.

- Stubbs, William. Constitutional history of England. 3 v. D. N. Y.
1878. Macmillan $7.80. 342.429 St9 c

See 3 : 158-286.

This is incomparably superior to all other general authorities on the period of which it treats. With a spirit of sober earnestness the author has brought to his work unrivaled familiarity with the original sources of information, untiring industry, coolness of judgment and keenness of discrimination.—Adams p. 509

Social histories, manners, etc.

- Traill, Henry Duff. Social England, a record of the progress of the people in religion, laws, learning, arts, industry, commerce, science, literature and manners . . . by various authors. 6 v. O. N. Y.
1894-97. Putnam $3.50 each. 942 T68 c

See 2 : 306-573

There is too great a multiplicity of interests and disproportion in treatment of topics, but the volumes contain a great deal of good work, and are exceedingly valuable.—Nation, May 1894, 58 : 372

- Cunningham, William. Growth of English industry and commerce.
2 v. O. Camb. (Eng.) 1890-92. University press 34 s. 330.9 C91 c

See 1 : 366-89, 418-28.

The author undertakes to produce . . . a succinct, comprehensive and judicious summary of the development of English commerce and industry . . . and in many respects he is successful. The work is disappointing when it comes to the critical observation of the forces at work in the history which it represents.—Nation, Feb. 1893, 56 : 112

Denton, William. England in the 15th century. 337 p. O. Lond.
1888. Bell 12s. 914.2 D43 e

See p. 127-308.

This work shows wide erudition, sober good sense, vigor and picturesqueness; its obvious defects are due to the premature death of the author. He magnifies the unpleasant and difficult side of life in the middle ages, but his book is a storehouse of valuable material.—Athenaeum, Sep. 1888, p. 279

Greene, Mrs Alice (Stopford). Town life in the 15th century. 2 v. O.
N. Y. 1894. Macmillan $5. 352.042 G82 e

This is a remarkable and most interesting work; it shows some mistakes in judgment and theories, but is suggestive, original and earnest.—Athenaeum June 1894, p. 765

Wright, Thomas, ed. Political poems and songs relating to English history. Composed during the period from the accession of Edward III to that of Richard III. 2 v. O. Lond. 1861. Longmans 20s.

An invaluable collection. In no way can we learn more of the ideas and feelings of the people of this period than by an inspection of their crude lyric poetry.—Adams p. 508 — Songs and carols . . . printed from a ms. of the 15th century.

107 p. D. (in Percy society. Publications. 1840-52. v. 23, art. 1) 820.6 P41 e

Paston letters, 1422-1509; new edition . . . ed. by James Gairdner.
3 v. O. Westminster 1896. Constable 15s. 942.04 G121 e

These letters, passing between the members of a family of some note, are probably the best account now extant of social life in England during the latter half of the 15th century . . . The prefaces in Gairdner's edition are of great value to the reader, as they show with much clearness the social animosities that found vent in the wars of the roses.—Adams p. 480

Hill, Georgiana. History of English dress. 2 v. il. O. N. Y. 1893.
Putnam $7.50. 391 H55 e

See 1: 3-9, 115-81.

In spite of some defects of arrangement the book supplies a clear and accurate picture of styles.—Athenaeum, Nov. 1893, p. 667

Literature

Ward, Thomas Humphrey. English poets. 4 v. D. N. Y. 1891-93.
Macmillan $4. 821.08 W21 e

See 1: 147-58.

A delightful collection of the gems of English poetry.—Adams p. 534

Morley, Henry. English writers. v. 1-11, D. Lond. 1887-95.
Cassell 5s. each. 820.9 e

Biography

Strickland, Agnes. Lives of the queens of England. 6 v. D. N. Y.
1888-91. Macmillan $9 (Bohn's lib.) 923.142 St8

A spirited and interesting series of biographical sketches, not, however, of great historical value. The author was moved by strong partialities.—Adams p. 473

Richard 3. Gairdner, James. History of the life and reign of Richard III. Ed. 2. O. Lond. 1879. Longmans 10s. 6d.
923.142 e

Probably no scholar in England is more thoroughly acquainted with the period of Richard 3 than is Mr Gairdner; and since the publication of this volume all doubt in regard to the character of that monarch may be set aside.—Adams p. 480

Henry 7. Stubbs, William. Seventeen lectures on the study of mediaeval and modern history. Ed. 2. O. Oxford 1896.
Clarendon press 8s. 6d. 942 St6 e
See p. 382-424.

— Gairdner, James. Henry the seventh. 219 p. D. N. Y.
1889. Macmillan 60c. (Twelve English statesmen)
923.142 H37g e

Warwick, Robert Dudley, earl of. Oman, Charles William Chadwick. Warwick, the Kingmaker. 243 p. D. N. Y. 1891. Macmillan 60c. (English men of action) E923.242 W26 e

This work is not a biography in the modern sense; the material for a personal portrait is exceedingly scant; but the book is a vigorous coherent study of the men and forces that shaped England in the 15th century.—Literary world, Ap. 1891, 22: 146

Caxton, William. Blades, William. The biography and typography of William Caxton. Ed. 2. 387 p. il. fac-sim. O. N. Y. 1882.
Scribner $2. 926.55 C31 e

Novels, stories and dramas

Shakspeare, William. History of King Henry the sixth; ed. with notes by W. J. Rolfe. 3 v. il. D. N. Y. 1892. Harper $1.68.

SCOTLAND

Burton, John Hill. History of Scotland. Ed. 2. 8 v. and index D.
Edin. 1873-74. Blackwood £3 3s. 941 B95 e

See 2: 424-35; 3: 1-82.

This work has superseded in value all other histories of Scotland; it is clear in style and arranged with an admirable regard for historical perspective.—Adams p. 466

Oliphant, Mrs Margaret Oliphant (Wilson). Royal Edinburgh.
520 p. il. D. Lond. 1890. Macmillan $2.50. 941.44 O13 e

See p. 80-199.

This is a thoroughly popular and interesting book, but it shows carelessness in detail, and an over striving for the picturesque. The illustrations are admirable.—Athenaeum, Dec. 1890, p. 881

Ross, John Merry. Scottish history and literature to the period of the reformation; ed. by James Brown. 420 p. O. Glasgow 1884.
Hamilton 14s. 941 R73 e

A thorough and honest work, engaging in style; a masterly and complete survey of the period and subjects of which it treats.—Athenaeum, June 1884, p. 818

IRELAND

Walpole, Charles George. Kingdom of Ireland. 423 p. maps, D.
N. Y. 1882. Harper $1.75. 941.5 W16 e

See p. 49-58.

The best short history of Ireland that has yet appeared.—Nation, Sep. 1882, 35: 267

Bagwell, Richard. Ireland under the Tudors. 3 v. O. N. Y. 1885-90.
Longmans $6.50. 941.55 e

See 1: 90-93, 102-23.

Shows great learning and is written with such impartiality that it is difficult to detect the author's sympathies.—Adams p. 564

Amusements and sports

- 791 Hopkins, A. A., ed. Magic stage illusions. Munn $2.50.
Explains conjurors' tricks, modern stage effects, automata, magic mirrors, photographic diversions, etc. and outlines history of magic.
- 796 Frazer, P. D. Canoe cruising and camping. Forest and stream $1.
Serviceable directory and hand book.—Literary world
Chapter on photography.

POETRY, ESSAYS, etc.

- 804 a Bates. Arlo. Talks on the study of literature. Houghton $1.50.
Lowell lectures; not limited to discussion of abstract theories, but made practical by concrete examples from classic and current books.
- 809.3 Saintsbury, G: E: B. The flourishing of romance and the rise of allegory (Periods of European literature: no. 2) Scribner $1.50.
12th and 13th centuries. His style in spite of its mannerisms is always sprightly and attractive.—W. M. Payne in Dial
- 810.9 b Mitchell, D. G. American lands and letters. Scribner $2.50.
Graceful and kindly biographic sketches, including much personal reminiscence, of authors born before the 19th century. Admirable illustrations and typography.
- 810.9 Tyler, M. C. Literary history of the American revolution, 1763–1783. 2v. Putnam $3.
Sets forth the inward history of the revolution, its ideas, spiritual moods, passions, caprices and whims.—Preface
Fully represents both whigs and tories. Follows his History of American literature during colonial times.
- 811.04 b Knowles, F: L. comp Golden treasury of American songs and lyrics. Page $1.25.
147 poems by 61 writers from Freneau to Lloyd Mifflin. Roughly chronologic arrangement. Of much interest and charm.
- 811.43 Stedman, E. C. Poems now first collected. Houghton $1.50.
Songs, ballads, commemorations and other poems of the last 20 years.
- 811.49 Gilder, R: W. For the country. Century $1.
Written for patriotic occasions and in memory of great soldiers.

Kirk, John Foster. History of Charles the Bold, Duke of Burgundy.
3 v. il. maps, O. Phil. 1864-89. Lippincott $6. 944.4 K63 e

A book of very considerable importance. The author had access to a large quantity of original sources, and he has made judicious use of them. In no other work have we so good a picture of the desperate struggle for the establishment of an independent monarchy along the Rhine.—Adams p. 338

Comines, Phillippe de. Memoirs, containing the history of Louis XI and Charles XII, and of Charles the Bold; ed. by A. R. Scoble.
2 v. D. Lond. 1855? Macmillan $1 each (Bohn's lib.)

944.027 C731 e

The author has been called the father of modern history. He had every opportunity if not every qualification for writing the history which he attempted, having been chamberlain and counselor of both Louis 11 and Charles the Bold.—Adams p. 337

Challamel, Augustin. History of fashions in France; from the French by Mrs Cashel Hoey and John Lillie. 293 p. pl. Q. N. Y. 1882.
Scribner $10. 391.2 qC35 e

See p. 61-70.

The book shows great research and minute detail.—Literary world, Dec. 1882, 13: 427

Van Laun, Henri. History of French literature. 3 v. O. Lond. 1883. Chatto 22s. 6d. 840.9 V32 e

See 1: 215-19, 245-57.

A convenient summary, apparently founded as much on standard histories of French literature as on original study. It has numerous faults, and shows evidence of haste in preparation, but is spirited and enthusiastic in style.—Adams p. 396

Saintsbury, George Edward Bateman. Short history of French literature. Ed. 3. 608 p. D. Oxford 1889. Clarendon press 10s. 6d. E840.9 Sa21 e

See p. 155-67.

Novels

Hugo, Victor Marie. Notre-Dame de Paris; tr. from the French by I. F. Hapgood. D. N. Y. 1895. Crowell $1 (Standard ed.)
W843.78 R e

Scott, Sir Walter. Quentin Durward. N. Y. 1895. Macmillan $1.25 (Dryburgh ed.) 823.73 U7 e

A story of Louis 11,

Scott, Sir Walter. Anne of Geierstein. N. Y. 1895. Macmillan
$1.25 (Dryburgh ed.) 823.73 I e

Describes the union of the Swiss with Louis II against Charles the Bold, and the battle of Nancy.

Reade, Charles. The cloister and the hearth. New ed. 4 v. D.
Lond. 1893. Chatto 14s. 823.89 R22 e

A very good historical novel of the time of Charles the Bold. The hero is supposed to be the father of Erasmus.

Stevenson, Robert Louis. A lodging for the night; a story of Francis Villon. (see his New Arabian nights. 1882. p.245-93)
823.89 St4n e

ITALY

General histories

Hunt, William. History of Italy. 273 p. D. N. Y. 1884. Holt 80c.
E945 H91 e

See p. 100-38.

As a bird's-eye view of the continuous history of Italy this volume has no superior.—Adams p. 238

Spalding, William. Italy and the Italian islands. Ed. 4. 3 v. D.
N. Y. 1842. Harper $2.25. 908 Ed 4v. 29-31 e

A work which has the rare merits of general accuracy, of literary finish and of judicial impartiality. Intended for the general reader, it claims no special merit for original research.—Adams p. 240

Sismondi, Jean Charles Leonard Simonde de. History of the Italian republics. S. N. Y. n. d. Harper 75c. 945 Si8 e

See p. 196-248.

Sismondi has been considered an authority ever since his work was published. His judgment is discriminating and impartial, his investigations thorough. But more recent investigations have thrown new light on Italian affairs of the middle ages, so that the author's conclusions can not now be considered final.—Adams p. 240

Burckhardt, Jacob. Civilization of the renaissance in Italy; tr. by
S. G. C. Middlemore. Ed. 2. 559 p. O. Lond. 1892. Sonnen-
schein 10s. 6d. (Half guinea international lib.) 945.05 B89 e

Covers the period from 14th-16th century.

Its chief value is as a work of reference. It discusses the renaissance in its literary, social, political and moral aspects. The translator has not made the involved German style any easier reading.—Athenaeum, Aug. 1878, p. 169

- 914.5    c Bazin, René.    Italians of to-day.    Holt $1.25.

Travel notes by a French observer who shows unusual sympathy, judgment in choice of subjects and freedom from prejudice.

- 914.53    b Smith, F. H.    Gondola days.    Houghton $1.50.

Reminiscences of an artist whose eye is sensitive to form, color and picturesque effects. Published also, with more sumptuous illustrations, under title Venice of to-day, by H. T. Thomas co. and sold by subscription.

- 914.96    c Ramsay, W. M.    Impressions of Turkey, during 12 years' wanderings.    Putnam $1.73.

On the whole the best work on the Eastern question.—Nation
Treats of people, life and conditions, political situation, missionary influences, etc.

- 915.19    c Bishop, Mrs I. B.    Korea and her neighbors.    Revell $2.

Best book on Korea. Observations before, during and after the China-Japanese war. Particularly full on political and industrial aspects. Excellent maps.

- 915.2    c Hearn, Lafcadio.    Gleanings in Buddha-fields.    Houghton $1.25.

A living God, About faces in Japanese art, Buddhist allusions in Japanese folk-lore, Nirvana, and other essays.

- 915.2    La Farge, John.    An artist's letters from Japan.    Century $4.

First published in Century, 1890-91. Interesting for artist's discriminating appreciations rather than in mere traveler's information.

- 916.8    c Bigelow, Poultney.    White man's Africa.    Harper $2 50.

Describes conditions in the colonized region extending from the Cape of Good Hope 1000 miles northeastward. Readable and fairly comprehensive and impartial.

- 916.8    a Bryce, James.    Impressions of South Africa.    Century $3.50.

The most satisfactory and authoritative account of physical features, climate, conditions, history and race problems. Clear style and sane estimates. Partly published in Century. Valuable maps.

- 917.3    c Fisher, S. G.    Men, women and manners in colonial times. 2 v.    Lippincott $3.

Portrays social affairs in the 13 colonies in light vein somewhat like that of Mrs Alice Morse Earle. Excellent photogravures.

- 917.44    Garrett, E. H.    Romance and reality of the puritan coast.    Little $2.

A cyclist's description of the Massachusetts shore from Nahant to Annisquam, with charming pen-and-ink drawings.

- 917.4727 Bacon, E. M. Chronicles of Tarrytown and Sleepy Hollow. Putnam $1.25.

Early life, interesting houses, legends, and bits of local history chiefly relating to revolutionary period.

- 917.8 c Hough, E. Story of the cowboy. (Story of the West ser.) Appleton $1.50.

An uncommon study of a type . . . not all good, not half bad—just a man shaped by the frontier; rude but fairly heroic.—Nation

- 919.8 a Nansen, Fridtjof. Farthest north. 2 v. Harper $10.

Experiences of the Norwegian polar expedition, 1893–96. Of interest to lovers of science, fascinating as adventure, inspiring as revelation of heroism.

Also published in 1 v. Popular ed. 679 p. N. Y. 1898. Harper $3. Omits some illustrations and all maps.

History of foreign countries

- 940.7 Johnson, A. H. Periods of European history, ed. by Arthur Hassall. Period 4, 1494–1598. Macmillan, net $1.75.

He has done his best to explain the position of each individual or party without letting loose his moral indignation.—Saturday review

- 942.08 a McCarthy, Justin. History of our own times. v. 3. Harper $1.75.

Continues his well-known work and covers English history from 1880 to the Diamond jubilee. June 1897.

- 944.034 c Perkins, J. B. France under Louis 15. 2v. Houghton $4.

1723–74. He has produced a piece of sound scholarship without slighting either arrangement or style.—Nation

- 944.04 McCarthy, J. H. French revolution. v. 2. Harper $1.50.

Concluding volume. From events immediately following fall of Bastille to close of constituent assembly, 1791. v. 1 published in 1890.

- 944.08 c Coubertin, Pierre de, baron. Evolution of France under the Third republic. Crowell $3.

Political history from Sep. 4, 1871 to death of President Carnot, with chapters on the church, education, the army and social matters.

Strikingly impartial. The most complete and best composed contemporary history of France thus far published in French or English.—Political science quarterly

- 946.07 b Latimer, Mrs M. E. W. Spain in the 19th century. McClurg $2.50.

Outline of recent Spanish history with chapter on Cuban affairs. Readable and excellent for popular use.

— Milman, Henry Hart. Savonarola, Erasmus and other essays.

Lond. 1870. Murray 15s.

204 M63 e

The picture of Savonarola is drawn by a master hand, and shows the author's extensive learning, vigorous style and pictorial brilliancy.—Athenæum, Nov. 1870, p. 684

— Clarke, James Freeman. Events and epochs of religious history.

Bost. 1881. Houghton $2.

270 C55 e

Savonarola, p. 213-40.

VENICE

Brown, Horatio Robert Forbes. Venice; an historical sketch of the republic. 434 p. maps, O. N. Y. 1893. Putnam $4.50.

945.3 B81 e

See p. 298-337.

Those who incline to tell the story again will need to possess not only immense industry but very great judgment and literary skill to make a volume which will better meet the demands of intelligent readers than this.—Literary world, Ap. 1893, 24:108

Hazlitt, William Carew. History of the Venetian republic. 4 v. il. map, O. Lond. 1860. Smith, Elder £2 8s. o. p.

See 4: 186-381.

A full, and in the main a satisfactory, history of Venice from the origin of the city to the middle of the 15th century. It is founded on a careful study of the authorities, the style is clear and often picturesque.—Adams p. 255

Wiel, Althea. Story of Venice. 478 p. il. maps, D. N. Y. 1894. Putnam $1.50 (Story of the nations)

945.3 W63 e

See p. 271-333.

One of the best of the series. It is in the main well told, bringing out important historical events, art, literature, etc.—Nation, Nov. 1894, 59:326

Oliphant, Mrs Margaret Oliphant (Wilson). Makers of Venice. 411 p. il. D. N. Y. 1891. Macmillan $2.50.

945.3 Ol3 e

See p. 374-90.

A selection of the more dramatic and romantic incidents of Venetian history, told with unusual charm; the author's characterizations are written from the novelist's point of view.—Sperry. Reading list on Venice

GENOA

Bent, James Theodore. Genoa; how the republic rose and fell.
420 p. il. O. Lond. 1881. Paul 18s. 945.1 e

See p. 185-98, 209-17.

Johnson, Virginia W. Genoa the superb, the city of Columbus.
298 p. pl. D. Bost. 1892. Estes $3. 914.51 e

An account of the people who have lived in Genoa in the past, and a description of its life at the present time. The book is, however, largely made up of the author's own highly colored impressions, interspersed with many interesting facts. There is much picturesque description, but the author has no sense of the relative importance of things.—Nation, Jan. 1893, 56:71

Duffy, Bella. Tuscan republics. 456 p. il. map, D. N. Y. 1892.
Putnam $1.50 (Story of the nations) 945.5 D87 e

See p. 253-391.

Shows careful reading, comparison and judgment; very readable.—Literary world, 1893

Lacks insight and power of historical perspective; a careful compilation.—Nation, Ap. 1893, 56:261

NAPLES

Waters, Mrs Clara Erskine (Clement.) Naples, 1188-1894. 340 p.
il. O. Bost. 1894. Estes $3. Cap945.7 W29 e

Novels

Eliot, George, pseud. Romola. N. Y. 1895. Crowell $1 (Standard ed.) 823.88 I

The scene is in Florence under the rule of Lorenzo di Medici; the revival of taste for Greek ideals in letters and art is splendidly contrasted with the austere piety of Savonarola.—Iles p. 13

Stowe, Harriet Beecher. Agnes of Sorrento. Bost. 1896. Houghton $1.50 (Riverside ed.)

A story of Savonarola.

SPAIN

General works

Burke, Ulick Ralph. History of Spain. 2 v. O. Lond. 1895.
Long 32s. 946 B91 e

See 2: 31-33, 39-61, 70-293.

The material of this book is not new, but it is taken from a wide range of reading, and presents the results of recent research. The author has a keen eye for the picturesque; his conclusions are in the main just.—Nation, May 1895, 60:349

Prescott, William Hickling. History of the reign of Ferdinand and Isabella. 3 v. D. Phil. 1872. Lippincott $3. 946.03 P92 e

Prescott's writings are conspicuous for thoroughness of research, keenness of insight, impartiality of judgment, picturesqueness of narration and elegance of style. As a description of the important period of the consolidation of Spain from a number of petty governments into what was practically one kingdom this work has no rival.—Adams p. 438

Coppée, Henry. History of the conquest of Spain by the Arab-Moors. 2 v. D. Bost. 1892. Little $5. 946.02 C79 e

See 2:259-74.

This volume will be read with pleasure from beginning to end, though it is somewhat defective as a history.—Nation, Ap. 1881, 32:82

Watts, Henry Edward. Christian recovery of Spain; the story of Spain from the Moorish conquest to the fall of Granada. 315 p. il. maps, D. N. Y. 1894. Putnam $1.50 (Story of the nations) 946.02 W34 e

See p. 257-301.

Commendable in many ways. The author is in full sympathy with his subject. Shows some independent thought and writes in a vigorous style.—Nation, June 1894, 58:469

Irving, Washington. The Alhambra. N. Y. 1896. Putnam $1.50. (Hudson ed.) 914.6 Ir82 e

— Conquest of Granada. N. Y. 1896. Putnam $1.50 (Hudson ed.) 817.24 I e

Ticknor, George. History of Spanish literature. New ed. 3 v. O. Bost. 1891. Houghton $10. 860.9 T43 e

See 1:1-46.

Founded on the most extensive and critical studies, it is written in a style that is a happy combination of force and grace. The author's method of treatment combines the chronological and the philosophical.—Adams p. 439

Novels and poems

Cooper, James Fenimore. Mercedes of Castile. O. N. Y. 1896. Putnam $1.25 (Mohawk ed.) 813.24 I e

Aguilar, Grace. Tale of Cedars. N. Y. 1891. Appleton $1. 823.89 Ag9 e

Camoens, Luis de. Os Lusíadas, the Lusiads; Englished by R: F. Burton, ed. by Isabel Burton. 2 v. S. Lond. 1880. Quaritch 12s. 869.1 C14lu e

Grant. Church, W: C. Ulysses S. Grant (Heroes of the nations) Putnam $1.50.

Relates simple facts without comment, but conveys a highly favorable impression. Gives due consideration to his civil career.

— Wilson, J. G. General Grant (Great commanders ser.) Appleton $1.50.

Deals chiefly with his military career. Letters to E. B. Washburne, first published here, are of special interest.

Lee. White, H: A. Robert E. Lee and the southern confederacy. 1807-70 (Heroes of the nations) Putnam $1.50.

He has advantages over earlier biographers, but the ideal life, just, appreciative, and unprejudiced, is yet to be written.

c Marie Antoinette, queen of France. Bicknell, A. L. Story of Marie-Antoinette. Century $3.

Faithful yet sympathetic popular account. Pictures clearly the disordered conditions at court. Beautifully printed and illustrated.

b Nelson. Mahan, A. T. Life of Nelson, the embodiment of the sea power of Great Britain. 2 v. Little $8.

Treats with full competence the three aspects involved—personal, professional and political.—Nation

Renan. Darmesteter, Mrs A. M. F. Life of Ernest Renan. Houghton $1.50.

There is much learning in this little book, much poetic feeling and expression, and bright bits of characterization.—Literature

Schofield. Schofield, J: M. Forty-six years in the army. Century $3.

Notes and comments on events he had part in rather than connected biography. Throws light on some important points.

c Schuyler. Humphreys, M. G. Catherine Schuyler (Women of colonial and revolutionary times) Scribner $1.25.

Catherine Van Rensselaer, wife of Gen. Philip Schuyler. Describes Dutch colonial life, and society of revolutionary period in Albany.

a Stowe. Stowe, Mrs H. B. Life and letters; ed. by A. Fields. Houghton $2.

Delightful and inspiring, rich in biographical essentials . . . Compact and workmanlike, full of pith and guiltless of padding.—Dial

Stuart, Charles Edward, the Young Pretender. Lang, Andrew.
Pickle the Spy. Longmans $5.

Actual history of romantic quality. Concerns the Young Pretender and Macdonell of Glengarry, a Hanoverian agent in Jacobite mask.

b Tennyson. Tennyson, Hallam. Alfred, Lord Tennyson.
2 v. Macmillan, net $10.

Authoritative, replete with interesting matter, it greatly enlarges public knowledge of the poet's spiritual life, literary judgments and artistic methods.

c Washington. Wharton, A. H. Martha Washington (Women of colonial and revolutionary times, no. 5) Scribner $1.25.

Painstaking and truthful portrait, not a fancy sketch of the conventional 'Lady Washington.'—Dial

FICTION

See also Juvenile fiction p. 333

a Allen, J. L. The choir invisible. Macmillan $1.50.

Idyllic story of life and character on the Kentucky frontier, 1795. Recasts to great advantage material used in John Gray.

Barnes, James. A loyal traitor. Harper $1.50.

War of 1812. Told by the sailor hero.

Barr, Mrs A. E. Prisoners of conscience. Century $1.50.

Story of fisherfolk in the Shetland isles. Somber but not gloomy in tone.

Briscoe, M. S. Jimty and others. Harper $1.50.

The tales are of widely differing genres, yet each is equally finished and there is not a trace of monotony.—Critic

c Catherwood, Mrs M. H. Days of Jeanne D'Arc. Century $1.50.

Careful study of period, impressing reader with the moral beauty and valor of the inspired peasant maid. First published in Century.

—— The spirit of an Illinois town. Houghton $1.25.

Contemporary life in a bustling town. Contains, also, 'The little Reynault,' a pathetic story of Illinois life in 1680.

Converse, Florence. Diana Victrix. Houghton $1.25.

RUSSIA

N. Y. 1893. Putnam $1.50 (Story of the nations) 947 M81 e

See p. 50-61.

One of the best of the series; impartial and accurate.—Nation, June 1890, 50:5111

Rambaud, Alfred Nicolas. History of Russia. 3 v. il. O. Bost.
1879-82. Estes $6. 947 R14 e

See p. 213-37.

By far the best history of Russia accessible in English. Based on original materials. It has the merits of thoroughness, while it is made up with so good judgment and so fine a sense of proportion that the perspective leaves nothing to be desired. The translation by N. H. Dole is excellent.—Adams p. 411

DENMARK, NORWAY AND SWEDEN

Boyesen, Hjalmar Hjorth. Story of Norway. 556 p. il. map, D.
N. Y. 1892. Putnam $1.50 (Story of the nations) 948.1 B69 e

See p. 478-81.

A valuable and interesting book. Its style is entertaining, but it suffers from much crowding.—Nation, Sep. 1886, 43:276

Otte, Elizabeth C. Scandinavian history. 399 p. maps, S. N. Y.
1874. Macmillan $1.25. 948 Ot8 e

See p. 198-211.

The best general history in our language of all the Scandinavian countries. The style is smooth and the interest well sustained.—Iles p. 54

Dunham, Samuel Astley. History of Denmark, Sweden and Norway. New ed. 3 v. D. Lond. 1847. Longmans 16s. 6d.

See 3:30-51.

As a brief history of Scandinavia these volumes still have no superior in English.—Adams p. 453

POLAND

Morfill, William Richard. Story of Poland. 389 p. il. map, D.
N. Y. 1893. Putnam $1.50 (Story of the nations) 943.8 M81 e

See p. 55-63.

Dunham, Samuel Astley. History of Poland. O. Lond. 1847.
Longmans 4s. 6d. o. p.

This excellent volume is not a mere compilation, but is founded on original research and the material is wrought into admirable form.—Adams p. 414

BOHEMIA

Maurice, Charles Edmund. Story of Bohemia. 533 p. il. map, D. N. Y. 1896. Putnam $1.50 (Story of the nations)

943.71 M44 e

See p. 321-57.

A clear, succinct narrative.—Athenaeum, July 1896, p. 119

HUNGARY

Vàmèrby, Arminius. Story of Hungary. 440 p. il. map, D. N. Y. 1866. Putnam $1.50 (Story of the nations)

943.9 e

See p. 194-266.

An accurate and full account, but rather heavy.—Critic, Oct. 1886, 9:206

Style pleasing but not altogether clear.—Literary world, Feb. 1887, 18:58

SWITZERLAND

Hug, Lina & Stead, Richard. Story of Switzerland. 430 p. il. D N. Y. 1890. Putnam $1.50 (Story of the nations)

949 e

An excellent volume. The flowing and picturesque narrative does justice to all sides of Swiss life.—Literary world, Jan. 1891, 22:11

Baker, F. Grenfell. Model republic; a history of the Swiss people. 550 p. maps, O. Lond. 1895. Nichols 10s. 6d. 949.4 B17 e

See p. 193-214.

A plain, straightforward narrative, written with vigor and keen interest, its criticism is alert but sympathetic. The book does not claim originality, but is a careful digest of existing authorities.—Athenaeum, Oct. 1895, p. 489

BYZANTINE EMPIRE

Poole, Stanley Lane-. Story of Turkey. 373 p. il. maps, D. N. Y. 1893. Putnam $1.50 (Story of the nations)

949.6 P78 e

See p. 101-51.

Grosvenor, Edwin Augustus. Constantinople. 2 v. il. maps, Q. Bost. 1895. Roberts $10.

914.961 G91 e

See 1:40-58.

These volumes are chiefly of interest from the archeological standpoint, but the historical portion is clear, concise and useful.—Spectator, Jan. 1896, 76:19

Freeman, Edward Augustus. Ottoman power in Europe. 315 p. maps, D. Lond. 1877. Macmillan 7s. 6d. o. p. 949.6 F871 e

See p. 114-27.

The conspicuous characteristic as well as the great merit of the book is the fact that it deals with eastern and Mohammedan affairs from a western and European point of view.—Adams p. 445

c Murfree, M. . N. The juggler. Houghton $1.25.

Under peculiar circumstances, a young man reported dead and buried lives under an assumed name in the Tennessee mountains. First published in Atlantic monthly.

Noble, A. L. Professor's dilemma. Putnam $1.

Travel and somewhat complicated love affairs of Americans in Egypt. Light and entertaining.

Prince, Mrs H. C. A transatlantic chatelaine. Houghton $1.25.

An American girl's married life in a French chateau. Story culminates during Franco-Prussian war.

Rayner, E. Free to serve. Copeland $1.50.

Colonial New York in the early 18th century. Romantic adventures of a well-born English girl as a bond-servant.

Roberts, C: G: D. Forge in the forest. Lamson $1.50.

Historical romance of Acadia, 1746-47.

c Scott, H. S. In Kedar's tents. Dodd $1.25.

Love and thrilling adventures. Scene, Spain in 1838, where the Irish hero is under suspicion as a Carlist spy.

Seawell, M. E. History of Lady Betty Stair. Scribner $1.25.

Scene at the court of the French exiles at Holyrood palace, Edinburgh, 1798, and later in France and Algiers.

a Steel, Mrs F. A. On the face of the waters. Macmillan $1.50.

Indian mutiny 1857-58. Of extraordinary value and vitality as history and of much power as fiction.

b Stevenson, R. L: St Ives. Scribner $1.50.

Exciting adventures of a French prisoner escaped from Edinburgh castle. Concluding chapters by A. Quiller-Couch. First published in McClure's magazine.

Stimson, F. J. Mrs Knollys, and other stories. Scribner $1.50.

Commended to those who like stories that will bear to be read slowly, with pauses to taste and appreciate the quality.—Critic

Stockton, F. R: A story teller's pack. Scribner $1.50.

When Mr Stockton returns to his short stories he comes again into his own, and we into ours.—Nation

Lummis, Charles Fletcher. Spanish pioneers. 292 p. il. D. Chic.
1893. McClurg $1.50. 873.1 L97 e

See p. 17-55.

Mr Lummis' ardor, positive manner and command of his subject are compelling if not always convincing. Written after the new historic methods.—Literary world, Feb. 1894, 25:42

Fiske, John. Discovery of America. 2 v. maps, O. Bost. 1892-93.
Houghton $4. 973.1 F54 e

See 1:295-516.

Mr Fiske shows comprehension of the subject, and a strong and precise imagination; the book is not a compilation solely, but a work of independent judgment. It gives a more favorable view of Columbus than Mr Winsor.—Nation, June 1892, 54:449

Windsor, Justin. Narrative and critical history of America. 8 v. il.
fac-sim. Q. Bost. 1884-89. Houghton $44. 973 qW73 e

Pre-Columbian discoveries, 1:59-132; Columbus, 2:1-128; Vespucci, v. 2:129-86; Other explorers, C2:189-230; Cabots, 3:1-58.

This is the greatest contribution that has been made to the literature of our history. It is first and foremost a scientific work.—Nation, Ap. 1886, 42:302

Biography

Columbus, Christopher. Columbus, Christopher. Writings descriptive of the discovery of the New world; ed. by P. L. Ford. 255p.
D. N. Y. 1892. Webster 75c. (Fiction, fact and fancy ser)
923.9 C71C11 e

— Irving, Washington. Columbus, his life voyages. 412 p. il. O.
N. Y. 1896. Putnam $1.50 (Heroes of the nation)
923.9 C71i4 e

Perhaps the best biography in the language; infused with generous and elevating sentiment. It needs, however, to be revised in the light of the researches since Irving's day.—Critic, Nov. 1896, 29:325

— Markham, Clements Robert. Life of Christopher Columbus.
375 p. il. D. Lond. 1892. Philip 4s. 6d. (World's explorers and explorations) 923.9 C71m1 e

Mr Markham is a ripe student of history but he is biased in his estimate of Columbus by his admiration for the seamanship. He is trustworthy except in regard to the personal character of Columbus.—Nation, Nov. 1892, 55:355

- Christopher Columbus. Winsor, Justin. Christopher Columbus and how he received and imparted the spirit of discovery. 674 p. il. O. Bost 1891. Houghton $4. 923.9 C71w e

It would be hard to find a work which would rival this in thoroughness, scientific method, accuracy and impartiality. It is for those who wish to know the truth about Columbus.—Nation, Jan. 1892, 54 : 13

Mr Winsor has made an invaluable contribution to the critical literature of the discovery of America, but he lacks the power of sympathy and historic imagination which Irving possessed in so strong a degree.—Literary world, Nov. 1891, 22 : 398

- Ponce de Leon, Nestor. Columbus gallery; the 'Discoverer of the New world' as represented in portraits, monuments, statues, medals and paintings. 178 p. Q. N. Y. 1893 N. Ponce de Leon $3 923.9 qC71p e

- Lamb, Mrs Martha. Columbus. (see Magazine of American history, Oct. 1891, 26 241-60) 973 M27 e

An interesting article on the portraits of Columbus.

- Lowell, James Russell. Columbus. (see his Complete poetical works. 1896. p. 55-59) 811.37 I e Cambridge ed.

- Cabot, John & Sebastian. Hayward, Charles. Life of Sebastian Cabot. (see Sparks, Jared. American biographies. 1834-48. 9 : 89-162. 920.07 Sp2 e

- Tarducci, Francesco. John and Sebastian Cabot; tr. from the Italian by H. F. Brownson. 409 p. por. O. Detroit 1893. Brownson $2.50. 923.9 C112 e

Prof. Tarducci is not only very learned, but very acute, and his keenness in historical criticism has established several important facts. The greater part of the book is taken up in the minutest debucation of Sebastian Cabot's life.—Literary world, Sep. 1893, 24 : 285

The translator does not show a sufficient knowledge of the subject to correct the author's slips due to his ignorance of the latest English authorities.—Nation, Dec. 1893, 57 : 433

Dedication to Joan, Toddle and Tiny

Hard is the path from A to Z,
And puzzling to a curly head;
Yet leads to books green, blue and red.

For every child should understand
That letters from the first were planned
To guide us into Fairy land.

So labor at your alphabet,
For by that learning shall you get
To lands where fairies may be met.

And going, where this pathway goes,
You too, at last, may find, who knows?
The garden of the singing rose.

ANDREW LANG, Yellow fairy book

ABBREVIATIONS

This list is intended as an aid in the selection of children's books. Fairy tales in rhyme have been omitted as they form a group by themselves which the compiler hopes to undertake later.

Call numbers are given for all books in the New York State library even though the edition differs from that described in the list. The class number only is given for books in the extension libraries, while books in the traveling libraries are marked 'Trav. lib.' followed by the number of the library and the book.

Books marked e have been personally examined, while e indicates that the edition examined is not the same as the one entered in the list.

The source of critical notes is given, whether quoted exactly or given in substance; unsigned notes are by the compiler. Volume and page numbers are separated by a colon; e. g. 3:145 means vol. 3, p. 145. When page citations do not refer to the edition described, the edition to which they do refer is indicated in a note.

The following list contains the principal abbreviations used. Other abbreviations are self-explanatory.

Field	Field. The child and his book
Hardy	Hardy. 500 books for the young
Sargent	Sargent. Reading for the young

General

Andersen, H. C. Stories and fairy tales; translated by H. O. Sommer, with 100 pictures by A. J. Gaskin. 2 v. illus. O. N. Y. 1895. Dodd $3.50. c

Complete and revised in a new translation, illustrated after the decorative manner of the Birmingham art school.— Publishers' weekly

It is out of the question to criticize Hans Christian Andersen—is he not the personal friend of the children of the world?

Audubon, H. B. Famous fairy tales, told in words of one syllable. 8 v. illus. Q. Phil. 1879. Lippincott 40c. each.

Contains among other tales, Gulliver in Lilliputland, Puss in boots, Goody Two-Shoes, Jack and the beanstalk.

Aulnoy, M. C. comtesse d'. Fairy tales; newly translated into English with an introduction by Anne Thackeray Ritchie; illustrated by Clinton Peters. New ed. 535 p. illus. sq. D. N. Y. 1895. Scribner $2.50. Cap.843.49 Au 9

The spirit of the stories is essentially characteristic; as we read them we seem to move and live inside a Watteau picture.— Field

Brentano, Clemens. New fairy tales, told in English by K. P. Kroeker. illus. Q. Lond. 1887. Unwin 6s.

A choice selection of the best of these famous tales.— Hardy

Collier, Margaret. Prince Peerless; a fairy book. illus. O. Lond. 1886. Unwin 5s.

Old-fashioned marvelous fairy stories with illustrations by author's brother, the famous English painter.— Sargent

Gould, Sabine Baring- Book of fairy tales; with pictures by A. J. Gaskin. 244 p. illus. D. N. Y. 1894. Dodd $2. Cap. 398.4 G73 e

Mr Baring-Gould has attempted something of a revival in the telling of fairy tales and has done a good deal that is deserving of gratitude.—Saturday review

With the exception of perhaps two tales everything that it contains is to be found already in the children's library and assuredly in a better form.—Athenaeum

Lond. 1893. Longmans $2. 398.4 L25 e

Mr Lang's sympathetic nature makes all children congenial to him and he has remained child enough to pick out with infallible taste just what they like.—Critic

— Green fairy book; illustrated by H. J. Ford. 366 p. illus. D.
N. Y. 1892. Longmans $2. Trav. lib. 10, bk 6

Compiled principally from the Grimm brothers and Madame d'Aulnoy, but drawing also from sources as remote as China.—N. Y. state trav. lib. finding list 10

— Red fairy book; illustrated by H. J. Ford, and Launcelot Speed.
Ed. 4. 367 p. illus. D. Lond. 1893. Longmans $2. 398.4 L251 e

Collection of fairy stories from various languages.—N. Y. state trav. lib. finding list 26

— Yellow fairy book; illustrated by H. J. Ford. 321 p. illus. D.
N. Y. 1894. Longmans $2. Cap. 398.4 L252 e

Collected from Russian, German, French, Icelandic and Indian folk lore.

The illustrations are excellent and add much to the interest of the book.—Athenaeum

Mulock, D. M. Fairy book. illus. D. N. Y. 1890. Harper 90c. e

Standard fairy tales retold in the attractive style of their editor.—Hardy

Queen Titania's book of fairy tales. 314 p. illus. sq. O. N. Y. 1887.
American news co. $1. e

A very attractive collection, much enjoyed by the children.

Rhys, Grace, ed. Banbury cross series. 12 v. illus. T. N. Y. 1894-95.
Macmillan 50c. each, $5 per set.

Wellington and his cat, Jack the Giant killer, and other old familiar stories. Written in excellent English and illustrated by artists.—Dial

Special

African

Stanley, H: M. My dark companions and their strange stories. 319 p. illus. O. N. Y. 1893. Scribner $2. Cap. 398.2 St2 e

Weird folktales told by natives around campfires in the wilds of Africa.—
Helena public library. Bulletin

The explorer of the heart of the 'Dark continent' and the companion of savages and cannibals should surely have a store of tales and legends for every reader.

American indians

Compton, Margaret. The snowbird and the water tiger. 201 p. illus. D. N. Y. 1895. Dodd $1.50. Cap. 398.2 C73 e

It was a happy idea for Miss Compton to present a certain number of American indian tales for the amusement of the young, and she has executed her task so as to produce a pleasant and entertaining volume.—Nation

Lummis, C: F. The men who married the moon and other Pueblo indian folk-stories. 23 p. illus. D. N. Y. 1894. Century $1.50. Cap. 398.2 L97 e

The author lived for five years among the Pueblo indians of Mexico, and has written out these stories for boys and girls.—Publishers' weekly

Mathews, Cornelius. The enchanted moccasins, and other legends of the American indians. 111 p. sq. O. N. Y. 1877. Putnam $1.50. • 398.2 M42 e

The collection deserves a place beside the stories of the Grimm brothers. Full of the freshest poetry of the race.—New York tribune

Published also under the titles: Indian fairy book, Hiawatha and other legends of the wigwam.

British

Ewing, Mrs J. H. Lob-lie-by-the-fire; The brownies and other tales. il. sq. O. N. Y. 1893. Crowell $1.25 (Children's classics) 823.89 Ew5 e

WONDER TALES, PICTURESQUE AND GROTESQUE

Short stories

Alcott, L. . M. Lulu's library. v. 1, 269 p. illus. S. Bost. 1889. Roberts $1. e

Contains 12 pretty little stories for the youngest readers.—Publishers' weekly

— — v. 2, 275 p. S. Bost. 1887. Roberts $1. e

Contains among other stories, The frost king and how the fairies conquered him, Lilybell and Thistledown, Ripple the watersprite, Eva's visit to fairyland. Miss Alcott has a most wholesome and fascinating power over children and her fairy tales are to be highly commended.

Brabourne, E. H. Knatchbull-Hugessen, baron. The magic oak tree and Prince Filderkin. 173 p. illus. S. N. Y. 1894. Macmillan 75c. Cap.823.89 B721 e

These fairy tales are quite as delightful as anything the author's vivacious fancy ever conceived.—Critic

Francis, Beata. Gentlemanly giant and other denizens of the Never Never forest. 40 Lond. 1897. Hodder 3s. 6d. e

Contents: Gentlemanly giant; Lotis and the lily; The pink cat; News of the pink cat; The carrier pigeon; The silver bird.

Golden fairy book; illustrated by H. R. Millar. 312 p. illus. sq. O. N. Y. 1894. Appleton $2. Cap.398.4 G56 e Comprising stories by famous authors—Jokai, George Sand, Laboulaye, Souvestre, Dumas, Voltaire, and others.

The Golden fairy book though not golden to the outward view is not wanting in golden stuff within. Mr Millar's drawings, though a trifle sketchy at times and indeterminate are not without spirit and humor.—Saturday review

Hauff, William. Fairy tales; from the German by P. E. Pinkerton. 303 p. illus. D. Phil. 1895. McKay 75c. e

An exuberance of childlike fancy, half dream and half grave truth, delights us in Hauff.—Eclectic magazine

Housman, Laurence. A farm in fairyland. 160 p. illus. D. N. Y. 1894. Dodd $2.

Contents: Rockinghorse land; Japonel; Gammelyn the dressmaker; The wooing of the maze; The rooted lover; The horse with the hump; Hidden ends; The parlous tree; McMoonie in the sleeping palace; The green bird; The man who killed the cuckoo; The shadow weavers.

Howells, W: D. Christmas every day and other stories. 150 p. illus. D. N. Y. 1893. Harper $1.25. Trav. lib. 11, bk 27

Mr Howells shows in these tales an unexpected tenderness lurking in a corner of his capacious heart—a tenderness for children under a veil of humor that is particularly attractive and also a grotesque yet merry fancy which can not fail to delight them.—Critic

Jenks, Tudor. Imaginations; truthless tales. 230 p. O. N. Y. 1894. Century $1.50. e

Uncommon and alluring stories, unequal in merit, but all good enough and some very good.—Literary world

The readers of St Nicholas will recognize many of the stories.—Publishers' weekly

Century $1.50. Cap.823.89 K624j e

Rousseau's writings gave Voltaire a yearning to go down on all fours and a perusal of Mr Kipling's book has left me merely undecided as to which I should rather be, a seal or a mongoose.—Zangrill

— The second jungle book; decorated by J. L. Kipling. 324 p.
illus. D. N. Y. 1895. Century $1.50. Cap.823.89 K624s e

Nothing could be of more absorbing interest to children; yet so artistic a book should not be confined to them alone. When one encounters work as original, as imaginative, as masterly as this no words can convey the idea of the thing itself.—Dial

Lang, Andrew. My own fairy book; namely certain chronicles of Pantouflia, as notably the adventures of Prigio and of his son Ricardo. 312 p. illus. D. N. Y. 1895. Longmans $2. 823 89 L25m e

MacDonald, George. The light princess and other fairy tales, illustrated by Maud Humphrey. 305 p. illus. O. N. Y. 1893. Putnam $2. Cap.823.89 M14 e

These writings for children are remarkable for spirituality, grace, and delicacy of touch; and the charms of the illustrations add much to the whole.—Putnam

Munkittrick, R: K. Moon prince and other nabobs. 304 p. illus. D. N. Y. 1893. Harper $1.25 (Harper's young people ser.) e

One of the most delightfully original books of fairy tales which we have seen in a long time, the volume should give the author high rank among the writers of fairy tales.—Literary world

O'Neill, Moira. Elf-errant; illustrated by W. E. F. Britten. 109 p. illus. D. N. Y. 1895. Dodd $1.50.

The style is as light as thistledown, exquisite as a hare-bell and Miss O'Neill has the poetic instinct which alone can make fairyland.—Dial

Ortoli, Frederic. Evening tales; done into English from the French by J. C. Harris. 280 p. D. N. Y. 1893. Scribner $1. 398.2 Or8 e

Wonder stories of animals and fairy tales.—N. Y. state trar. lib. finding list 14

Pyle, Howard. Pepper and salt; or, Seasoning for young folks. Q. N. Y. 1895. Harper $2. e

Eight clever fairy tales.—Helena public library. Bulletin

Pyle, Howard. Twilight land. 438 p. illus. O. N. Y. 1895. Harper $2.50. Cap.813.49 P99t e

There are 16 stories, each introduced with a little prelude. Mr Pyle has illustrated as well as written the book. Publishers' weekly

— The wonder clock . . . embellished with verses by Katharine Pyle. 318 p. illus. O. N. Y. 1888. Harper $3. Trav. lib. 16, bk 47 e

24 wonderful tales, one for each hour of the day; quaintly told by the author who has stepped into Wonderland for his stories.—Hardy

Silver fairybook; illustrated by H. R. Millar. 312 p. illus. D. N. Y. 1895. Putnam $2 Cap.808.8 Si3 e

Collection of tales by well known people, Bernhardt, Moreau, Voltaire, Hauff, Marquier, and others.

The Christmas story by Miss Sarah Bernhardt is horrible and should never have been included in a book for children. The other selections are fairy stories that will delight the many children who receive this book on Christmas.—Outlook

Stockton, F. R. Fanciful tales; edited with notes for use in the schools by J. E. Langworthy. 135 p. illus. D. N. Y. 1894. Scribner 50c. 813.49 St6fa e

Contents Old Pipes and the dryad; Clocks of Rondane; The bee-man of Orn; The griffin and the minor canon; The Christmas truants.

Our author has the gift of mixing the wonderful with the commonplace in so natural a manner that we should not be startled at meeting dryads, griffins and hobgoblins in our daily walks abroad.

INDEX TO SUBJECT BIBLIOGRAPHIES

IN

LIBRARY BULLETINS TO DECEMBER 31, 1897

PREFATORY NOTE

This index duplicates a few entries in Whitney's Catalogue of the bibliographies of special subjects in the Boston public library, but these entries were included to make a complete index to the library bulletins examined. In general, titles of the bibliographies have been given only when they differ from the headings under which they are entered. Bulletins on special subjects are not included.

The list of abbreviations which follows gives the titles, volumes and dates of the 48 bulletins indexed. All these bulletins have been personally examined, and for convenience the New York state library call numbers have been added. Omission of book number indicates that the set is not yet bound.

Entries are chronologic under each subject. Volume and page numbers are separated by a colon; e. g. 3:145 means vol. 3, p. 145. When each bulletin is paged separately reference is made to volume, number and page; e. g. 11, no. 4:2 means vol. 11, no. 4, p. 2.

A manuscript supplement brings this index to date and any criticisms or suggestions for making the index more useful are invited and will be carefully considered before printing another edition, if sent to Melvil Dewey, State Library, Albany, N. Y.

READING LIST ON RUSSIA

PREFACE

The list of books submitted aims to cover the most desirable modern works in English on the history, description, religion, literature and art of that part of the empire of Russia known as Russia of all the Russias. Other Russias are treated only in their relation to the empire; Siberia is excepted.

Much additional matter may be found in works written during the first half and middle of the century. The student will find valuable Haxthausen's Russian empire, which was the first book to reveal to the outer world the social condition of the country. It shows thorough and wise observation. Schnitzler's Secret history of the court and government of Russia under the emperors Alexander and Nicholas portrays the difficulties in Russia that led to the revolts of 1825, the 'Dekabrist riot' and the consequent policy of Nicholas. It is the best authority on Russian affairs during the present century. Baron von Herberstein's Notes on Russia is a translation of Rerum Muscoviticarum commentarii, a valuable account of early Russia. The Memoirs of Catherine 2 expose the barbarity and brutality of the court of Peter 3, nowhere more graphically portrayed.

Segur's History of Russia and Peter the Great is valuable as a summary of that dreary portion of the early annals of Russia. It is written in a faulty and indirect style. Labbaume's Circumstantial narrative of the campaign in Russia is one of the best descriptions of that period. Voltaire's Russia is a graceful summary of knowledge possessed a century ago. Kelly's History of Russia is a meritorious compilation of Karamzin and Tooke.

Further material bearing on foreign relations may be found in general histories of Europe and of European countries and their rulers — specially of Great Britain in relation to the Crimea, the Eastern question and Central Asia, and of France under Napoleon 1.

The literature must attract our attention because of its intimate connection with the social, political and historical problems which are occupying the mind of Europe to-day. In no other country have so many prominent writers devoted themselves to bringing to light the conditions, needs and hopes of the toiling masses. At the bottom of the Russian revolution the fiction is exerting a powerful influence. With Herzen's novel the tendencies of nihilism were first revealed, with Tchernichewsky's they became fixed. The novels of Gogol and Turgenev overthrew serfdom while those of Dostoyefsky, Tolstoï, Gontchrof and Tcherdrine are the documents historians will consult when the great works concerning the revolution and old society shall be written. Some of these are not available in English and are therefore omitted in the list of books.

A guide to novels and folk tales relating to life in Russia easily accessible to the general reader may be found in Griswold's Descriptive list of novels and tales dealing with life in Russia. In poetry no translation can be adequate, for the charm vanishes with the translator's touch. Warner's Library of the world's best literature contains valuable critical and biographical sketches and selections.

In the field of art the scarcity of books available to the English reader renders valuable the analytics in general works of art. Unfortunately Viollet-le-Duc's L'art Russe is not translated into English; the student will find it a thorough and critical analysis of Russian decorative art. Schwarz' L'art Russe contains pictures with descriptive text.

Periodicals have not been indexed; Poole's Index to periodical literature and the Cumulative index will furnish references. In general no attempt has been made to give other forms of names under which a translated work is published.

ABBREVIATIONS

Abbreviations following the main entry refer to the libraries in which the book was consulted or sources from which the entry was taken. Call numbers are given for all books in the New York state library, even though the edition differs from that described in the list. Books in the public libraries division have no book number. Books marked © have been personally examined, while e indicates that the edition examined is not the same as that entered in the list.

Unsigned notes are by the compiler; where the source of a note is given it is not necessarily quoted exactly, but is sometimes given only in substance. The references following the notes are guides to more extended reviews and notices. Volume and page numbers are separated by a colon; e. g. 6:170 means vol. 6, p.170.

The following are the principal abbreviations used. Others are self-explanatory.

Adams	Adams. Manual of historical literature

Arnaud, Charles A. de. New era in Russia. 166p. D. N. Y. 1891.
Ogilvie 25c. 947.07 e

Truthful picture of Russian government, laws and progress from the accession of Alexander 1 to 1890. Endeavors to throw some light on internal economy.

Brandes, Georg Moritz Cohen. Impressions of Russia; tr. from the Danish by S. C. Eastman. 353p illus. D. N. Y. 1889.
947 B73 e

Keen but kindly criticism of nihilism, art, the press, official world, aristocracy, peasant life and literature together with a full description of the modern novelists. Shows great breadth of view and calmness of judgment. An important work on Russia; specially valuable for complete analysis of works of modern novelists. Well translated.

Abbreviations following main entries in the lists of 'Books cited' and 'A few reference books for the teacher' refer to the libraries in which the books were consulted.

Call numbers are given for all books in the New York state library even though the edition differs from that described in the list. Books in the traveling libraries are marked 'Trav. lib.' followed by the number of the library and the book. Volume and page numbers are separated by a colon; e. g. 3:145 means vol. 3, p. 145. The following are the principal abbreviations used. Other abbreviations are self-explanatory.

Bost. Boston public library

Utica Utica public library

BIBLIOGRAPHY OF BIOGRAPHY OF MUSICIANS IN ENGLISH

PREFACE

This bibliography is intended to include only books and articles which are mainly biographic. Critical articles have, however, been retained when they contained sufficient biographic material to be of interest from that point of view. Very short articles of two or three pages have been omitted unless they contained information not found in the ordinary biographic dictionaries.

In addition to the works here cited much valuable and interesting material can be found in Dwight's Journal of music, a complete file of which is in the library of the Harvard musical association in Boston.

ABBREVIATIONS

Full names in the following lists have been taken from Grove's Dictionary of music and musicians, or from Brown's Biographical dictionary of musicians.

Abbreviations following main entries refer to the libraries in which the books were consulted. Call numbers are given for all books in the New York state library even though the edition differs from that described in the list. The class number only is given for books in the extension libraries, while books in the traveling libraries are marked 'Trav lib.' followed by the number of the library and the book. Books marked E have been personally examined. Volume and page numbers are separated by a colon, e. g. 3:145 means vol. 3, p. 145.

The following are the principal abbreviations used. Other abbreviations are self-explanatory.

Bost.	Boston public library
Harv.	Harvard university library
Harv. music	Harvard musical association
Nevins	Nevins memorial library, Methuen, Mass.
Tufts	Tufts college library

BEST BOOKS OF 1898

WITH NOTES

Public Libraries Division

PREFATORY NOTE

This is an annotated list of 205 books published in the United States in 1898, selected by the Book board of the New York state library and recommended to the public libraries of the state. To aid in the choice of small collections of new books three classes are marked. Books marked a, of which there are 20, are suggested to libraries which must confine their additions within narrow limits. 30 others marked b are also proposed to libraries prepared to buy 50 books, and 50 more marked c may be added to a and b to make up 100 books.

The remaining 105, including reference books and a few more costly publications, are worthy of careful consideration by libraries prepared to buy more than 100 books and by those wishing to enlarge their resources in special subjects. Many of the unmarked books are of the highest merit. Decimal classification numbers are prefixed as a guide to libraries using this system.

Copies of this list may be obtained from the Public libraries division, Albany, N. Y.

COLLEGE LIBRARIES IN THE UNITED STATES CONTRIBUTION TOWARD A BIBLIOGRAPHY

College catalogues and presidents' reports have been omitted from this list as have also articles devoted largely to other matter relating to colleges. Thus library statistics in the World and New York tribune almanacs, annual reports of the United States bureau of education, College year-book, etc. have been omitted.

The arrangement is alphabetic under the heads "General articles" and "Individual colleges." Under each college historical and descriptive matter relating to the library has been placed first and where the amount of material made it advisable a separate group has been made of reports, circulars, etc. arranged chronologically; these are followed by library catalogues, bulletins, etc. in chronologic order.

The material for the list has been obtained in the following libraries: New York state, Library of congress, Harvard university, Boston public, Boston Athenaeum.

Call numbers are given for all books in the New York state library. The class number only is given for books not yet added to the card catalogue. Books in the New York state law library are marked Law library. Books marked e have been personally examined; for those marked f the entries were furnished by the respective institutions. A * before an entry indicates that it has been taken from C. A. Cutter's "List of printed catalogues of public libraries" in Public libraries in the United States, 1876, 1: 577-622, and has not been verified. Volume and page numbers are separated by a colon; e. g. 6: 170 means vol. 6, p. 170.

The following are the principal abbreviations used. Others are self-explanatory.

Bost.	Boston public library
Congress	Library of congress
Harv.	Harvard university library

Owing to the extent of the subject, limited time and the large number of indirect sources from which data were secured the list is necessarily incomplete and the compiler therefore requests that any additions or corrections noted be sent to him at the Library of congress, Washington, D. C.

PRINCIPAL BIBLIOGRAPHIC AIDS CONSULTED

Besides the library catalogues marked C in this list the following bibliographic aids were found of great service:

Bartlett, J. R. Bibliography of Rhode Island. 1864
 Boston Athenaeum. Catalogue. 1874-82
 Gerould, J. T. Bibliography of Dartmouth college and Hanover, N. H. 1894

READING LIST ON HOUSE DECORATION AND FURNISHING

The list of really good authorities on this subject is a small one. It is true that "any specific advice in regard to furnishing and decorating is apt to be ludicrously unpractical;" but it is also true that "every fresh suggestion has its value" though it may not exactly suit the taste or convenience of the reader who receives the suggestion. Mrs Alice Morse Earle's advice on this class of books is admirable. She says: "Get the book and learn what you can from it, but reserve to yourself a very keen judgment about many things that it advises."

ABBREVIATIONS

Call numbers are given for all books in the New York state library even though the edition differs from that described in the list. Books in the home education department have no book number. Books marked e have been personally examined, while e indicates that the edition examined is not the same as that entered in the list.

The source of critical notes is given, whether quoted exactly or given in substance; unsigned notes are by the compiler. Volume and page numbers are separated by a colon; e. g. 3:145 means vol. 3, p. 145.

The following are the principal abbreviations used. Others are self-explanatory.

Drexel Drexel institute of art, science and industry—Library. Decoration and design. (Reference lists, Dec. 1896, no. 3)

Leyboldt Leyboldt, Mrs A. H. & Iles, George. List of books for girls and women and their clubs. 1895

N. Y. state traveling lib. ; household economics N. Y. (state)—Public libraries division. List of 50 volumes on household economics. 1898

Sturgis Sturgis, Russell & Krehbiel, H: E: Annotated bibliography of fine art. 1897

The forms used for foreign prices with their approximate American equivalents are as follows:

d penny 2c

fr franc 20c

GENERAL WORKS

Balfour, Henry. Evolution of decorative art. 12°. N. Y. 1893.
Macmillan $1.25. e

An interesting and suggestive account of very primitive forms of ornament, both prehistoric and among savages of our own time. Careful reading of this book throws a good deal of light on many problems of fine art.—Sturgis, p. 48

Benson, William A. S. Elements of handicraft and design. illus. 12°. N. Y. 1893. Macmillan $1.60. e

Intended for school workshops, but its directions for simple carpenter work and the making of book-shelves and tables are excellent and are illustrated with 94 drawings. The soundest principles of design are explained in simple language and well enforced. This part of the book is important, because there is a strong tendency in our times toward mere taking of designs from old works. This shows how designs are made originally. The final chapter gives good general ideas as to coloring, and a long bibliography is added.—Sturgis, p. 48

Blanc, Auguste Alexandre Philippe Charles. Grammaire des arts décoratifs; décoration intérieure de la maison. New ed. enl. 392p. 255 illus. Q. Par. 1886. Laurens 30 fr. 740 qB59 e

The works of this author are in a sense perfunctory; one does not go to him for stimulating criticism or bold and incisive views. They are generally trustworthy, written by a hard-working man to whom all modern French culture and much of foreign thought were accessible. His Grammaire des arts du dessin and this work form one analytic history of art which is well worth study.—Sturgis, p. 3

Chevreul, Michel Eugène. Principles of harmony and contrast of colours. Ed. 3. 465p. D. Lond. 1890. Bell 5s. (Bohn's scientific lib.) 752 e

Sold by Macmillan $1.50.

With special application to the arts.

The one book on color in the list of 5000 books selected by the American library association.

Crane, Lucy. Art and the formation of taste. 292p. illus. D. Lond. 1882. Macmillan $2. 704 C85 e

Contains chapters on form and color in decorative art . . . with illustrations by Thomas and Walter Crane.—Drexel, p. 24

Crane, Walter. Claims of decorative art. 191p. illus. sq. O. Bost. 1892. Houghton $2.25. 704 C851 e

We can not recommend Mr Crane's book to the student of art as one from which he is likely to glean any instruction.—Nation, July 1892, 55: 17

Short and unpretending essays on the subject of ornamental or applied art, mingling art, ethics and social economy.—Dial, Oct. 1892, 13: 212

Marshall, Henry Rutgers. Aesthetic principles. 201p.D. Lond.
1895. Macmillan $1.25. 701 M35 e

Briefly and clearly written . . . has . . . every claim on the attention of those interested in the science of beauty.—Nation, Sep. 1895, 61:192

Full of sound and stimulating thought, though it can not be regarded as a contribution of first-rate importance to the literature of esthetics.—Academy, Aug. 1895, 48:169

Morris, William, ed. Arts and crafts essays ; by members of the Arts and crafts exhibition society. 420p. D. N.Y. 1893. Scribner $2.50. 740 M83 e

Some excellent papers, such as "Furniture and the room" by Edward S. Prior and "The room and furniture" by Halsey Ricardo. Mr Morris's preface is also important . . . Contains also "Decorative printing and designing" by Walter Crane.—Sturgis, p. 51 ——— Decorative arts ; their relation to modern life and progress ; address. 16°. Bost. 1878. Roberts, paper 30c.

——— Hopes and fears for art. 217p. D. Bost. 1882. Roberts $1.25. 704 e

Full of timely warning and practical suggestion.—Dial, Ap. 1882, 2:292

Opinions and advice on practical details occur usually as illustrations.—Academy, Feb. 1882, 21:143

Ruskin, John. Two paths ; being lectures on art and its application to decoration and manufacture delivered in 1858-9 ; with an introd. by C : E. Norton. 270p. D. N.Y. 1893. Maynard $1.50. 704 e

The law which it has been my effort chiefly to illustrate is the dependence of all noble design, in any kind, on the sculpture or painting of organic form.—Preface

Santayana, George. The sense of beauty ; being the outlines of aesthetic theory. 275p.D. N.Y. 1896. Scribner $1.50. 701 Sa5 e

One of the best contributions ever made to the subject—penetrating, perceptive and judicious, and clad in a superlatively good English style.—Nation, July 1897, 65:75

Sturgis, Russell. Decorative art. (see Johnson's universal cyclopaedia. 1894-95. 2:697-99) Ro31 qJ623 e

Vallance, Aymer. William Morris. Ed. 2. 462p. illus.Q. Lond. 1898. Bell 25s net. 928.21 qM83 e
Sold by Macmillan $10.

A well digested statement of the Morris creed, supported by examples of work in all the crafts he enriched and developed.—International studio, Jan. 1898, 3:204

HOUSEHOLD ART, DECORATION

Adam, Robert & Adam, James. Architecture, decoration and furniture; 26 folio plates of interiors, ceilings, chimney pieces and various pieces of furniture, etc. selected from "Works on architecture" published 1778-1822. 5p. 26pl. sq.F<sup>5</sup>. Lond. 1880. Batsford 25s.

The high estimation in which the decorative work of the talented brothers Adam is held makes this work of value to the architect, to decorative artists and to the art public generally.—Haferkorn, H: E. & Heise, P. E. A. Handy lists of technical literature, 1889-93, pt 5-6, p. 2

Brunner, Arnold W. & Tryon, Thomas. Interior decoration. 65p. illus. Q. N. Y. 1887. Comstock $2; paper $1.50.

740 qB83 e

Authors are architects; they offer decorations suited to the hall, staircase, library, parlor, dining-room, study and bedrooms, both for city and country houses. Many good hints are given for altering and bettering old work and on furnishing. A book which will suggest many points for discussion before the practising architect and decorator are called upon.—Leypoldt, p. 129

Campbell, Mrs Helen (Stuart). Household economics; a course of lectures in the school of economics of the University of Wisconsin. 286p.O. N. Y. 1897. Putnam $1.50. 640 P6 e
See "Decoration" p. 86-106; "Furnishing" p. 107-26. Contains a bibliography of each subject.

The esthetic meaning and uses of decoration and furnishing are suggestively treated.—Dial, May 1897, 22 : 286

—— Household furnishings. (see Architectural record, Oct.-Dec. 1896, 6 : 97-104) 720.5 Ar21 e

Maintains that good furnishings are "Beautiful and orderly forms, all peacefully serving their uses."

Coleman, Oliver. Successful houses. 160p. illus. O. Chic. 1898. Stone $1.50. Cap. 749 C67 e

A manual of interior decoration. Taking the hall, the drawing-room, the dining-room, the library, the den or smoking-room, the bedrooms, walls and ceilings, floors, windows and doors, each separately, methods of treatment are suggested and applied, and the result illustrated by giving pictures of the interiors of eminently good houses. Additional articles are: "Portières, their use and misuse" by Donald Warren, who also writes on artificial lighting; "Small ornaments" and "On the use of soft wood" by Alfred H. Granger.—Publishers' weekly, Ap. 1899, 55 : 572

Cook, Clarence Chatham. What shall we do with our walls? 35p. illus. O. N. Y. 1881. Warren, Fuller & Co. boards $1.50.

745 C77 e

General principles rather than formal rules.—Preface

Day, Lewis Foreman. How to decorate a room. (see Magazine of art, 1881, 4 : 182-86) 705 qM27 e

Inculcates the principles on which a house should be decorated, by working out the scheme for the decoration of one room.

—— Place of pictures in the decoration of a room. (see Magazine of art, 1881, 4 : 319-23) 705 qM27 e

"The rule should be to hang no picture but what is really cared for."

Earle, Mrs Maria Theresa (Villiers). Pot-pourri from a Surrey garden. Ed. 7. 381p. O. Lond. 1897. Smith, Elder 7s 6d. 640 P7 e

See "Furnishing" p. 276-88.
